

RED CROSS ASKS FOR VOLUNTEERS

Needs Of Local Chapter Are Listed By Division Head

The need for workers in the volunteer special services division of the Wilmington chapter of the American Red Cross is acute, Mr. J. B. Sidbury, chairman of the group, said Thursday, adding that with the coming of fall and winter seasons, Red Cross officials are hoping that many new workers will enroll.

Courses of instruction will be available, she states.

Volunteers can still enroll in the course for canteen workers which will begin Monday, October 11 at 7:30 p. m. at the Tide Water building.

Mrs. B. M. Morrison, chairman of Staff assistants' course will be held, beginning October 26.

A Gray Ladies course is planned for November, according to Mrs. Vernon Avery.

Nurses' Aides and the Motor Corps will also have courses available to volunteers when the number of applicants for the courses has reached 30.

First and courses will be given to any group of 15 who register for such a course.

The five full admirals on active duty for the U. S. are: Harold T. Stark, Ernest J. King, Chester W. Nimitz, Royal E. Ingersoll and William F. Halsey, Jr.

Post-War Commission Maps Industry Survey

A survey to determine the potentialities for the creation, expansion, or development of industrial and business facilities in Wilmington after the war will be undertaken by the city-county post-war planning commission, it was decided at a meeting of the commission's sub-committees at the City hall Thursday morning.

The survey will not begin, it was disclosed, until after all the various sub-committees of the organization have an opportunity to consider the matter in sessions scheduled for next week.

The necessity for looking toward the establishment of new industries in the community was stressed by several of those in attendance. N. E. Drexler, president of the Tide Water Power company, pointed to the possibilities in the plastic field that would develop when normal business activity is resumed. F. O. Fockler, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, cited the field of wool-cloth manufacture, inasmuch as large deposits of sawdust exist in this area, as an idea worth exploring.

Cyrus D. Hogue, chairman of the post-war planning group, read a communication from R. L. Burnett, chairman of the employment committee, in which it was pointed out that members of that committee felt that "Wilmington will be in a position to offer great opportunities to manufacturers due to the fact that there are adequate sites and ample housing facilities to induce new industry to come into our county."

A representative of the Dow Chemical corporation, so the letter read, predicted that his concern "will be able to absorb all of its men who will return from the armed service."

With further regard to employment in Wilmington after the war, Mr. Burnett's committee, composed of its chairman and W. E. Curtis, Felix A. Scroggs, and W. L.

JEW TO OBSERVE YOM KIPPUR RITE

Services For Wilmington And Camp Davis Are Announced

Services for Yom Kippur, the Jewish day of atonement, were announced Thursday night by the Temple of Israel, the Synagogue of the Orthodox Congregation B'nai Israel, and Camp Davis chaplains.

At the Temple of Israel, Rabbi M. M. Thurman said, services will begin at 8 p. m. Friday and continue until Saturday afternoon.

The service includes: "Re-discussing God and Man," a sermon, 8 p. m. Friday sermon, "I Am A Hebrew," Saturday, 10 a. m., special children's service, 1:30 p. m. Saturday; afternoon service 2 p. m.; and memorial service, 4 p. m.

During the Friday night service, Mrs. Eric Norden will play the Kol Nidrei, and Arthur John will chant. The doors of the temple will be closed during the rendition of this traditional music. No pews will be reserved after 8:15 o'clock.

Celebration of the Jewish Holy day at the synagogue will begin at 7 p. m. Friday with the chanting of the well-known "Kol Nidrei" prayer by Rabbi H. Bronstein. The rabbi will then preach on "The Message of Kol Nidrei."

On Saturday, services will begin at 8 a. m. and will continue throughout the whole day with the Memorial service (Yizkor) to be held at noon with special prayers for the souls of the Jewish heroes who paid with their lives for their country and for the martyrs who died in the ghettos of Hitler's Europe, Rabbi Bronstein said.

129,620,000 Gallons Of Water Are Pumped Through City's Mains

The total water pumped through the city's filter system during September was 129,620,000 gallons as compared with 110,290,000 in the same month last year and 96,980,000 in 1941. McKean Maffitt, city superintendent of the water and sewer department, reported Thursday.

The average daily pumpage during the month was 4,320,000. Last September it was 3,676,000 and in 1941, 3,231,000.

Superintendent Maffitt said water and sewer collections for the month were $29,858.14. Over the past three month period, he said, collections have shown an increase of $6,258.54 over the same period last year.

The danger area includes approximately 1,500 acres and all hunters and other persons are warned to stay clear.

Local Shoe Merchant Attends Convention

"The job of both government and manufacturers now is to concentrate on the production of an adequate number of pairs of shoes rather than on style," Walter E. Ebling, head of the operations of the footwear rationing branch of OPA, told the Southeastern Shoe Travelers Market week convention in Atlanta this week.

Despite the critical leather shortages essential civilian shoe needs will be met he predicted.

Present conditions indicate that the next shoe stamp will be valid about May 1, he concluded.

Among the more than 600 representatives of shoe manufacturers and concerns at the meeting was O. O. Whitlock, Wilmington shoe dealer.

"I'm Truly Grateful For The Happy Relief Pow-O-Lin Gave Me," States Mrs. Daniel

Gas Pains, Bloating, Indigestion, Caused Smothery Feeling And Made Her Almost Afraid To Eat. She States. Tells Of Grand Relief Pow-O-Lin Brought.

Throughout all Carolina, happy men and women are telling their neighbors and friends of their happy experience with Pow-O-Lin, the purely herbal preparation that they say brings relief from distress that harassed them day and night.

Mrs. Ada Daniel, well-known resident of Route 5, Durham, declares: "Of all the medicines I ever saw, Pow-O-Lin proved the best in my stubborn case. Food didn't seem to agree with me, setting up gas and pressure that made me feel I could not get my tongue to come before my eyes, my tongue was foul and I just felt awful. I didn't care to eat and felt undernourished and weak, and I don't believe I had the energy and strength of a kitten. The toxic wastes of constipation made me feel aching and sluggish and dreaded my housework and everything I had to do. I don't believe you could have found a more miserable woman in North Carolina."

"Pow-O-Lin proved a blessing. Before I had finished my first bottle I felt relieved of the indigestion, gassy bloating and headaches. Constipation was relieved in a gentle, pleasant way and the achy sluggishness, too. Pow-O-Lin has my everlasting praise. It brought me welcome relief."

Pow-O-Lin is a purely herbal preparation for the relief of distress as plagued Mrs. Daniel when due to constipation. Thousands praise it. Pow-O-Lin may be obtained at Toms Drug Store. Caution: Use only as directed.

Lead 'Knuckle Duster' Turns Up Again After Absence From Owners

The lead "knuckle-duster" which has served as a paperweight on Assistant Clerk of Court C. L. Myer's desk for the past several years is back on duty after a short, but interesting, absence.

Originally confiscated on a concealed weapon charge, the knuckle-duster passed into the possession of the clerk and was utilized as a paperweight.

Then last month it disappeared, only to appear in court again as evidence when one of the painters, who had been painting the courthouse, was brought in on a charge of drunkenness. The weapon was found in his pocket by the arresting officer.

CAMP DAVIS HEAD COMMENDS FARMER

"This war differs from past wars in that there will be no compromise. The two words, 'unconditional surrender,' tell all. This is a war for keeps. Winner takes all. It calls for the resources of us all, and we must have the will to win. This involves the cooperation of the farmer; he will always fight for the freedom of the soil as he has in the past."

The camp commander complimented his audience declaring it was "adequate testimony of the high war morale of the farmer."

Wilbur Doshier, program chairman of Kiwanis club, led group singing. R. W. Galphin, county agent, presided for the Farmers' club meeting and announced the election of officers next month.

Kiwanian president Jones announced their election for next week.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

LIONS DISCUSS NEW PROJECTS

Members Advance Plan To Furnish School Band With Uniforms

Discussion of organization projects for the winter occupied the Lions at their weekly luncheon meeting here Thursday.

The chief project discussed was the furnishing of uniforms for the New Hanover High school band with ideas being advanced by Lions Humphrey, Maffitt, Marshall, Hood, Latta, Shoemaker and Roebuck.

Donald Sewall, chairman of the attendance committee, reported "excellent progress" as the club starts out on a year of trying to maintain an 85 percent attendance.

As a means of promoting committee cooperation and work, a new grouping was tried out for the first time with the various committees being placed together, a plan worked out with the cooperation of Lion Louis Keith.

It was reported by President James Lawson that "within a very short time" a weekly bulletin concerning the activities of the members will be published.

Gene Bullard led in group singing. At the end of the program the organization sang Auld Lang Syne, with Henri Emurian at the piano.
