YANKS WARM FOOD ON SURIBACHI GAS

By JAMES LINDSLEY
IWO JIMA, March 4.—(Via Navy Radio)—Suribachi volcano, on the southern tip of Iwo Jima, acted up a bit today and as a result American Marines in that sector had hot rations for the first time in several days.

During the night the 560-foot cone began erupting hot sulfurous steam from hundreds of little fissures on the northern slope.

"It didn't take the boys long to get wise," said Capt. E. R. McCarthy, of Medford, Mass., commanding officer of a weapons company. "They began showing cans of rations into the cracks and in 15 minutes took them out piping hot."

McCarthy said an unusual number of Japanese were observed scuttling out of volcanic caves in the early morning and he speculated that sulfur fumes might have driven them into the open.

A huge gray cloud envelops the summit of Suribachi on which the American flag was planted February 24, after a frontal assault by Marines.

200 U. S. Convicts Aid In Malaria Experiments

By FRANK E. CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON, March 4.—(P)—More than 200 prisoners in three American penitentiaries are acting as volunteer "human test tubes" in experiments designed to conquer malaria.

Inmates of the U. S. Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet, and the New Jersey Reformatory at Rahway have exposed themselves to hazardous experiences in order to help science test the efficacy of new and relatively unknown drugs against one of mankind's worst scourges.

They are cooperating in the search for a drug that actually will curb or prevent the disease. Quinine and the synthetic drug, Quinacrine, are effective in keeping it in a mild stage, and they have effected some cures, but neither is capable of eradicating it completely.

Half of the men have been infected with the same form of "relapsing malaria" that has been suffered by large numbers of our troops. And they are being treated with chemicals which, if effective, will be released to the armed forces, and later to civilians.

The remainder of the volunteers, while not yet infected with malaria, are taking increasingly larger doses of new drugs for long periods of time in order to prove that the drugs may be used safely against the disease.

The new research was described today by the Committee on Information of the National Research Council's division of medical sciences.

The drugs under test were not identified by the committee which merely said the materials had previously been successful against malaria in experimental animals. Nor did their report outline any of the results obtained in the human tests which have been underway for about a year.

Liberated Prisoners Form Line At Santo Tomas Camp Scales To Check Poundage

MANILA, March 4.—(P)—One of the longest queues in Manila is at the Santo Tomas scales.

As liberated internees and prisoners of war await transportation home they are eager to restore as much of weight as possible now that good food is plentiful.

There is only one scale and every day they wait in line—persons who lost as much as 100 pounds under Japanese captivity—to see how many ounces they have put on daily. All have gained appreciably in the last couple of weeks, some enormously.

Congress Held In Favor Of Real Estate Control

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(U.P.)—Proposals that the government declare war on a real estate boom which is inflating the values of homes and farmlands, are winning strong Congressional support.

Whatever the reasons for the boom—overcrowding in war centers, hedging against an uncertain future, increased war time incomes or profiteering—it may undermine the mortgage structure of the entire country," Price Administrator Chester Bowles declared.

"A wave of foreclosures during the postwar period such as occurred in the depression years would be disastrous," he said.

Last week we warned the Senate Banking Committee that both real estate and commercial rents should be brought under price control. Chairman Robert F. Wagner, (D-N. Y.) and Sens. Robert A. Taft, (R-O.) and Hugh A. Butler, (R-Neb.) said they were favorably impressed by Bowles' testimony.

Equally worried about the scramble for real estate are the Federal Reserve Board, the Treasury and the National Housing Agency which say that much of it is speculative and therefore an inflation threat.

Prices of farm lands have risen 43 per cent since March, 1939. Residential prices have gone up 36 per cent since 1942. Bowles predicted the farmland increase would go to 50 per cent this spring and that home prices would rise another 12 per cent.

MEADOWS TRIAL IN SIXTH WEEK

GREENVILLE, March 4.—(P)—With the defense expected to complete its presentation of witnesses early in the week, trial of Dr. Leon Meadows on charges of embezzlement and false pretense will go into its sixth week in Pitt Superior Court here tomorrow.

The former president of East Carolina Teachers College is on trial on charges of embezzlement of more than $18,000 of special college and student funds.

Meadows' counsel said at the close of last week's court session that only one more witness would be called to the stand, thus indicating that the defense might rest its case late tomorrow.

The State has not indicated how many witnesses would be called in its reply, but court officials have predicted the trial might go into its seventh week depending on the number of prosecution witnesses offered in rebuttal and the length of attorney speeches to the jury.

Judge Clawson L. Williams of Sanford is presiding over the trial.

Lippi is the name of three distinguished Italian painters of the 15th and 17th centuries.
