CLUE

OVERLAP. O.—Several Ohio conference football mentors who have seen their teams play in ice and snow without a quail, failed to compete yesterday in a coaches' golf tournament because of the weather.

CENSORSHIP BANS DETAILS, BUT: The winner was Swimming Coach Harry Kyr of the Case School of Applied Science.

REUNION

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Harold Baggerly, calling on Mrs. Louis S. Taul to read the light meter, was warned that a dog in the basement didn't "care for strangers."

Nevertheless, he walked boldly downstairs. Mrs. Taul found the family police dog wagging its tail and licking his face.

"It's my dog—my lost dog," said the meter reader. "I knew it was Ronger as soon as I heard him bark."

Baggerly explained he'd lost Ronger five years ago. A neighbor of Mrs. Taul had found the dog injured by an automobile and had given it to her. Mrs. Taul let Baggerly take it home.

CANINE TEAM WORK

CHINOOK, Mont.—A strangely paired team is dipping into Chinook's milk supply.

A lanky mongrel and a low-slung cocker spaniel raid the porches, the big dog upsetting the bottles, the little one nipping out the caps—and both lapping up the milk.

FALLEN ROCK TRAPS BOY IN CAVE

Sixteen-year-old James Harper (right) smokes a cigarette and talks with rescue workers trying to free him from a boulder that fell suddenly and pinned his legs in a cave he and two companions were exploring near Portland, Ore. Above him are tons of unstable, fallen rock caught in an arch. Later, he was rescued—alive but critically injured—13 hours after he was trapped.

CHICAGO GRAIN
	CHICAGO
May 16.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Wheat prices tumbled as much as 2 cents a bushel at one time today as the grain market reflected trade concern over the scarcity of storage space and the outcome of a Washington controversy involving disposal of government controlled surplus stocks.
After an early show of steadiness, wheat weakened around mid-session and execution of numerous stop loss orders lowered prices as much as 1 1-2 to 2 1-8 cents to lows not quoted here since the first of the month. This weakened other cereals.
Despite a late rally, due to short covering, wheat closed 1 to 1 5-8 cents lower than yesterday. May $1.19 5-8, July $1.21 1-2; corn 3-2 to 12 down, May 85 1-2, July 88 1-2 to 3-8; oats 78 to 1 1-8 off; soybeans 1-4 to 78 down and rye 38 to 5-8 lower.
The favorable crop outlook, serious storage situation and Washington controversy, all aspects of the price depressing wheat surplus, discouraged dealers. Grain men said there is not enough elevator and warehouse space in sight to house the new harvest, which begins soon.
Washington reports that a split was threatened in the senate farm bloc over the government's grain marketing policy undermined confidence to some extent since, traders said, the activities of this group had largely encouraged higher prices in the past.
