Programs Planned Next Week In Connection With Poppy Day

Mrs. Wilbur D. Jones, chairman of the Poppy Day program which will be held in Wilmington, Saturday, May 23, says that more interest is being shown by the people as a whole in this community in cooperating to make the day a successful one than perhaps any time in the past. Many of the prominent people of the community are cooperating in sponsoring radio programs for Poppy Day. Wednesday, May 20, at 4 p. m. there will be appropriate music for the occasion by Mrs. D. N. Calhoun, Mrs. N. C. Smith and Mrs. G. R. Konegay, Thursday, May 21, 10 a. m. Dr. Edwin F. Keever, former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church and Past Chaplain of Wilmington Post No. 10, American Legion, will make an address. On the same day at 8:30 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. George Walker will render a musical program accompanied by Mrs. B. H. Thompson. Friday, May 22, at 4 p. m. Mrs. Ethel Powers will make a talk and on Saturday, May 23, at 10:30 a. m., an address by Robert Strange, commander, Wilmington Post No. 10, American Legion.

Poppies by the hundreds blossomed forth at the American Legion home as the women of the American Legion auxiliary prepared the little memorial flowers for distribution Saturday.

Boxes in which the poppies came from U. S. Veterans hospital, Fayetteville, N. C., where they were made by disabled war veterans, were opened by a corps of workers under the leadership of Mrs. Wilbur D. Jones, Poppy chairman. The flowers were sorted, counted and arranged in bunches ready for the women who will offer them on the streets Saturday to be worn in honor of the men who have given their lives for America.

"Each poppy has individuality, being individually made by some veteran too badly disabled to do other work," Mrs. Jones explained. "Into each flower goes the sentiment of these men for the comrades they left in France. Each symbolizes beautifully the supreme sacrifice which has again become necessary to maintain America's freedom and democracy.

"Wearing a poppy is the way each individual can show that he remembers the men who have died in the nation's defense and honors their patriotic spirit. The poppy is more than ever a badge of patriotism this year when young Americans again are offering their life to keep our country secure. We are hoping that everyone in the city will show his patriotism by having a poppy on his lapel on Saturday."

In exchange for the poppies the auxiliary will ask contributions for its welfare work among the disabled war veterans, their families and the families of the dead. These contributions form the chief source of support for this work which is carried out on an extensive scale throughout the year. With the Legion and auxiliary now extending their aid to the disabled and dependent families of the present war, increased funds will be needed during the coming year. 4

Cape Fear Chapter U. D. C. Plans Meet Tuesday Afternoon

The regular meeting of the Cape Fear chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will be held in St. James' parish house Tuesday afternoon, May 19, at 3:30 o'clock. Matters of importance are to be discussed and plans to be made to take care of the national emergency. A full attendance is requested.

State Officers Attend Meeting

By MRS. CHARLES G. DOAK
The attention of federated clubwomen was claimed this past week by the fourth southern Council on International Relations, held Friday and Saturday in Chapel Hill, and presided over by Dr. Frank P. Graham. The federation president, Mrs. P. R. Rankin, the third vice-president, Mrs. J. Henry Highsmith, and Mrs. Charles G. Doak, executive secretary, were official representatives at the sessions. A number of active clubwomen living in Chapel Hill attended, among these being Mrs. D. D. Carroll, Dr. Hope S. Chamberlain, Mrs. F. H. Edmister and Mrs. A. C. Burnham.

From the timely topics discussed, "Impact of the War on the South," "The South's Part in the Peace," "The South's Interest in the Inter-American Cooperation" and the address of Dr. James T. Shotwell, many helpful ideas were obtained that will be used by the Federation's chairman of international relations, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore of Greenville, in compiling the program to be studied by clubs during the year.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. James Smith of Williamston, vice-chairmen of the Junior clubs' international relations department, are urging clubwomen to register for the Carolina Institute of International Relations to be held at Greensboro June 19-29, at the Woman's college. Clubwomen have supported this institute from its beginning at Duke university. For the past four years it has been held in Chapel Hill, but on account of crowded conditions there, the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina has been chosen as the place for the 1942 institute.

Mrs. Clarence W. Beasley, first vice-president in charge of federating new clubs, is receiving congratulations on having 13 new clubs come into the Federation this year. They are Boiling Springs Sorors, Mrs. R. F. Hamrick president; Matury Woman's club, Mrs. R. E. Mayo, president; Boonville Book club, Mrs. Wade Williams, president, and Bayboro Woman's club, all senior clubs. The Junior clubs are Hamlet, Mrs. Ralph Barington, president; Monroe, Mrs. Bascom Baucom, president; Oriental, Miss Catherine Daniels, president; Sanford, Mrs. R. D. Bracken, president; Snow Hill, Mrs. Bailey Turnage, president; Troy, Mrs. Quincy Deaton, president; Marshville, Mrs. Allen Griffin, president, and Benson, Miss Annie L. Hocutt, president.

The Salisbury Woman's club held an impressive service at its May meeting when Mrs. T. Fred Henry was installed as its new president. Mrs. Henry had served as vice-president for two years, and has recently been elected second vice-president of the federation. The meeting was held at the Country club and was followed by a reception honoring Mrs. Henry and the other new officers of the club.

Mrs. J. A. Yarbrough of the Charlotte club is receiving congratulations on her recently published paper covering the origin and growth of the North Carolina Tuberculosis association, launched more than 30 years ago largely through the efforts of Charlotte clubwomen.

Club officers who were in headquarters in Raleigh during the past week working on plans and programs for the new club year, Mrs. Rankin, Mrs. Leon Vick, of Henderson, Junior president; Mrs. Glenn Anderson, Junior editor of The Clubwoman; Mrs. E. N. Meekins, art chairman, Mrs. James Boyce Hunter of Charlotte, literature chairman and Mrs. J. C. Williams of Wilmington, district radio chairman. 2 leg-of-mutton sleeves and a very full skirt with a short train. She wore a cap of duchess lace trimmed with orange blossoms, and a fingertip length veil of illusion. Her only ornament was a gold locket, a gift of the bridegroom. The bride's bouquet was of white peonies tied with white satin ribbon.

The vows were said before Dr. J. Harry Whitmore, pastor of the Church of the Covenant.

Immediately following the ceremony guests were served refreshments in the dining room. The couple left for a short wedding trip north.

Mrs. Tinga is the daughter of Mrs. Annie Hill Slocum and the late Dr. Robert B. Slocum. She is a graduate of the Woman's college, University of North Carolina, and has been a member of the high school faculty in Beaufort for the past year.

Lieut. Tinga is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elco Isard Tinga of Castle Hayne. He is a graduate of Davidson college. Since February Lieut. Tinga has been stationed at Fort Bragg where he is a member of the Ninth Division, 39th Infantry.

The American flag also is known as a color, a standard, and an emblem. 4
