

Beach Club Is Scene Of Party Sunday

Bridge Luncheons Will Begin June 24, For Members And Their Guests

The Surf club at Wrightsville Beach, just opened last week for the summer, was the scene of the weekly Sunday night supper for members and their visitors.

Cocktails were served about 5:30 to around thirty members and their friends who were present for supper, which was served from 7 until 9 o'clock in the spacious lounge of the clubhouse on the Northern Extension at the beach.

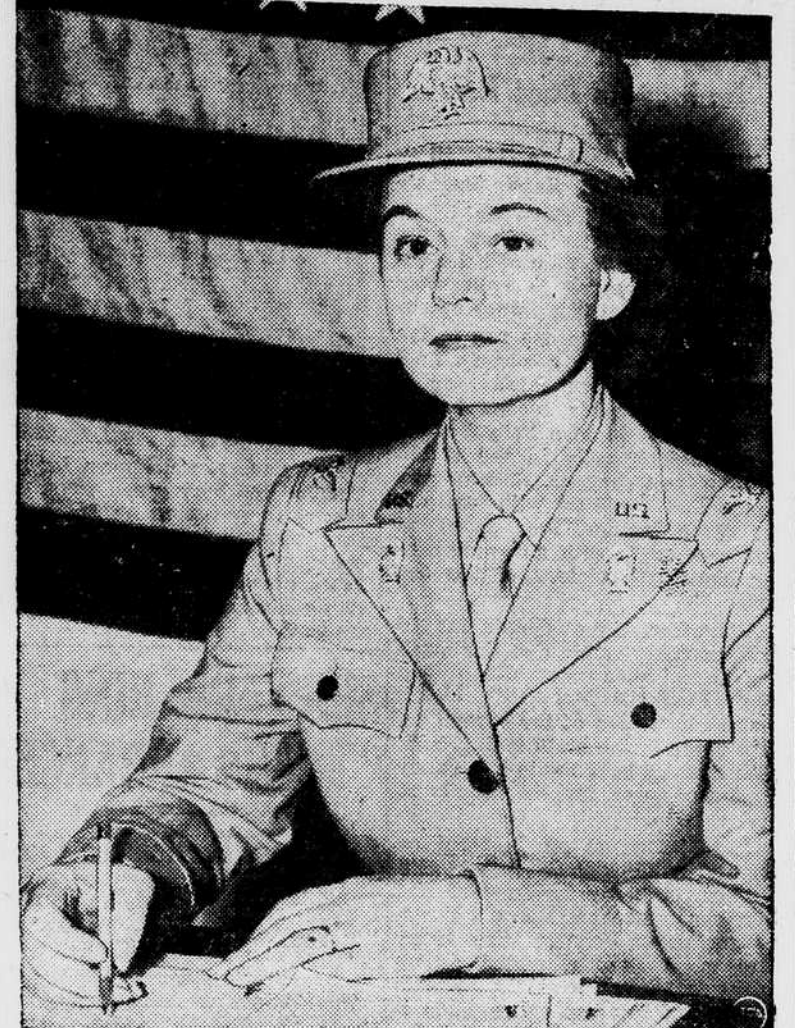

Jimmie Hamilton, manager, announced Monday afternoon, that the weekly bridge luncheons will begin Wednesday, June 24, with members playing bridge during the morning hours followed by luncheon around 1:30 o'clock. Mr. Hamilton also announced, all reservations for club parties must be made twenty-four hours in advance and each Sunday evening buffet suppers will be featured on the schedule of events.

A Look At Mrs. Hobby Tells You She's Right To Her WAAC Position

NEW YORK, June 15.—By RUTH MILETT—Other qualifications being equal, it was a good idea to put a woman as femininely good looking as Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby at the head of the women's army.

Men will have more respect for a woman's army headed by a womanly woman, and an attractive one at that, than they would for a feminine army headed by a woman who could be dismissed as a "battle axe."

Not that Mrs. Hobby is going to trade on her attractiveness. Far from it. She has already let it be known that she doesn't want to pose for smiling or laughing pictures, thinking that might give some people an idea that she is not in dead earnest about her job.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby. "No smiling or laughter pictures"

She is right about that, too, for she is good looking enough to find herself being called a "glamor girl"—despite the fact that she is a successful career woman who is also a wife and mother—and that wouldn't help her any in doing an important job.

It is hard for a woman with an important job to steer a middle course so far as she as a person is concerned. If she affects clothes and a personality so short of femininity that they border on the masculine she soon becomes a target for ridicule.

But, if she has a glamor tag hung around her neck, she loses the respect of a lot of people who still find it hard to believe a woman can have both glamor and brains.

It looks as though Mrs. Hobby will be able to steer a middle course. It really is important that she do so, for a woman's army is a new idea to Americans—and the work of that army will be easier if it is established right away that the women who wear the uniform of the WAAC aren't either glamor girls or battle axes—but intelligent young women who are as eager as the country's young men to help win this war, and who are entirely capable of doing the work that is assigned them.

The bride is the former Miss Ella Mae Lamb.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Who says you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear?

The women members of Bundles for America come pretty close to it.

Go look at the products of their sewing rooms in any one of their 250 branches scattered through the country, and you'll see.

You'll see a windbreaker, made of leather scraps from old purses. You'll see a child's raincoat and hood made from a shower curtain, and decorated with red rubber flowers cut from an old pair of rubber gloves.

You'll see children's bedroom slippers made from men's old felt hats.

For buttons, the clever women use wood rounds sawed from broomstick handles, crocheted fastenings, shells, and buttons cut from bones from the butcher's.

The products of Bundles for America ingenuity will be on display at the Hotel Astor tomorrow and Wednesday in the hope of stimulating women everywhere to the same sort of waste-not-want-not frugality.

Bundles for America, with a 250,000 membership, now sends some 10,000 garments a week to the Navy Relief Society for distribution to needy families of service men.

Their next concern is the clothing of the five million migrants who are in need of help in mid-western states.

Their absolute rule is: Buy nothing, use only salvaged materials.

Josephine Sevenoaks Chadwick, Lieut. Graham Edwards Marry

Ceremony Solemnized Last Thursday In Texas Episcopal Church

Miss Josephine Sevenoaks Chadwick, daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Chadwick, became the bride of Lieut. Charles Graham Edwards of Foster Field, Victoria, Texas, in a ceremony Thursday evening in a Christ Episcopal church in San Antonio.

Lieut. Edwards is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McGee Edwards of Wilmington.

Rev. L. B. Richards officiated, assisted by Rev. Samuel O. Capers, rector of the church.

Oscar J. Fox played the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Elizabeth Jennett, who sang, Calla lilies, white gladioli and delphinium, kentia palms and ferns adorned the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of flesh pink d'esprit over flesh illusion and satin, fashioned with a heart-shaped neckline, puffed sleeves and bouffant skirt extending into a train. The gown was trimmed with lace and valley lilies. Her three-quarter length veil was of flesh pink illusion and caught to her head with clusters of valley lilies. Her bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis was set in puffs of tulle and she carried a white kid prayer book that had been carried by her grandmother at her wedding in London in 1880.

Miss Jean Claycock of Tulsa, Okla., was her cousin's maid-of-honor and Miss Helen Scrivener of Corpus Christi, also a cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. The bridesmaids were Misses Margaret Pickering, I. e. z Sterling, Nancy Oden and Barbara Partridge.

The bride's attendants were groomed alike in magnolia organidia. The frocks had hand-draped garlands of gardenias down one side of the skirts and their veils were caught to their heads with gardenias.

Lieut. Clint Woods was the best man and the groomsmen were Lieutenants Hank Foster of Fort Sam Houston, Roy Tevasti of Randolph Field, Don Baccus, Jack Anderson and Roy Schreiber, all of Foster Field.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The bridegroom's father assisted Col. and Mrs. Chadwick, the bride and bridegroom and members of the bridal party in receiving the guests.

Assisting at the reception were Mesdames Harold Schramm, Gilard Kargl, H. S. Gillette, K. E. Schilling, Ernest Scrivener and Arnold Scrivener. Pale pink tapers illuminated the bride's table and pink gladioli were frozen in the carved ice punch bowls. Assisting in serving were Mesdames William Sterling, Andrew Dilworth, C. R. Oden, Ferd Charles Scrivener, William Haley, M. E. Sorley, C. E. Partridge, W. A. Pickering, Jack Guerin, William Roysten Geise of Camp Wolters, Tex., Jack Corby, and A. Kovelensy, Misses Tina Ewing, Dorothy Beathia and Mary Walsh. Miss Maria Mitchell was in charge of the bride's book.

For traveling, the bride wore a powder blue gabardine suit, with white organdie blouse and accessories of white. Her corsage was of orchids. Lieutenant and Mrs. Edwards will make their home at Foster Field, Victoria.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included William F. Edwards and F. D. Edwards of Wilmington, father and brother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur William Scrivener of Taft, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Col. and Mrs. Karl Schilling of Camp Polk, La., and Mrs. Harold S. Gillette of Fort Worth.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a woman go out on the street with curlers in her hair?
2. If her yard is not shielded from the street, should a woman go out in it wearing a negligee?
3. Should a woman go to church bare-headed?
4. Should a man wear his coat at the dinner table whether there are guests or not?
5. Should a visitor remove his rubbers either on the front porch or in the front hall?
6. What would you do if—
You have not met your next-door neighbor, but she is in her back yard when you go into yours—
(a) Say good morning to her?
(b) Ignore her?

ANSWERS

1. No.
2. No.
3. No.
4. Yes.
5. Yes. One shouldn't track up a house by wearing rubbers indoors, even though the visit is to be brief.
6. Better "What Would You Do?" solution—(a).

Paprika Adds Spice To Fowl

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

HERE are two recipes to add flavor and nutrition to your summer entertaining:

Paprika Chicken
(serves 4 to 6)

One fowl, flour, salt and pepper, 1-4 cup shortening or chicken fat, 1 clove garlic, 1-2 tablespoons paprika, 2 cups stock or water, 1 cup sweet or sour cream, 2 tablespoons flour.

Singe, wash, and joint fowl. Dredge lightly with flour, salt and pepper. Saute until golden brown in fat or shortening. Remove excess fat. Add stock (made from peeled chicken feet, the neck, giblets and wing tips), garlic and paprika. Simmer gently 2-1/2 to 3 hours. Make paste with cream and flour and add to chicken and stock. (Add water to make 2 cups). Heat just to boiling and serve garnished with fried bread cubes.

Cream of Carrot Soup
(serves 4 to 6)

1-1/2 cups sliced carrots, 1 slice onion, few sprigs parsley, 3 cups water, 1 tall can evaporated milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, salt, pepper, mace.

Cook carrots with onion, parsley and water until they are tender. If left-over carrots are used, cook them for only a few minutes. Rub carrots through a sieve, add milk, heat almost to the boiling point, and thicken with flour which has been blended with butter. Season with salt, pepper, and a few grains of mace.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Rhubarb sauce, oatmeal, toast, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Cream of carrot soup, enriched hard rolls, baked apples, tea, milk.
DINNER: Chicken paprika, noodles, peas, green salad, strawberries, sponge cake, coffee, milk.
