SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Now that Gunder Haegg is coming to this country on a sort of lend-lease basis to give indoor tracks the run-around, there is some speculation as to how the lanky Swede will do on the boards.

Considering his success outdoors, the answer seems to be he will do all right, if he can master one detail. That is, if he can negotiate the turns without going over the top of the banked track and out the front door, or getting his feet so involved with one another he falls flat on his face.

In Haegg's favor are his acknowledged speed and endurance, and one other very important factor. He's a bouncer, and that description has nothing to do with his personal habits. It means he picks up his feet cleanly instead of driving down into the boards.

The boards are something of a taking off place as he floats along. Our Tom Paprocki, or "Pap," who was quite a runner himself in his day and who now follows the sport close enough to rate the title "expert," said he checked on Haegg's style when the Swede was here a couple of years ago. He examined the marks left by Haegg's spikes on the cinders, and found the holes clear and clean, and not torn and ragged as would be the spike trail of most runners. This quick, clean pickup of the feet would be much in Haegg's favor on the boards.

To his disadvantage indoors would be his long, looping stride. He will have to learn to shorten the stride on the turns if he doesn't want to lose valuable yardage by running wide. An experienced indoor track man can use the bank of the turn to gain momentum. He knows how to lean, how to hug the rail.

Gil Dodds, who, along with Jim Rafferty, looms right now as Haegg's only competition, also has a long stride, and it also took him quite a while to master the art of indoor running.

BAINBRIDGE LICKS MARAUDERS, 13-3

BAINBRIDGE, Md., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The never-beaten Bainbridge football team completed its second straight perfect season today with two fourth period touchdowns which submerged the resolute Maxwell Field Marauders 13-3.

It was Coach Joe Maniaci's 17th consecutive victory as mentor of the ex-professionals and former college players, and kept intact his record of never coaching a loser.

Bainbridge started its uninterupted victory string with a 9-0 win over Camp Lejeune in 1943 and roared through six more games that season and 10 straight this year with only occasionally serious opposition.

Maxwell Field today was one of the exceptions. Helped by a boggy field that cut into the Commodores' efficiency, the Alabama Flyers tied up Bainbridge for two periods and took a 3-0 lead in the third on a perfect field goal booted from 11 yards out by Joe Stringfellow.

A Bainbridge 54-yard offensive spearheaded by Harry (Hippely) Hopp and Charley Justice bogged down on Maxwell Field's 29 after the succeeding kickoff, and Hopp punted into the end zone.

Maxwell Field failed to go and a punt by Clement to Bainbridge's 32 set the stage for Hopp's 58-yard touchdown center early in the fourth period.

It was Bainbridge's second win of the year over Maxwell Field, the Commodores having turned the trick 15-7 at Montgomery, Ala., several weeks ago.

AMPHIBS DEFEAT GREMLINS, 7-6

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Big Bill Daley paced the Giant Fort Pierce Navy Amphibs football team to a 7-6 victory over the Third Air Force Gremlins before an estimated 11,000 shivering fans at Phillips Field today.

His brilliant 61-yard touchdown run in the final 30 seconds of the first half, followed by Les Brucker's perfect placement for the extra point, gave the Amphibs their margin of victory, and a perfect record of eight wins this season.

But despite his fine performance, which overshadowed the efforts of Charlie Trippi, ace of the Gremlins, the former Minnesota and Michigan all-American almost threw the game away in the final six minutes when he fumbled on the six yard stripe and set the stage for the Gremlins' touchdown, a bullet pass from Trippi to Ted Cook. Guard Bop Ivory was the alert Grem who fell on the ball.

It was the bruising Navy line that won the ball game and, except for their one scoring opportunity, the Gremlins never had a chance. They negotiated exactly 58 yards through the Amphib line, and made 36 yards through the air, by far their poorest performance of the season.

Capt. Quinn Decker, head coach of the Gremlins said after the game that his team had no excuses.

"They were just too tough for us," he said. "Daley is a fine ball player and a great competitor, and that Fort Pierce line is one of the best I have seen. I believe the Fort Pierce team is stronger than Great Lakes, one of the teams that licked us, but I don't think they are quite as powerful as Randolph Field, our other conqueror."

Southeastern Grid Crown Conceded To Engineers

SPORTS J.—SOUTHEASTERN GRID CROWN
ATLANTA, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Crushing Georgia, 44-0, in a season's finale for both teams, Georgia Tech's Orange Bowl-bound Engineers won the unofficial Southeastern conference football crown for the second straight year.

The conference recognizes champions in only two sports, track and basketball, but since the organization of the league 12 years ago, the grid team with the best percentage has been conceded the title. Tech finished undefeated in four games, the lowest number of conference games ever played by a pennant winner.

In the only other game played Saturday, Louisiana State whipped Tulane 25-6, to move into seventh place.

Except for Tech's appearance in the Orange Bowl with Tulsa, Tennessee's Rose Bowl date with Southern California, and Alabama's Sugar Bowl game with Duke, the season is over for the conference.

Final standings (conference games only):

W	L	Td	Pts	Opp
Georgia Tech	4	0	0	119	13

Randolph Field, rated by some grid critics as the greatest team ever assembled outside of pro ranks, is unbeaten this season and is sparked by Lt. Bill Dudley, former all-American great from Virginia and later with Pittsburgh Steelers in the National pro league.

The Second Air Force Bombers from Colorado Springs, Colo., have Lt. Glenn Dobbs, Tulsa's all-American quarterback of two seasons ago in the backfield along with Ray Evans of Kansas.

SURPLUS DISPOSAL $26,772,000 In U. S. Property Sold During October

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Four government agencies disposed of $26,772,000 of surplus war property during October at 64.7 per cent of its cost or appraised value.

BY BARTON PATTIE

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Duke University's Sugar Bowl-bound squad and once-beaten Wake Forest won three berths each on the 1944 Associated Press All-Southern conference football team. Five other schools placed one player on the team, which has been selected annually for the past 19 years on the basis of votes by coaches and sports writers of the Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and District of Columbia area.

Tom Davis, Duke's versatile fullback, who won all-southern recognition both in 1942 and 1943, was the only repeater. Other Blue Devils selected were Ernie Knotts, guard, and Gordon Carver, wingback. John Kerns, 230-pound tackle, who played most of the season with Duke, but was transferred with a Marine contingent to North Carolina in November, also won an honor team spot.

The three representatives from Wake Forest's strong civilian club, defeated only by Duke, are Dave Harris, end; George Owen, tackle, and Elmer Barbour, a brilliant blocking back.

The other all-southern are Pat Thrash, South Carolina, end; John Clowes, William and Mary, guard; Ralph Jenkins, Clemson, center, and Howard Turner, North Carolina, back.

Only four of the all-stars this year are service trainees—Carver, Knotts, Kerns and Thrash—in contrast to last year when only two civilian players were able to make the team. The 1943 team listed six men from Duke, three from North Carolina and two from Wake Forest, six of them having been shifted from their original alma maters to Duke or North Carolina by the Navy.
