Man Is Fined In Court For Reckless Driving

A $35 fine and the costs of court were imposed upon Ira Howard Longwell, Danville, Va., man, for reckless driving by Recorder Alton A. Lennon yesterday.

Longwell was arrested by a state highway patrolman Sunday after he was weaving in and out of traffic on the Camp Davis highway at a 70-mile-per-hour clip.

The recorder set 60 days on the farm in default of payment of the fine and costs.

Week-end speeding also cost James L. McBride of 227 Keaton avenue, a $10 fine and the costs man testified that McBride had driven his pickup truck down the Carolina Beach highway at 60 miles per hour.

William Hawley, negro, was fined $50 and costs or 60 days in default by the recorder on a plea of guilty to hit and run driving. Hawley, witnesses testified, fled the scene after colliding with an automobile driven by Ephriam Coleman near Fort Fisher on September 19.
