The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James J. Kinlaw. She wore a dress bodice of white Chantilly lace made with short puffed sleeves, a heart-shaped neckline, and a full net skirt ending in a circular train. She wore long net mittens and her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace and a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried an exquisite bouquet of bride's roses, valley lilies and orchids.

The maid-of-honor was Miss Dora La Velle Kinlaw, sister of the bride, who wore a pale pink dress of net and lace, made with short puffed sleeves and a heart-shaped neckline.

Miss Agnes Kelly of Lumberton and Mrs. William Alfred Mitchell of Newport News, Va., were bridesmaids and wore identical frocks of pale blue lace and net fashioned on similar lines to those of the maid-of-honor. They carried arm bouquets of mixed flowers, and wore net mittens and matching poke bonnet style hats.

The bride is a graduate in home economics from the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina where she was a member of the Adelphi society and took part in student activities, and a graduate also of the department of dietetics of the Medical college of Virginia. She has been employed as dietitian at Thompson Memorial hospital, Lumberton.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and the University of Wisconsin Medical school. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi and Nu Sigma Nu fraternities. He is now a practi-

UDC Convention Slated In Durham

By MRS. C. H. SHIPP
The Children of the Confederacy will gather in Durham, Tuesday June 16 for their 6th annual convention. Headquarters will be at the Washington Duke hotel.

Registration books will be open in the lobby at 9 a.m. The first business session will be held at 11 a.m. in assembly room No. 3, with division third vice-president, Mrs. Quinton Gregory in attendance, and the State C. of C. President, Miss Mary Anne Bristol, Statesville, presiding.

Recess will be taken at 1:30 p.m. At this time, Mrs. R. O. Everett, division president, will be hosted in her home, at a luncheon, honoring Mrs. Quinton Gregory and all other attending division officers.

At the same hour, Mrs. C. H. Shipp, leader of the local C. of C. chapter, and general chairman of the convention will honor the State C. of C. officers and district directors at a luncheon in her home. The Julian S. Carr chapter will entertain all other delegates and visitors at a luncheon.

At 3 p.m. the convention will reassemble for business and adjourn at 4:30. Because of war conditions, this will be a one day convention.

At 7 p.m. the annual banquet will be held in the banquet hall, in the hotel, followed by a dance in the Crystal ballroom, to which all delegates and visitors are invited. A few days later, June 23 to 26, inclusive, the Confederate Veterans reunion will be held in Chattanooga, Tenn., with convention headquarters in the Patten hotel. A number of North Carolinians will attend this convention.

Miss Faye Marie Beatty Marries Dr. Patterson

(Continued from Page Eleven) ther, by whom she was given in marriage, and was met at the altar by Dr. Patterson and his best man, his father, W. M. Patterson of this city.

The petite brunette bride was radiantly lovely in her wedding gown of ivory slipper satin, fashioned with long tight fitting bodice and graceful full skirt which extended in a long train. The gown had long period sleeves that tapered to small points over the hands. Finishing the sweetheart neckline was a double ruffle of ivory Chantilly lace which also trimmed the skirt in design. The bride's veil of illusion, knee length, was bordered with Chantilly lace. The veil was held in place by a tiara of white carnations. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white orchids and tuberoses.

Miss Carole Beatty's gown was fashioned of pink lace and net with long torso, sweetheart neckline, bracelet length sleeves and full skirt. She carried a cascading bouquet of iris and wore a coronet of the same flowers.

The gowns of the bridesmaids were fashioned alike in model of blue lace and net, similar to the gown of the maid-of-honor. They carried cascading bouquets of picardy gladioli and wore coronets of the same in their hair.

The little flower girl wore pink net, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, short puff sleeves, and floor length, full ruffles skirt. She wore a coronet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Robert Laurin Beatty, mother of the bride, wore a gown of blue Alencon lace with sweetheart neckline. Her shoulder corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. William Morse Patterson, mother of the bridegroom, chose a lovely gown of orchid lace and chiffon. Her shoulder corsage was of blue iris.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laurin Beatty in Riverside. They will reside at 2888 Olga Place.

Mrs. Patterson selected for traveling, a smart ensemble suit with a navy blue silk dress worn under a fitted jacket of yellow linen. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The bride graduated from The Glynn Academy High school in Brunswick, Ga. She attended the Georgia State Woman's college in Valdosta, and was graduated from the University of Georgia in Athens with a B.S. degree in Home Economics. She is an alumna of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority.

Dr. Patterson graduated from Robert E. Lee High school. He attended the University of Florida, and graduated from Northwestern University with a D.D.S. degree. He was a member of Psi Omega fraternity. Dr. Patterson is director of the Oral Hygiene for the city of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Patterson is the granddaughter of Mrs. Niell McLaurin Beatty, of Ivanhoe and a niece of Mrs. Malcolm H. Lander of Wilmington.

'Summer Bachelors' Vanishing For The Duration, Says Millett

By RUTH MILLETT

NEW YORK, June 6.—With traveling getting more and more difficult it begins to look as though the "summer bachelor-husband" is going to be another war casualty.

If he never comes back into the picture it will be a good thing for marriage.

He doesn't belong to this period anyway. Back in the days when women were looked on as delicate creatures who couldn't take it,

Ruth Millett says that if he never comes back into the picture it will be a good thing for marriage.

But that out-dated summer set-up didn't go out with corsets. Women, in other ways used to being real partners in their marriages, continued to run off in the summer if the family budget would stand the strain.

The practice of breaking up a family every summer wasn't very smart, but a lot of women didn't seem to realize that. It was a perfect excuse for Papa to feel neglected enough to start looking around and months spent willingly apart don't usually serve to bring a husband and wife closer together.

Then, if there happened to be a girl with an eye on Papa, which isn't as remote a possibility as Mama would suppose, that gave her a perfect set-up.

So, if the summer bachelor becomes a war casualty—it won't be any loss. Maybe once dead he'll stay dead. And, that will be a good thing for marriage—which is a year-around job and not one, like school teaching, which conveniently carries a three months' vacation.

Dr. R. H. Ecker, Jr., of New York won the world's championship Masters individual tournament in 1938, but it was not until a short time ago that he acquired the title of Life Master No. 30. He acquired the needed 260th point by converting 100 Rating Points.

Sitting North in today's hand, Dr. Ecker certainly had to take his life in his hands to make the contract. The opening lead was won in dummy with the ace of spades. Ecker began to cash his diamonds, but discovered at once that West held a stopper. How could the contract be made? Even if the clubs were solid, dummy would have two losers. Ecker decided that he would have to trust to the queen of clubs to drop in two leads. He boldly cashed his third top diamond, discarding the seven of spades. Then he led a heart and finessed the queen. Had

Margaret Newell Farmer Weds William M. Davidson

Wagner and Mendelssohn were used for the processional and recessional.

The bride entered the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, and wore for her wedding a beautiful gown of white satin with a fitted bodice featuring a heart-shaped neckline. Her finger-tip veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. Long white gloves complemented her costume and she carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white carnations, centered with white orchids and tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Daniel Berry Packard, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor and bridesmaids were Miss Frances Sutherland, Miss Leila James, Mrs. William Wright Williams, Jr., and Mrs. Edwin J. Farrelly, Jr. They wore gowns of white mousseline de soi and carried bouquets of mixed summer flowers tied with matching taffeta ribbons. Small clusters of natural summer flowers were worn in the hair. The matron-of-honor's bouquet was also of summer flowers tied with blue taffeta.

Ensign Davidson had as his best man, Harry Bruen of Savannah, and groomsmen were Hampton Tillery and Morton Wright of Savannah, B. D. Farmer, Jr., of Winston-Salem, brother of the bride, and John Deaver Farmer of Rockingham, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Farmer, the bride's mother, was charming in a gown of pink chiffon with which she wore a matching hat and a corsage of orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was given by the bride's parents for members of the family and out-of-town guests. The home was attractively arranged throughout with early summer flowers.

Mrs. Davidson changed to a smart suit of yellow silk with matching straw hat and a corsage of orchids taken from her bridal bouquet for traveling. After June 10, the couple will make their home in Savannah.

The bride is the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Bernice Divine Farmer of Wilmington and received her education at the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina in Greensboro, and was a member of The Spinners club of Wilmington.

Ensign Davidson, son of Mrs. W. M. Davidson, Jr., of Asheville, and the late Mr. Davidson of Savannah, graduated from Georgia Tech, where he was editor-in-chief of the Yellow Jacket, school magazine. After graduation he was associated with Gilbert Real Estate company in Savannah until he was recently commissioned in the U. S. Naval Reserve with headquarters at Savannah.

Among those entertaining in honor of the bride were: Mrs. Hampton Tillery, Miss Leila James, Mrs. Edwin J. Farrelly, Jr., Mrs. William Wright Williams, Miss Beth Highsmith and Mrs. Daniel Packard.

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

OH, ANNIE, IT'S LIKE A DREAM! TO THINK OUT OF ALL THE NICE KIDS THEY PICKED ME TO BE THEIR LITTLE GIRL—IS IT REALLY AN TRUY OR IS IT TRUE?

OF COURSE IT'S TRUE—YESTERDAY WHEN I SAW THE WAY THAT LOVELY LADY LOOKED AT YOU, I SAID TO MYSELF, 'ELLAS GOMMA HAVE A FATHER AN' MOTHER.'

GOODBYE, ELLA—AN DON'T YOU CRY ANY MORE OR MAYBE YOUR FOLKS WONT KNOW YOU'RE CRYIN' 'CAUSE YOU'RE HAPPY.

COME, DEAR—MUSTN'T KEEP YOUR FATHER AND MOTHER WAITING.

GEE, ZERO—BUT ELLAS LUCKY! NOW, SHE'S GOT FOLKS AN' A HOME—JUST LIKE REGULAR KIDS HAVE—'CAUSE, THIS PLACE IS SWEELL BUT I GUESS THERE'S NOTHIN' AS NICE FOR ANY KID AS A FATHER AN' MOTHER.
