'Y' RENOVATION WORK STARTED

Some Difficulty Being Experienced In Securing Materials

Work on renovating the Y.M.C.A. building began this week, revealed J. B. Huntington yesterday, and aside from the difficulty of securing materials, the work is progressing well.

Refinishing the lobby of the structure is now underway and when completed, the room will have a new tile floor, complete repainting of walls and fixtures, and several portions of the space are being moved around to make a larger area, he said.

The Y.M.C.A. officials do not expect a complete shortage of materials, he pointed out, but it is possible that the priorities ratings may prevent a speedy completion.

As soon as the lobby is finished, the remainder of the renovation will be carried out in the basement of the building. New all tile shower baths are to be installed and the locker rooms will be remodeled.

An exercise room will be added to the basement and the "Y" Health club will have its own set of rooms in the front of the building. Everything will be up to date and modern, Mr. Huntington declared, and as soon as possible, more work of remodeling will be started.

The funds for the remodeling were made available through a special campaign which was conducted during the winter. While the goal set by the workers was not realized, a large sum was raised and it has enabled the renovation to get started, Mr. Huntington said.

Davis Will Commission 2,600 Men In 11 Weeks

The Anti-aircraft Artillery Officer Candidate school at Camp Davis is about to hit its stride, a stride that will send new "AA" officers in unheard of numbers into the field, it was reported Thursday as headquarters of the school announced approximately 2,600 men would be commissioned in the next 11 weeks.

Although the school has been topping records for several weeks in the number of students graduating, the "leveling off" process is just beginning. In July the number of graduates will reach 340 a week and from then on will stay close to that figure.

By maintaining the 340-a-week average, the establishment will meet its quota of 17,680 graduates a year, a staggering figure but one which is none too high when it is considered that the anti-aircraft command is expanding on a scale probably exceeded only by the Army Air Corps.

Today is probably the last "black Friday" on the Officer Candidate school graduate calendar for months to come. No class is scheduled to get commissions today, but Friday after Friday during the coming year hundreds of students will receive their commissions as second lieutenants in the Coast Artillery Corps.

Following are the estimates of the number of graduates weekly from May 20 to July 31, inclusive: May 29, 200; June 5, 200; June 12, 200; June 19, 260; June 26, 260; July 3, 268; July 10, 260; July 17, 260; July 24, 340; July 31, 340.

Ability of the school staff to expand instructional facilities so rapidly and efficiently following the entry of this country into the war has been noteworthy. Of prime importance was the fact that plans for expansion had been carefully drafted before they were actually needed.

Present plans for the construction of the super highway allow for it to end at the intersection of the Carolina Beach thoroughfare. But, said Mr. Betts, the grading of the road which will continue from that intersection into Winter Park will be of a width sufficient to allow for the "dual-lane" highway.

The new highway will be constructed along the lines of the existing road from Fayetteville in to Fort Bragg. A 22-foot asphalt lane, separated by a 30-foot strip of grass, and another 22-foot asphalt drive will comprise the 77 foot wide thoroughfare.

The highway, when completed, will run in a straight line from the shipyards, by the trailer camp and will intersect the Carolina Beach highway at a point near the N.Y.A. training center. From there, it will continue in a straight line through the woods behind Greenfield Lake and will intersect the existing Greenfield Winter Park road at a curve about one-half mile from Winter Park.

Under present plans, this section of the highway will be only "one-lane" asphalt paving, but it is possible that it will also be made into a "dual lane" type before completion, Mr. Betts said.

No work has commenced on the "cut-off" between McCumber's station at Wrightsville sound and the Six Mile post on Highway 17. The present construction of highways in this area is limited to the Shipyard-Winter Park road.

ASHEVILLE, May 21.—(AP)—Waters of the French Broad river, after flooding low-lying sections along its banks in Buncombe,

COUNTY WILL HAVE 'DUAL LANE' ROAD Thoroughfare To Stretch From Shipyard To Carolina Beach Highway

New Hanover county will soon have a modern "dual-lane" highway, totalling an overall width of 74 feet, which will run from the North Carolina Shipbuilding company to the Carolina Beach road, it was learned yesterday from T. T. Betts, division highway engineer. Construction of the highway is now going on, he revealed, and is being handled by the F. D. Cline construction company. Work started about two weeks ago and the highway is expected to be completed sometime during the summer months.
