which in each community consists of a coordinating committee of prominent citizens, representing various organizations and groups, and of sub-committees for various community purposes connected with the war effort, will bring about this organization.

A major purpose of the Citizens Service Corps is to coordinate war efforts rather than to create new agencies. To this end, participation of all government, civic, patriotic, welfare, professional, and other existing organizations is important. Among these which should take part in the program are federal, state, county, and municipal departments, including OPA and its rationing boards, WPB and its salvage boards, war savings staff, etc.; churches; chambers of commerce; Rotary, Kiwanis, Civitan, Lions, Exchange and other civic clubs; American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and Spanish War Veterans; Red Cross, P. T. A., Federation of Women's Clubs, Business and Professional Women's Club, Junior League, Community Chest, Grange, Farm Bureau; labor, trade, and professional organizations; and mayors, chairmen of boards, judges; editors, publishers, and radio station managers; college presidents and faculty members; county and city school heads and teachers; Farm and Home Demonstration agents.

All during the war each community will have to meet the following and many other problems:

(1) Financial campaigns (a) those connected directly with war relief like the Red Cross, the USO, China Relief, Army and Navy Relief, etc., (b) the sale of war saving bonds and stamps, and (c) the Community Chest.

(2) Emergency War Needs (a) the salvage campaigns, (b) the rationing of tires, sugar, etc., (c) price control, (d) consumer education, (e) venereal control, (f) emergency housing and (g) the education of the physically unfit and the illiterate who are rejected in the draft.

(3) Service (a) to those in our armed forces and (b) to their dependents.

(4) Welfare activities and regular community service, even though they may have to be curtailed or adapted to war conditions, will have to go on.

(5) Information (a) about the progress of the war, (b) about our war efforts and (c) about the program of our war agencies must be made available to our citizens;

(6) War attitudes must be developed (a) to maintain morale, (b) to keep down destructive criticism and (c) to promote self-sacrifice and unselfish cooperation.

A chart of a suggested set-up for the Service Corps has been approved by the Defense Council, and is not to be considered as final in form or restricted as to agencies to be included. The executive committee will have as one of its duties the inclusion of agencies engaged in war work and the coordination of the work as part of the Service Corps. The tentative executive committee consists of the chairmen of the committees which have been functioning under the defense council and such additions as the Atlanta headquarters think necessary and material.

It is suggested that the Service Corps begin with an executive committee formed of the chairmen of the following committees: Transportation, Nutrition, Recreation, Consumers, Service Men, Public Health, Health, Child Care, Housing Education, War Savings, Agriculture, City Government, County Government, Library, Food Conservation, Information, Welfare, and Block Plan.

The executive committee so formed should consider as one of its first problems an increase of membership so as to give representation to additional committees or organizations engaged in war work.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS
Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Wastes
If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A MESSAGE FROM ADMIRAL KING TO HIS MEN

One of the first things a Navy recruit learns is the principle of conservation. He learns to fold his clothing a certain way to protect it and increase its usefulness. He learns to care for and maintain the equipment that is issued to him. Throughout his naval career he is impressed with the fact that conservation is the watchword of the service.

I cannot urge you too strongly, officers and men alike, to carry this principle into your private lives by investing a portion of your earnings in War Savings Bonds.

They provide an excellent means of saving, of conserving a portion of current income for future needs, and at the same time they furnish an added opportunity to contribute even further to the winning of the war.

E. J. King

COUNSELS SAVING: The above message from Admiral Ernest J. King, Commander-in-Chief, U. S. Fleet, advising the men of the Navy to "invest a portion of your earnings in War Savings Bonds," emphasizes the importance of War Bonds as investments for the future. In less than a year and one-half, Navy personnel has purchased over $70,000,000 worth of bonds. Other Americans, looking for a way to save as well as to serve, can well follow the example set by these men who are risking their lives for their country!

work. In this connection consideration should be given to the civic clubs, Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, etc. It is suggested that out of the Executive committee there be formed an Executive council, of sufficient and workable size, that may assist the director and the assistant directors, in making effective the plans and suggestions of the Executive committee.

In addition to the Executive committee there should be committees of volunteers, who should be trained and available to assist the principal committees in carrying on their war work and to supply manpower whenever necessary. A question for the Executive committee will be whether to place certain organizations on the Executive committee or in the several groups of volunteers.

Any one may join who is willing to spare time to volunteer war work. Many volunteers will be eligible to membership because of their services in established agencies engaged in activities important to the war effort. It is the policy of the Citizens Service Corps to encourage to the fullest extent the work of established agencies. In no event should the Citizens Service Corps interfere with the programs of established agencies and committees—assistance and not direction is the policy. For existing volunteer groups working with such agencies, membership in the Citizens Service Corps is a recognition of the services which they are already rendering.

Volunteers should register with the office of the local Defense Council. The secretary of the local Defense Council will, if desired, act as secretary of the Citizens Service Corps. Attention is called to the difference between volunteers for defense work and such persons as may take advantage of the services of the Citizens Service Corps for the purpose of education without rendering any service whatever, such as women who attend nutrition classes and persons who attend the lectures and classes on health. Such persons as attend these classes should be enrolled as volunteers for such services as they may render and when so enrolled will be eligible.

The Defense Council will require that all volunteers be qualified in one of the following three ways:

(1) By completing a prescribed training course in preparation for volunteer work assignment.
(2) By completing 50 hours of work for which no specific training course is required in a volunteer position to which such person is assigned for service in the Citizens Service Corps.
(3) By membership and service upon a committee having a representative upon the Executive committee and which committee is doing volunteer war work.

Those now members of such committees or organizations as have been doing war work may be certified by the chairmen of the committees as qualified, but this rule shall not apply to new volunteers, the purpose of it being to reward those who have already worked before the formation of the Citizens Service Corps, and not to set up a volunteer corps without any training whatsoever. Most of the committees are familiar with the work, and the work heretofore done should be continued, with the additional burden of serving upon the Executive committee for the purpose of coordination of all effort to the best interest of the community. For those committees which have not been

HINTS ON SLICING BREAD ARE GIVEN

No Special Knife Needed, Just Few Common Sense Uses

CHARLOTTE, Jan. 28.—Discontinuation of bakery-sliced bread has created a big demand in North Carolina for fancy blade knives commonly known as "bread knives", but actually no special knife is needed to slice modern loaves, the Carolina War Production Board office pointed out today.

The so-called bread knife is, in fact, an anachronism, it was explained. It dates back to the Gay Nineties when bread was baked at home, taken hot from the oven and eaten while still warm. To meet this special requirement, a knife with wavy or serrated edge was designed to slice warm bread more efficiently than the smooth-edged blade.

But with home-baked bread now a rarity, the need for a fancy blade has virtually disappeared. A thin blade with a smooth, well-sharpened edge will work satisfactorily for slicing bread which is no longer warm.

A check yesterday of hardware stores in Charlotte disclosed that dealers had sold out of the old-fashioned fancy-edged bread knives but had on hand an ample supply of other knives, perfectly practical for bread-cutting.

The WPB, in recommending the use of ordinary slicing knives for bread, added that proper care will make them last indefinitely. Among recommended hints for proper care are:

Keep them orderly in compartments in drawers or on respective hooks or clamps on the wall. Apply a little scouring powder on the blades each time they're washed to avoid serious staining. Use a sharpening steel similar to the butcher's but smaller, of course. A few light strokes on each side of the blade will keep a knife sharp for a long time.

Don't is to keep in mind are: never use knife blade for any purpose other than for cutting foods. Don't throw knives in the bottom of the dishpan, but wash as soon as possible after use, dry well and put away. Don't try to sharpen on the edge of the stove or stone window ledge, and don't have knives sharpened or ground unless they really need it.

Tobacco Margate's Farm To Revert To Old Plans

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Duke Farms will revert to the purpose for which James B. Duke, founder of the tobacco fortune, originally purchased it. George A. LeFevre announced today that the 2,800-acre estate of Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell would be devoted to poultry and cattle raising "to help contribute to the war effort." LeFevre will be the new manager of the farm.

Approximately 140,722 forest fires burning 43,889,820 acres for an estimated loss of $60,274,900, occurred in the United States during 1933. Most of these fires were caused by carelessness.

CAMP LEJEUNE, NEW RIVER, Jan. 28.—Pennies saved by students of John Hay High school, Cleveland, Ohio, who have foregone their chewing gum for the duration has made available for the Marines of this base an issue of the Reader's Digest each month.

Enough money was obtained through a "Gum for Victory" campaign to provide a one year subscription of the magazine for each ten camps in the nation. Pupils gave up their gum and the money was deposited in a fund for this purpose. New River was among the ten camps chosen.

Steel Firm President Planning Ship A Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(AP)—"We propose to build a ship a day, every day, including Sundays and holidays," said Eugene G. Grace, master shipbuilder and steel maker today.

Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel Corp., made this statement in an interview outlining his company's mammoth war program for 1943, in connection with issuance of his quarterly and preliminary annual earnings statement.

working heretofore, and do not represent any part of the federal, state or county effort, basic training classes and an outline of the general duties will be found in O.C.D. publication 3801; entitled United States Citizens Service Corps, a copy of which will be furnished to the several committees.

For those who qualify a special insignia of O.C.D. has been designed and will be furnished by the local Defense Council. A certificate of membership will also be furnished by the local Defense Council to all persons appointed to the corps.
