

TRAFFIC SQUADS ENJOY OUTINGS

School Organizations Taken On Annual Beach Picnic By Police

More than 450 boys of the School Traffic Patrol were guests of the police department Thursday at a holiday outing "with eats and all the trimmings" at Carolina Beach as a reward for their "faithful and wonderful" record in assisting the police to direct traffic at the schools during the past year.

The youthful traffic directors handled over 12,000 school children a day in the city and county under the supervision of the regular police without a single child being injured in an automobile accident during the times the school patrol was on the job.

"These boys certainly deserve their outing as a result of what they've done. The police are proud of them," Chief of Police Charles Casteen said.

Superintendent of Schools H. M. Roland was equally enthusiastic over the work of the patrol.

"This is one thing I want to be quoted on," he asserted. "I think these boys in the patrol have done a wonderful piece of work. They're all elementary school boys, but they've had a lot of responsibility, and they've all lived up to it. I don't think a better record could be found anywhere in the country."

The superintendent also praised the work of the Traffic department of the Wilmington police in "ably supervising" the school traffic patrol.

MERGER OF LABOR CAMPS IS TALKED

FSA Transient Setups May Be Operated As Single Unit

A contemplated merger of the Castle Hayne and Wallace FSA transient labor camps in the next two weeks was disclosed Thursday by Felix A. Scroggs, manager of U. S. Employment Service here, who predicted that if all works according to schedule "no crops will be lost in this area this year on account of a labor shortage."

The labor camp at Wallace is now being dismantled. Scroggs said, and workers in the St. Helena section of Pender county will be transferred to the Castle Hayne camp. By agreement with camp committees of the two transient labor reservations, part of the Wallace tents will be sent to the New Hanover camp, and labor for both areas will be divided as practical.

The employment official said Farm Security Administration officials have promised 50 additional tents for Castle Hayne to quarter 200 additional harvest hands. With the new facilities, about 500 workers can be quartered there.

It is expected that the new tents will be set up this week so that a full force of laborers will be on hand to harvest beans, which are expected to reach the picking peak about June 15.

Scroggs said it is expected the Castle Hayne labor camp will become one of the "best camps" in the state as far as cooperation between the different government agencies and growers is concerned. "Growers," he said, "are becoming very dependent on the camp for labor and so far the employment service has been able to recruit sufficient labor."

To obtain workers the employment office established on Thursday an interception station at the junction of Highway No. 17 and the old road to the Market Street ferry.

It will be manned at all times by two representatives of the Farm Placement division of the employment office. Their duty will be to stop all truckloads of migrant labor headed north and endeavor to place workers in this area.

Approximately 150 migrant workers are now located at Castle Hayne, Scroggs said, and others of the force are from various areas of this state. They will proceed up the coast to harvest crops as they mature, and the North Carolina workers will eventually return to harvest areas in this state.

Aircraft cannon, appearing more and more frequently, particularly in fighter planes, are usually of the 20-mm. type but some of the fighters pack a 37-mm. in the propeller shaft.

Warning Is Sounded On Postoffice Keys

Postmaster Wilbur R. Doshier advised postoffice box owners Thursday to refrain from carelessly leaving keys in boxes and disclosed that a government official recently lost official mail in that manner.

After the official complained that much of his mail was missing, postal authorities placed a watchman near the drawer, who discovered a 15-year-old Negro boy removing the mail two and one-half hours after he went on duty.

The youth was arrested and properly investigated.

It was found that the federal employee, who had asked that the lock on his box be changed, had formerly left his key in the drawer.

Postmaster Doshier said this careless practice happens about 15 times daily. The careless closing of drawers, he said, is also a dangerous habit which may result in mail being stolen.

"The postoffice can not provide protection to the mail if people foolishly leave their keys in the boxes," he said.

FDA Buying Sends Bean Prices Up At Tabor City

RALEIGH, June 3—(AP)—Farm Distribution Administration buying sent snapbean prices on the Tabor City market up to the $1.50 per bushel price today after a tumble earlier this week to $1.25, OWI said here tonight.

By the time the FDA had purchased two carloads, OWI said, buyers for the eastern market were offering prices equivalent to those paid by the government agency.

Food purchased by the FDA ordinarily goes either to the armed forces or is bought for lend-lease, State FDA Chief C. Hillman Moody said. Today's purchase served the double purpose of supplying the government needs and supporting the price, he added.

Repair Permits Total $44,420 During May

Building repairs and reconstructions totaled $44,420 in the city during May, Building Inspector Gilbert F. Morton announced Thursday. According to his report made to City Manager A. C. Nichols, no new buildings were erected during the period.

The largest sum for permits was furnished by the HOLC, which is converting two buildings at 108 Red Cross street and 109 S. Sixth street into apartments for war workers, at a cost of $15,000.

Seven condemned buildings were removed by the city; three condemned buildings were repaired by their owners and 36 additional buildings were condemned during May. Over 150 buildings in the city have been demolished since last November, Mr. Morton stated.

The Building Inspection office ordered extensive changes in the Brunswick hotel, providing corridors leading directly to fire escapements so that occupants would not have to go through other rooms, according to Mr. Morton.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."

"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was broken in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."

"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the war-alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. This entire industry stopped making whiskey months ago and has been working night and day producing nothing but war-alcohol."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that really is."
