The Boys Are Not Going To Play Japs At Football

ATHENS, Ga., May 29.—(AP)—"We're not going to play the Japs at football." The man summing up the Navy's case was Lieut. Commander E. L. Boynton, lean and saddle-tanned athletic director for the Naval pre-flight school here—and he dashed a tidy pail of cold water on the nation that air cadets will be pretty hot potatoes on the gridiron next fall.

CLASS GRADUATED AT CAMP DAVIS

History Of AA Artillery Is Delivered By General Spiller

The largest class yet to receive commissions from the Antiaircraft Officer Candidate school at Camp Davis was graduated Friday morning with ceremonies which included a history of AA artillery delivered by Brig. Gen. O. L. Spiller.

General Spiller, commander of the AA school, paid tribute to the new army, which he termed a true citizen's army, "a cross-section of all walks of life." These men expect to be advanced through merit hence the creation of the officer candidate schools.

At present, according to the general, the OCS has in certain of its classes more would-be officers than the number of officers and men in the entire antiaircraft artillery of the U. S. Army in 1920.

Dim-Out Inspection Here Is Postponed By Federal Officers

An inspection to determine dim-out necessities for New Hanover county has been delayed as the officials to make the test have not arrived, County Defense Corps Commander C. David Jones said Friday.

Assistant State Civilian Defense Director W. E. Nufer of Goldsboro and Col. France were to have been here Wednesday to determine what steps would be necessary for Wilmington and the county to comply with the Army's recent dim-out order. They have not made the test, however.

"Until the coast of New Hanover county has been inspected from the ocean to determine if an objectionable loom is east and where the loom is originating, naturally we can't take any steps to correct it," Mr. Jones said.

Mayor Hargrove Bellamy said earlier this week that until an inspection was made by Army authorities, no steps would be taken to comply with the comprehensive regulations laid down in Gen. Bryden's order.

300,000 GREEKS NEAR STARVATION

CAIRO, Egypt, May 29.—(AP)—Three hundred thousand Greeks, living on the German-occupied Aegean Islands of Samos, Mitylene Chioa and Nikaia, are so close to starvation that panic is spreading among them and they are being driven to invade Turkey, a report to Ralph Bain, head of the American Red Cross in the Middle East, disclosed tonight.

The people now are living mainly on herbs which are rapidly drying up under the hot summer sun, according to the report, which came from an American investigator who spent a week in the Smyrna region talking to refugees from the islands.

Ten thousand islanders already have crossed the sea by devious means, eluding Turkish patrols. Half of them are in the Smyrna area, emaciated and yellow-skinned from malnutrition.

"The British radio reported that Turkey, though short of food itself, has decided to send over 600 tons of food, mostly raisins, dried figs and fish, to the islands. The first shipment will leave on Monday."

"Unless food is sent to the islands soon," the report said, "a tidal wave of Greeks may break upon the Turkish shores with the probability that the situation will be getting out of hand. Panic is spreading among the islanders as they see only death from starvation before them and they will get across somehow."

Wilmington May Get Portion Of Pending Defense Housing Funds

Funds from President Roosevelt's proposed $600,000,000 war housing allotment will be used here if it becomes necessary to build the 1,105 units recently approved for Wilmington, Director Henry R. Emory of the city housing authority said Friday.

The Greenfield lake ordinance, barring outboard and inboard motor boats from the city-owned lake and requiring the registration of all boats and canoes operating on the lake, will be put into effect early next week, City Manager James G. Wallace said yesterday morning.

Moore Family Here Has Four In Navy

Ralph Edward Moore, gunner's mate second class, U. S. Navy, who is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moore, Castle Hayne road, has three brothers in the Navy besides himself.

There has been six out of the seven Moore boys to serve in the Navy. Jack Moore, before enlistment, was a member of the motorcycle traffic squad here. Clyde C. Moore, who was enlisted as chief electrician's mate on January 5, 1939, lost his life in service at Pearl Harbor.

White told the officers that he thought the sound of Foy's approaching automobile was an airplane motor and had just put his head out of the window to look for the plane when his car was hit from behind.

Foy, an employe of V. P. Loftis company, told officers that he was on the way to the hospital and exhibited a finger from which the nail had been torn.

Last year's production rate of airplanes by America alone was more than five times the total war losses announced by England.

John Marshall Seeks To Enlist In Army

John Marshall, business manager of the New Hanover county board of education, announced yesterday that he had applied for enlistment in the U. S. Army.

Pending a physical examination, Mr. Marshall will not tender his resignation to the school board, he said. If, when examined, he is accepted in the Army, his resignation will become effective then.

Mr. Marshall recently served as an ensign in the U. S. Navy but was discharged for a slight physical defect. Upon his return to the city, he assumed the position of business manager of the school board.

AIR RAID SIRENS NOW IN EFFECT

Alarm Signal Is Considered To Be Generally Satisfactory

With the installation and testing of the five large air sirens in Wilmington, the official air raid warning signal is now in effect. George Stearns, secretary of the New Hanover Defense council announced yesterday.

"On the whole, the sirens are satisfactory and in the case of 'dead spots', a situation prevalent in every city of any size, other means will be induced to bring the signal to the attention of the public," Stearns said.

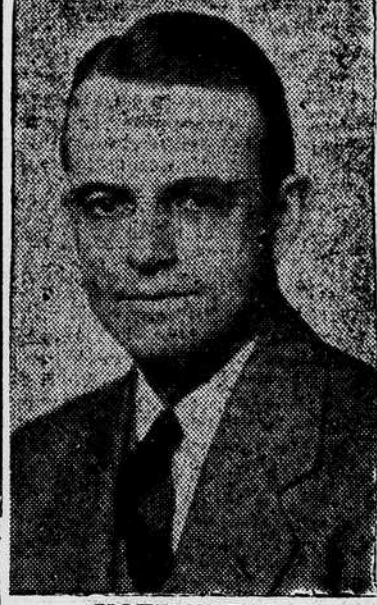

Police cars are a common method of bolstering and relaying the signal in "dead spots"; it was pointed out. Upon the sounding of the alert, the cars are immediately dispatched to the dead areas, these being surveyed beforehand.

The official signal is a series of intermittent blasts on the sirens; about 5 seconds duration with a pause of about 3 seconds.

"Unless further notified, any such signal from the air raid warning sirens will constitute an alert, effective at once," Mr. Stearns said. "It is possible that further tests may be made on the sirens, but if it is done, the public will be notified in advance so that no one will take alarm."

The large sirens, mounted atop high poles at the various fire department stations, are remotely controlled and arranged for a simultaneous sounding upon receipt of an alert from the control room, it was explained.

It is important that the public be cooperative in the distribution of an air raid warning signal, Mr. Stearns said. Drivers in autos may not hear the signal and it is the duty of pedestrians to attract their attention. This of course applies in all cases.

CAMP DAVIS WILL GO BACK ON AIR

Program Will Be Broadcast Wednesday Over Station WMFD

Camp Davis is going back on the air with a program produced by one of its own units for the first time in several months. The Camp Quartermaster is putting it on Wednesday at 8 p. m. over WMFD.

This will be the first of a series to be given weekly at the same time, known as the Quartermaster Quarter-Hour. The program will consist of a series of talks by Quartermaster officers from Camp Davis and recorded music.

The first program will feature a discussion of the K type army field ration. Succeeding programs will take up other subjects concerning quartermaster duties.

Lieut. L. L. Probst, of the QM purchasing and contracting section recently appointed Quartermaster Public Relations officer, is producing the broadcasts in cooperation with the 4th Corps Area Quartermaster.

While the Quartermaster Quarter Hour is the first new radio show to be presented by Camp Davis since the declaration of war, all regiments at the post had weekly programs until the stepping up of training forced them off the air.

At present the camp Public Relations office furnishes material which is used by WMFD, and the 514th Coast Artillery regiment has a program in preparation.

Programs presented in the past have featured soldier talent. Variety has been the keynote, with singers, orchestras, actors and other entertainers. Station WMFD has been very liberal in offering time to camp organizations.

Camp Davis authorities give notice that there will be firing as indicated below at nearby firing points during the week of June 1.
