

Joseph Starkey Dies Of Wounds In Pacific

Mrs. Grace S. Platt has been notified by the Navy Department that her brother, Joseph Edward Starkey, aviation radioman third class, USNR, has died of injuries received in action. Aviation Radioman Starkey was serving in the Pacific area.

CURRIN APPEALS FOR LARGE VOTE

Garland S. Currin, who will seek re-election to the City Council in the primary race on Monday, called upon Wilmingtonians yesterday to "vote for those candidates who are best fitted by successful business experience and by experience in municipal government to direct the affairs of our city for the next two years."

His statement follows:

"Tomorrow is primary election day in Wilmington. I would like to appeal to all registered voters to go to their respective polling places and cast their ballot. This is no time for indifference. The situation is serious enough to incite every citizen to feel it his or her duty and privilege as Americans, to help select the men who will govern our city in the critical years just ahead. Vote for those candidates who are best fitted by successful business experience and by experience in municipal government to direct the affairs of our city for the next two years.

"Let us all work together for a city that is outstandingly beautiful, that keeps its financial affairs in excellent order, and one which can maintain its present place as one of the important cities of the southland."

War Bond Drive Slogan Becomes 'Remember FDR'

NEW BERN, April 21. — (AP) — The Seventh War Loan drive will be a memorial to President Roosevelt in Craven county, with the slogan "Remember F. D. R. and Shorten the War," it was announced today by J. J. Gaskill, McDaniel, county campaign chairman.

DREADED GERMAN AIR FORCE DEAD

LONDON, April 21. — (AP) — As an organized force the once dreaded German air force is dead.

From various sources Allied officers have gathered evidence showing that the German air force no longer is really directed by anyone.

What disjointed life it had left was knocked out during the last two weeks of incessant Allied attacks on over-crowded airfields all over what is left of the Reich.

During the brief period Allied pilots hunted down and destroyed an amazing total of 3,200 enemy aircraft while being engaged in but one air battle. A majority of the Nazi planes were smashed on the ground by U. S. Eighth and Ninth Air Force fighters at a cost of less than 100 of their own planes.

The charred shells of these 3,200 planes furnish a mute answer to the question uppermost in the minds of many military men since before the Allies invaded Normandy—is Germany holding a strong air force in reserve?

Germany was not exactly holding such a force in reserve but the overwhelming Allied air superiority, plus the shortage of gasoline, made the German Air force a fairly impotent asset at the most crucial stage of the war. It is estimated that there never was a time until the present when Germany had fewer than 4,000 planes suitable for combat.

High casualties among German pilots and the country's inability to spare gasoline for the proper training of new ones led to the downfall of the entire organization.
