

JAMESON WINS WOMEN'S WESTERN TOURNEY

TEXAS GIRL IS WINNER 9 AND 7 OVER MISS OTTO

Betty Takes Top Female Golf Contest In Chicago Over 17-Year Old Iowan

By DAVE HOFF

CHICAGO, June 27.—Betty Jameson, a grand champion, won the women's Western open golf title today.

The San Antonio girl with the pleasant personality and a soft voice slightly tinged with Texas drawl triumphed over 17-year-old Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Iowa, 9 and 7, over 29 holes of the Elmhurst Country club in the final of the six-day tournament.

She mowed down a formidable opponent with an amazing first round in which she took a 5 up lead. Miss Otto did not win a hole after the 15th of the morning round and 24-year-old Betty, who writes golf for the San Antonio News, almost casually earned four more holes in the afternoon to triumph with ease.

Championship honors are nothing new to Betty Jameson. When she was 14 years old she won the 1934 Southern women's tourney.

She triumphed the hard way in the 1937 and 1940 trans-Mississippi meets by defeating the great Patty Berg in both finals. And she took the National tournaments in 1938 and 1940.

There was nothing to do but accord Betty the title of 1942 National champion after today's events. The war-time cancellation of the National and trans-Mississippi made this year's women's Western open the only major meet for amateurs and professionals.

And Betty won that.

She succeeds Patty Berg as champion in this tournament. The Minneapolis red-head did not defend since she was incapacitated by a knee injury received in an automobile accident last winter.

Miss Jameson, fourth in last Monday's qualifying play with a three-over-par 79, was even par for the route today. She shot a 39-40-79 for the first 18, and a 36 for the first nine of the afternoon round and finished the last two holes with a birdie three and a par four.

If you're a football fan and can't get gas to drive to see Duke and Tar Heel games or a fisherman and find your favorite casting spot is right in the middle of an army firing range, here's a little green to wear with your envy of sportsmen not bothered by war.

It's all about one group whose favorite activity has not been curtailed and is virtually untouched by the fierce breath of Mars, the god of battle. They're sail boatmen—members of the big, exclusive Carolina Yacht club, second oldest in the nation.

There are 500 members in the sailing organization and they have their own pier and fine clubhouse at Wrightsville Beach.

Naturally Wilmington's boat owners long ago realized that there are such things as shortages and priorities on certain materials vital to Uncle Sam's cause. But so far they've found substitutes in maintaining and repairing their craft. Galvanized metal, for instance, is replacing brass fittings.

Once the hum of activity at the club was strongest around mid-week. Since many members are now doing defense work, however, Saturdays and Sundays are the red letter days.

Outside of that, the Carolina Yacht club's program and plans are unchanged. And the amateur sailors go right on sailing along.

Members, who are admitted only when another's name leaves the roster, utilize just about every type of small boat from little snipes to 28-foot inland lake scows. They have won prizes at races and regattas throughout the Southeast, boosting prestige of the club.

This afternoon they will hold the first of 10 races planned for the season here, including special Labor and Independence Days events. Twenty-five boats are expected to be entered in the five classes set for today.

Officers of the club are: J. C. Roe, commodore; Warren Sanders, vice-commodore; E. C. Hines, flag captain; E. M. Berry, purser; and W. L. Callum, measurer. It will take more than a war to stop sail boating.

Winning a war has taken the place of college team glories in the minds of graduating New Hanover High school athletes.

Instead of going to college with an eye open on the varsity, most Wildcat stars are joining armed services or getting defense jobs.

Sam Tyler and Vernon Morrison are merchant marine cadets. Tommy Williams is forsaking another year of school to enter the air corps. Red Merritt and Harold Horton are two of the many employed at the shipyard. Exceptions to the rule are Neil Kelley, who plans on entering Wake Forest, and Leon Todd and Bert Nesbit, who will go to N. C. State.

And those are just examples.

Instead of American league All-Stars, the players who will meet the National league top-notchers on July 6 will be called the Yankee All-Stars.

Exactly nine out of 25 men on the squad—or about 35 per cent—are from the New York club. Of course, those nine all probably won't play. But anyway, they're on the team. The Dodgers monopolize the National's representative group almost the same way.

It will be a great break for Dodger and Yank fans. But how about the rest?

Morris Merritt To Box Hornaday Monday

Clyde McCall And Delmar Mobley Will Meet On Shipyard Ring Card

Big Morris Merritt, former New Hanover High ring star, will take on a fellow worker in the shipwright department, Charley Hornaday, in the featured bout of the Shipyard Athletic association's second boxing show at Thalian hall tonight.

Hornaday, an ex-army puncher, weighs 172. Merritt hits the scales at 168.

Six bouts are planned for the card, which will begin at 8:45 o'clock in the fan-cooled auditorium. Three will be between negro fighters, Trainer Plunk Moring announced last night.

Claude McCall, 150-pound Wilmington boy now a timekeeper at the yard, meets Delmar Mobley, 149-pound ship carpenter from Wallace. And Fred Barnhill, 198 pounds, a onetime local Golden Gloves champ, is paired with former Wake Forest Slugger Len Hair. The latter weighs 195 and is in the wedding school.

The featured and promising negro bout sends Bill Johnson (159) pounds of the riggers department against Buster Cobb (158) of the drillers department.

Other negro bouts: Alec "Kid" Lewis (155) vs. Young Foy (154). "T Model" Ford (160) erectors department vs. "Jumplin Joe" Evans (155) erectors department.

Moring said interest is high among shipyard workers and a surplus of boxers is already available. The fighters work out nightly at the hall under Moring's supervision. He said that 45 boys attended the training session one night.

Promoter Bert Causey has been called to Greensboro because of the critical illness of his mother but is expected to return Monday for the matches.

BOTTLERS CLASH WITH CANNONEER CLUB AT HILTON

Cape Fear League First-Half Ends With Sunday Afternoon Contests Here

By R. J. POWELL

The Cape Fear Baseball association writes this to the first half of its 1942 campaign this afternoon with the pennant-winnings Shipyard club meeting the third-place A. L. King team at Hilton while the second place Pepsi Cola gang entertains the Amoco Cannoneers at Legion stadium. Both games are scheduled to begin at 3:30.

According to action at a recent league meeting, until further notice admission will be charged for the stadium tilts and contributions will be asked at the Hilton diamond. Either way it comes in, the boys need and appreciate support from local fans.

Today's clash with the Grocery boys will be more or less a warm-up procedure for the tough out-of-the-family date the first half kingpins have scheduled with the Durham Golden Belt club here at Legion stadium on the afternoon of July 4. The Shipbuilders, with a recent win over the Goldsboro Stars at which to point, expect keen competition from the strong up-state nine in the Independence Day tussle.

Fresh from his blanking effort against Goldsboro, righthander Doyle Williams is expected to be on the heating line for the Shippers with Taylor back. Former Pepsi player Johnnie Edens will likely fill in the infield hole made when shortstop Bob Jordan was called into the armed forces. The regulars will be at the other positions for the Shipyard.

Two more newcomers, backstop Sam West and infielder Strickland, may be in the King cast today. Of the two, the shortstop is most needed with Sam Tyler out indefinitely. Red Hill is expected to shove his southpaw slants at the Boatmen and the rest of the lineup will be the same with Roy Lamb or Allen taking over Hill's spot in the garden.

Priming for the second half start, the PCs and Amocos may do a little shifting for their stadium get-together today. But both will likely use he same outfit as in previous games. Clemmon's fine righthander, Art Edwards, is about due another turn and may chunk against Pepsi's Skipper or Lefty Cheshire. Weathercutt is the Cola catcher and Charley Beatha is backstop for Amoco.

Detroit Goes Overtime To Bow Athletics, 6-5

DETROIT, June 27.—(AP)—Roger Cramer lashed out a double off Rookie Dick Fowler with two out in the 13th inning today to score Billy Hitchcock from first base and give the Detroit Tigers a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. It was the fifth straight defeat for the seventh place A's.

After Phil Marchiondi had walked three runs home and spotted the Tigers an early 4 to 1 lead, the A's smacked Tommy Bridges for four successive hits that produced two runs in the seventh and sent the game into extra innings on Dick Siebert's first homer of the season in the ninth.

Diggers Meet Su-Ann In Seaboard Contest

Tigers Play Shipfitters; Sunset Park Takes On P & F This Afternoon

By R. J. POWELL

The Masonboro Clamdiggers' bid for their sixth straight win captures the limelight in this afternoon's three-game show presented by the Seaboard amateur baseball league.

When Herman Farrow's Diggers bashed the Shipyard Fitters, 5 to 1 in a regular twilight brawl at Masonboro Thursday afternoon, the Sounders moved still further out in front in the growing amateur circuit. Today's hurdle may be a high one for the league leaders for they take on the improving Su-Ann Shoemen at Robert Strange park at 3 p.m.

Hugh Griffith's Carolina Tigers prowl down to Masonboro to meet the Fitters in a game that will begin as soon as possible after 2 p.m. in order to allow some of the Shipyard workers to return to their work. In the other contest of the day, Sunset Park and P. and F. tangle at 3 p.m. on the Bellamy park diamond.

The battery pair of James Todd to Dan George, Masonboro's most effective combination, will work against the Su-Ann outfit, which has poopy boasts of such players as Peopy Sandlin, A. B. Stokely, Rich and others from the old Athletic club. Sandlin is the probable flinger for the Shoemen and the rest of the team will likely look like last Sunday's clicking crew.

Coming back after their close defeat at the hands of the P. and Fers in which errors overshadowed some fine pitching by Mayhan, the Tigers hope, for better cooperation today against the Fitters. Mayhan will try it again and McElwain, the chap who pounded the agate for three hits last week, will also be in the lineup. The Shipyard team's ace hurler, Stevens, will handle the curving chores with the regular catcher, Cavanaugh, behind the plate. No other change is expected in either lineup.

Lefty Marlowe is slated for mound duty for the Expressmen against the last place Sunsets. Marlowe was the winning pitcher against the Tigers last Sunday as he scattered nine blows to keep his club on the heels of the Clamdiggers. With a number of new players due to be out, the Sunset Park lineup is filled with uncertainty, but it is safe to say that Peggie Dyches will be the likely slabman. Efforts have been made to get Catchers Woodcock and Henry Atkinson and one of these veterans may be the Sunset receiver today.

SELLER WINS EQUIPOISE Mile At Arlington Park

CHICAGO, June 27.—A son of the famed Blue Larkspur named Best Seller, owned by the turfman Robert Dienst and John Galbraith, of Columbus O., won the $7,500 added Equipoise mile at Arlington park today.

Equinox, son of the late thoroughbred for which the stake was named, and winner of the event last year, was scratched.

The winner, formerly owned by Col. Edward R. Bradley rushed through the stretch like his pappy used to do to finish two lengths ahead of B. B. Robinson's Wood Wolf. Another three lengths back Jake Lowenstein's Heartman headed Potranco for third.

REDS WIN OVER DODGERS, 3 TO 1

Pinch-Hitter Lamanno Blasts Three-Run Homer In Ninth For Cincinnati Win

BROOKLYN, June 27.—(AP)—The ninth-inning strategy of the Brooklyn Dodgers exploded in the face of Pitcher Curt Davis today as Pinch-hitter Ray Lamanno blasted a three-run homer with two men out, giving the Cincinnati Reds and Johnny Vander Meer a 3-1 decision.

The defeat cut Brooklyn's lead in the National league to nine games as the St. Louis Cardinals were kept idle at Philadelphia.

Davis and Vander Meer, who yielded only four hits apiece, hooked up in a corking mound duel which went for seven innings without a score.

With the second place Boston Red Sox handing Cleveland another beating, the Yanks needed the decision to preserve their six and a half game lead in the American league.
