Mrs. Roosevelt Wavers Once During
Husband's Last Ride To White House

By GWEN MORGAN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt bore the ordeal of her husband's last ride to the White House like a soldier.

Only once did she waver.

Her black limousine drew to one side as the caisson stopped before the White House portico. She didn't wait for help but opened the car door and stepped out alone.

For a moment, her tall figure seemed to crumple slightly but she quickly gathered herself together and waited for her son, Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt, and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Boettiger, to join her.

They were a lone little group, standing by the side of the car those few, long minutes.

Soon the four daughters-in-law, all of a size and all wearing black dresses and very small black hats, arrived to stand in a single straight line behind them.

Behind the daughters and son-in-law were Miss Malvina Thompson who always accompanies Mrs. Roosevelt; Mrs. James Helm, White House social secretary since the days of President Wilson, and Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early.

Then came the President's two cousins who were at Warm Springs with him—Miss Margaret Suckley and Miss Laura Delano.

Miss Delano was leading Fala, Mr. Roosevelt's scottie, who trotted eagerly ahead as if he expected to find his master at home.

Old family friends came after them—the President's old boss, Former Secretary of Navy Joseph Daniels, Bernard M. Barauch, and Maj. James Hooker.

Mrs. Roosevelt's head was bent as she approached the White House door. But it lifted when the band began to play softly one of the President's favorite hymns. It was "Lead Kindly Light."

Suddenly, the band began the Star Spangled Banner. The honor guard started to lift the casket from the caisson. Mrs. Roosevelt instinctively stepped forward. She moved towards the caisson, walking ahead of Elliott and Anna.

It was a family moment. President and Mrs. Truman were not there. Mr. Truman had slipped into the executive offices, apart from the mansion. Mrs. Truman did not arrive until half an hour before funeral time.

F. D. R. MEMORIAL
RITES ARRANGED

By the Associated Press
 North Carolinians by the thousands will attend the week-end memorial services for Franklin D. Roosevelt, thus joining with the rest of the nation in paying final tribute to the great humanitarian.

Special services, dedicated to the memory of the late president are to be held in virtually every city, town and village in the state sometime during the week-end. Many Sunday morning worship periods will be set aside as memorials to Mr. Roosevelt.

Special services will be held at all military installations in the state, and at colleges and universities which have military units. Camp Lejeune, Marine base at New River, has planned services in all chapels Sunday morning, each dedicated to Mr. Roosevelt. All organized parties and dances were called off for the week-end.

The State college department of military science and tactics will sponsor a Sunday afternoon memorial service. All basic and advanced units of the Army's specialized training program at the college will march in formation to the services, and the State college band will render appropriate music. The Rev. William S. Lea, rector of Christ Episcopal church, will preach the memorial sermon.

Special services also were being planned at Fort Bragg, Camp Butler, Morris Field at Charlotte, and the Cherry Point Marine base. All chapel services Sunday morning on the Fort Bragg and Butler reservations will be dedicated to the President.

Meanwhile, virtually all business in the state was suspended at least momentarily beginning at 4 p. m. Saturday as persons of all walks of life stood silently on sidewalks, in homes and in business houses as the funeral rite were read in Washington over the President's body. Officials of the State Merchants association said municipalities generally suspended business for a full hour, from 4 to 5 p. m. Others decreed half-hour closings, and still others for several minutes. In Charlotte, the Merchants associations decreed a mourning holiday.

Leaders of the state's political life continued to pay tribute to the late President. Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren was told of the death of Mr. Roosevelt as he and his party came into Oregon Inlet from the sea late Thursday. Warren said that, while he knew of the "terrible strain the President had been under for the last few months, I am shocked beyond expression over his untimely passing." He sent a message of sympathy to Mrs. Roosevelt.

TEACHERS' TENURE
LAW IS ADVOCATED

RALEIGH, April 14.—(AP)—Dr. Ralph McDonald, retiring president of the North Carolina Education Association, today called for a tenure law to protect school teachers, principals and other employees against dismissal without just cause.

McDonald spoke at installation ceremonies held here by the NCEA, which saw McDonald succeed as president by Mrs. Annie Laurie McDonald of Hickory.

C. W. Phillips of Greensboro defeated Dr. A. M. Proctor of Durham for the first-vice presidency, which automatically elevates him to the presidency in 1946. Miss Ethel Perkins of Raleigh was re-elected secretary-treasurer and director of the National Education Association.

Newly elected members of the board of directors are D. H. Conley of Greenville, who succeeds Miss Bertha Cooper of Elizabeth City as representative of the northeastern district; and Hugh Bean of Marion, who replaced Junius Allison of Asheville as representative from the western district.

Dr. McDonald, twice a defeated candidate for governor, told officers of the NCEA that "the needs of North Carolina schools literally cry out for us."

He listed as prime necessities the following recommended changes in the present school setup:

"1. A tenure law to protect teachers, principals and superintendents against dismissal without just cause.

"2. A sound and adequate salary schedule.

"3. At least 10 months of employment for teachers (the same as that now offered to principals under an act of the 1945 legislature).

"4. Reduction in the teacher load in high schools and elementary grades.

"5. Raising the compulsory school attendance law to 18 years, and provide for real enforcement of the law. (The recent legislature raised the compulsory law from 14 to 16 years of age.)

"6. A system of state school administration which will place control of purely administrative matters in the State Department of Education rather than in a competing administrative system set up by the State Board of Education.

"7. A real program of vocation education for all high school children of the state.

"8. A health program which will provide full medical and dental care for all children, provide adequate remedial treatment, and promote healthy childhood."

"To go farther with education," he said, "we must have a stronger and more active state organization of all departments."

APPEAL FOR USED CLOTHES RENEWED

Wilbur R. Doshier, chairman of the United National Clothing Collection in New Hanover county, has proclaimed this week as the time for all residents to clean out all clothes closets in an effort to increase local collections of used clothing.

"Apply this test," Mr. Doshier said, "Am I wearing it now? If not, out it goes."

Mrs. Roosevelt, in a recent column, called upon the women of the nation to observe this week as the opportunity to put all old used clothing to a practical use. She said that this was to be one of the biggest features of the United National Clothing collection," he said.

Although it was anticipated that some shipments would be ready this week, an advance shipment of 771 pounds of used clothing left Wilmington Friday for the State central depot in Raleigh. This shipment represented early collections from the schools, where many more clothes are being collected daily.

Because no central location for packing clothes before shipment was found to be available in Wilmington, Mr. Doshier said, sorting and packing must go on in the schools and churches serving as collection centers. For this reason, it is difficult at this time to estimate the total number of pounds of clothes so far received, as these scattered centers have no facilities for weighing them, however reports received to date are very promising, he added.

Mr. Doshier pointed out that under the leadership of W. D. MacMillian, the 16 laundry and dry cleaning establishments are already packing all unclaimed garments at their plants, were title has passed to the cleaner. Four if these establishments have reported that they have "very large lots" of such clothing on hand and it is expected that most of this will be moved out during the coming week.

Mr. Doshier urged all citizens to take their clothing contributions to the churches and schools, previously designated as the official collection centers. All clothing contributed should be clean but that it need not be pressed.

RALEIGH, April 14.—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog markets steady with tops of 14.55 at Clinton and Rocky Mount.

By ED CREAGH
 HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 14.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's home town was draped with black and purple tonight as its saddened residents awaited the funeral train that will bring the body of the 31st president to its final resting place.

Most of the 1,200 townspeople went to their homes when the few stores closed at 4 p.m. (EWT), to listen to radio accounts of the funeral service in Washington.

Few residents will be present tomorrow morning at the burial at 10 a.m. in a flower-decked garden on the Roosevelt crum below estate. Soldiers with rifles stood at every entrance to the 1,100 acre estate today and the New York Central railroad tracks were guarded for miles.

Present plans are for the body to be taken off the train at 9 a.m. on the Roosevelt's private siding, and borne up the steep hill, through the oak and hemlock, to the garden. Then will follow the brief committal service, of the Episcopal church.

President Harry S. Truman, and highest ranking officers of the Army and Navy, together with cabinet and congressional leaders and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will attend the service with Mrs. Roosevelt and members of the immediate family.

While Hyde Park's citizens may not see the funeral train—the private siding, which rims the Hudson below the village, is hidden by trees—they will attend a memorial service at 11 a.m. (EWT) in St. James' Episcopal church of which Hyde Park squire was senior warden.

Seventy-eight-year-old Rev. George W. Anthony will conduct the memorial service as well as the ceremony at the grave.

Mr. Roosevelt's mother, who died in 1941, and his father, who died in 1900, both lie in 134-year old St. James' Church yard, in a modest plot shaded by stately oaks, beeches and elms. Mr. Roosevelt's first son, who died in infancy, is buried beside them.

Hyde Park, In Mourning, Awaiting Funeral Train

By ED CREAGH
 HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 14.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's home town was draped with black and purple tonight as its saddened residents awaited the funeral train that will bring the body of the 31st president to its final resting place.

Most of the 1,200 townspeople went to their homes when the few stores closed at 4 p.m. (EWT), to listen to radio accounts of the funeral service in Washington.

Few residents will be present tomorrow morning at the burial at 10 a.m. in a flower-decked garden on the Roosevelt crum below estate. Soldiers with rifles stood at every entrance to the 1,100 acre estate today and the New York Central railroad tracks were guarded for miles.

Present plans are for the body to be taken off the train at 9 a.m. on the Roosevelt's private siding, and borne up the steep hill, through the oak and hemlock, to the garden. Then will follow the brief committal service, of the Episcopal church.

President Harry S. Truman, and highest ranking officers of the Army and Navy, together with cabinet and congressional leaders and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will attend the service with Mrs. Roosevelt and members of the immediate family.

While Hyde Park's citizens may not see the funeral train—the private siding, which rims the Hudson below the village, is hidden by trees—they will attend a memorial service at 11 a.m. (EWT) in St. James' Episcopal church of which Hyde Park squire was senior warden.

Seventy-eight-year-old Rev. George W. Anthony will conduct the memorial service as well as the ceremony at the grave.

Mr. Roosevelt's mother, who died in 1941, and his father, who died in 1900, both lie in 134-year old St. James' Church yard, in a modest plot shaded by stately oaks, beeches and elms. Mr. Roosevelt's first son, who died in infancy, is buried beside them.
