POW-O-LIN RELIEVED MY ACHY, SLUGGISH, LET DOWN FEELING," STATES MRS. CAISON

Well Known Wilmington Resident Declares Pow-o-lin Relieved Her Suffering In Short Order. "I Wish Everyone Knew About The Grand Relief Pow-o-lin Brings," She States.

Throughout all Carolina, well known men and women are telling their neighbors how Pow-o-lin relieves distress from constipation and resultant achy, sluggish, let down feeling when resulting from that cause that often snaps one's energy and strength. Mrs. Alice Caison, well known resident of 310 Wright St. Wilmington No. 10 declares. St. Wilmington, N. C., declares:

"Gas after eating would bloat me until I felt I would smother, I was almost afraid to eat solid foods and almost afraid to eat solid foods and as a result felt undernourished, falisued and let down until my housework and everything I tried to do seemed drudgery. It was an effort for me to walk from room to room. My nerves felt on edge and I couldn't get enough sound sleep. I took strong laxatives for constipation that stirred me up and made me feel awful. I often wondered what would become of me if I didn't soon find

Group Of Utilities Put Up The Best Resistance During The Day

NEW YORK, May 21-(A)-Railroad bonds took another tumble of fractions to more than a point in today's market and pulled many other corporate loans down with them. A group of utilties put up the best resistance.

As measured by the Associated Press averages, the rails lost .7 of a point on top of Wednesday's decline of .6 of a point. Utilities were a shade improved and other groups held stationary. Volume increased to $8,536,850, par value, from $7,006,500 the day before.

NEW YORK, May 21.— (A) — sage bulls quotable around 10.00— Heavy liquidation today sent cotton futures to the lowest prices 10.50 with good beef type higher; ton futures to the lowest prices since last March as traders tried to adjust their positions to what

At the worst, prices were down | Sheep: Receipts light. Good to $1.75 a bale and came up just before the close for net losses of $1.05 to $1.15 a bale. The July delivery plunged through the 19 cent level to a low of 18.93 and the March contract touched 18.62.

Throughout the session prices were keenly sensitive to sentiment on farm legislation. Some reports that the House might upset the Senate version of the law covering selling of government stocks below parity were followed by others that the bill would be approved, thus creating considerable confusion and making for caution on the part of buyers.
