Recruiting Commences Today For Women's Army Auxiliary

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(AP)—Recruiting starts tomorrow for women who want to enter the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps first officer candidate school, but the Army warned married candidates that the WAAS was no place for babies.

The regulations drafted by the War Department for the new organization specify that a married member who is going to have a baby will have to leave the service, although she will be eligible for reenlistment after the child is born.

An honorable but mandatory discharge will be granted as soon as the approaching motherhood is certified by a medical officer. To reenlist, the mother will be required to meet the same qualifications specified for her original enlistment. If a vacancy exists, her commanding officer may reassign her to the same position and rank she held before.

The recruiting program is to select candidates for the officer school to be held at Fort Des Moines, Ia., beginning about July 15. It will be handled exclusively by the regular Army recruiting stations.

Applications will be accepted through June 4, and the headquarters of each of the nine corps areas will choose 60 for recommendation to the War Department. These will be sifted for the final selection of 40 from each corps area.

The department also will choose 90 candidates from members of the Aircraft Warning Service to make up the quota of 450 candidates for the first school.

Selection of the candidates, all of whom must have a high school education or its equivalent, will be on the basis of leadership, personality, past experience and general adaptability. Under the direction of Col. Don C. Faith, the school will give them eight weeks' intensive instruction.

Those completing the course with the highest grades will be commissioned as officers, their rank to be determined by their work at the school. Others whose

Miss Collins, A. F. Walter, Jr., Marry At Home

HALLSBORO, May 26.—Saturday afternoon, May 23 at 5:45 o'clock, Miss Marnith Collins and Albert Frederick Walter, III, were married in a lovely lawn ceremony at the bride's home in Hallsboro. The Rev. R. J. Raspberry heard the marriage vows. In one portion of the garden a white picket fence covered with smilax and pink roses formed a lovely setting for the occasion. Before the gate of the fence stood a white prayer bench and on either side were graduated candelabra. A white carpet was spread for the bridal party.

Miss Virginia Walker, pianist, of Burlington, assisted by Miss Annie Elkins, violinist, of Whiteville, gave a program of pre-nuptial music. Solos by Miss Betsy Bradshaw and Miss Jacqueline Bussey included "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "I Love You Truly." Henry Becker sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "O Perfect Love." Traditional wedding marches were used.

Misses Melba Pate and Annette Pierce, Catherine and Jean Raspberry lighted the candles before the ceremony. Miss Louise Collins, younger sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a floor length dotted swiss dress and carried a bouquet of mixed spring flowers. The ring bearer was Billy Ray Collins, small nephew of the bride.

H. L. Stephens of Bladenboro and Hallsboro, attended the bridegroom as best man.

The bride entered the garden with her brother, William M. Collins, Jr., who gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown of Princess model white slipper satin featured a Queen Anne neckline with long sleeves pointed over hand with a short waist length veil falling from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book with an orchid corsage showered with white swansonia.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held in the garden. Mrs. French Formy-Duval presented the guests to the receiving line which was made up of members of the wedding party. Mrs. John Hall directed the guests to the punch bowl where Miss Roberta McCulloch and Mrs. A. Q. Dew served. Mrs. Henry Wyche and Mrs. Avery Thompson met the guests at the steps and directed them to the register where Miss Alma Pierce presided. Miss Myra Fitzgerald and Mrs. R. J. Raspberry received in the living room where the gifts were displayed.

Mrs. Malcolm Stephens said the good-byes.

Mrs. Walter is the daughter of William M. Collins and the late Mrs. Collins of Hallsboro. She was graduated from East Carolina Teachers college in Greenville and has done graduate work at the University of North Carolina. For the past several years she has been a teacher in the Columbus county schools.

The bridegroom is the son of Major Albert Frederick Walter and the late Mrs. Walter of Baltimore. He was educated at St. Paul's academy, Calvert Hall, and the University of Delaware. At the present he is connected with defense work in Washington, D. C.

For going away the bride changed to a semi-tailored suit of white gabardine with a light blue blouse and matching felt beret. Her other accessories were summer tan with the orchid corsage from her prayer book.

After a wedding trip through eastern North Carolina, Virginia, and Maryland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter will be at home in the Arna Valley apartments, 2749 South Glebe road, Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. A. Q. Dew entertained members of the wedding party at a cake-cutting on Friday evening.

Give Up "Makeshift" Constipation Remedies!

Why fool with constipation? Why try to combat the trouble after it has already made you miserable? It may well be that your constipation is caused by too little "bulk food" in your diet, for medical science warns that lack of "bulk" is one of the commonest causes of constipation. If you're in this kind of constipation, those purges and cathartics can give you, at best, only temporary relief. Eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, on the other hand, corrects the cause by supplying the "bulk food" you lack and must have! Enjoy this crisp, crunchy cereal daily, drink plenty of water, and like so many others, you'll "Join the Regulars!" ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, see a doctor.
