TWELVE GENERALS RETURN BY PLANE

Kepper, former commander of the Second Bombardment division who will now command those elements of the Eighth Air Force which are not transferred to the Pacific under Lt. Gen. James Doolittle, said he had no idea of the devastation that had been wrought in Germany until he made reconnaissance flights.

"It was like a desert wherever we hit," he said. "I never saw a picture of an earthquake that was as bad as this. If I could take Hirohito over Germany to see the things that I saw after our raids, he would quit right now."

Also in the party arriving today were Maj. Gen. Paul W. Kendall, acting commanding general of the 99th Infantry division; Maj. Gen. S. Leroy Irwin, commander of the 12th Army Corps; Maj. Gen. Horace L. McBride, commander of the 80th Infantry division; Maj. Gen. Milton A. Record, provost marshal general; Maj. Gen. Edwin T. Parker, Jr., commander of the 78th Infantry division; Maj. Gen. William M. Hoge, assistant chief of staff U. S. Army; Maj. Gen. Frank A. Keating, commander of the 102nd Infantry division, and Brig. Gen. Juliam M. Chappel, commander of the 50th Troop Carrier wing of the Ninth Carrier Command.

Their wives, children and relatives met the generals, officers and men at La Guardia. Photographers took pictures and the huge Sunday crowd cheered as the men alighted. They left quickly for Manhattan where a conference with newspapermen was scheduled at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Handsome, grey-haired Simpson smiled broadly as his wife, Mrs. Ruth Simpson of San Antonio, Tex., ran half-way up the steps leading to the plane and embraced him. Photographers and newsreel men asked Simpson to repeat the scene, and he looked fondly at his wife and said:

"I could do this indefinitely." Record posed for pictures with two sergeants. Photographers asked him to put his arms on their shoulder and Record grinned and said:

"That's what I wanted to do anyway." McNarney, whose home is in McMorney, Pa., was greeted by his wife, Helen. He posed briefly with six enlisted men before driving away. Devers was met by his daughter, Mrs. Alexander Graham of Washington, D. C.

The wives of McBride and Irwin also were on hand and Record was met by his daughter, Mrs. Frederick Jones of Baltimore, Md. Also in the party were Capt. Guy W. Hoyt of Portland, Ore.; Maj. John D. Horn of New York; Sgt. Frederick W. Johnston of Bradford, Pa.; Sgt. Joseph W. Adams of Louisville, Ky., and Col. Creight W. Abrams who led the column which relieved the besieged American garrison at Bastogne during the battle of the Belgian Bulge.

87,000 WORKERS STILL ON STRIKE (Continued From Page One) meat in lunch sandwiches kept 7,500 employees of the Briggs Manufacturing Company at home.

Chicago Ellis T. Longenecker, Federal manager of the city's seized trucking lines, said the tieup of essential goods had been broken and predicted prompt movement of all war material and food stuffs. More than 16,000 troops were stationed in the city, but Longenecker reported many union drivers returning to their jobs after seeing their trucks driven by soldiers. The strike was in protest over a WLB decision on wage rates.

Approximately 650 employees of the National Malleable and Steel Castings Company of Chicago were to return to work today. But 1,100 workers at the R. R. Donnelley & Sons Printing Company were still idle.

There were no prospects for termination of a widespread strike affecting 15,000 glass workers in 10 cities. They include 8,000 from six Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plants and 7,000 from four Libbey - Owens - Ford Company plants.

More than 400 bus drivers and mechanics of the Tri-state Transit Company of Louisiana continued their two week strike which has affected some 60,000 passengers in nine states. The strikers, who left their jobs in a dispute over wage rates and other grievances, studied a WLB agreement to appoint a national panel to consider their problem if the walkout is ended.

Other strike situations which continued unchanged included: Stoppage of work by 40 printers of the Jersey City, N. J., Journal and by 18 at the Bayonne, N. Y., Times; walkouts of 1,000 workers at the Acklin Stamping Company and the Mather Spring Co., Toledo, Ohio; 1,000 at the Anchor Hocking Glass Co., Connelville, Pa.; 500 at the Houdaille-Hershey Co., Decatur, Ill. Twentyseven hundred workers at the Carter Carburetor Company, St. Louis, Mo., voted to return to work today.

'CHUTE' TROOPS JOIN BIG FIGHT (Continued From Page One) Philippines, with 9,238 killed and 1,483 taken prisoner. The prisoners were mostly Formosan conscripts, however.

This raised the Japanese casualties for the entire Philippines campaign to 413,084. American casualties for the past week were placed at 223 killed and 589 wounded.

Both for the Japanese and the Americans, heaviest casualties during the week were on Luzon, where the Japanese lost 7,711 dead and 1,399 captured against 148 Americans killed and 294 wounded.

Hamilton W. Faron, Associated Press Correspondent who witnessed the airborne landing near Aparri, reported that the operation went off with the precision of a practice maneuver.

The parachutists had cleared out of their transports and hit the ground within a breathtaking 120 seconds. Ten minutes after the jumps, gliders slid gracefully to rest in the fields of grass three to five feet high. The grass concealed some rough hillocks and bomb craters on the landing ground, which was near the disused Japanese airfield of Canalanigan.

Fifth Air Force fighter bombers supported the airborne operation with more than 300 sorties, while torpedo boats offshore strafed Gonzaga, 20 miles east of Aparri. With these strong reinforcements for the guerrillas at the north end of the valley, and with the guerrillas themselves holding the trails leading into the wild mountains

16 TARGETS HIT BY U. S. BOMBERS (Continued From Page One) Forces and RAF under MacArthur's command lashed the Japanese along a 2,000-mile arc of the South China Sea on Friday; fighters of the Seventh Air Force, of Marine Air Wings and the U. S. Pacific Fleet under Nimitz hit them over a 3,000-mile stretch from the Sakishimas Northeast of Formosa to the Kuriles in the north.

MacArthur's planes wrecked 40 river boats in the channel between Hong Kong and Canton; sank two coastal ships at Haiten in the Gulf of Siam and left a freighter listing and afire south of Hong Kong. Nimitz' planes blew up a cargo ship in Japanese home waters.

The planes of the Philippines command alone heaped 600 tons of bombs on the Japanese in the Philippines. Formosa and Borneo and at least another 400 were dropped by other planes.

A fleet of 90 Lightning fighters and 30 Liberator bombers dropped 197 tons of bombs on oil storage areas, refineries and a butanol plant at Toshien, Heito and Mato in Western Formosa. Flames leaping 2,000 feet into the sky were seen.

More than 150 heavy, medium and fighter bombers of all three Philippines-commanded air forces blasted Balikpapan, in Eastern Borneo, with 200 tons while other planes blasted Japanese positions on Luzon and Mindanao with 263 tons.

that flank the valley, the Japanese were confronting liquidation in the very area where they made their first invasion of the Philippines on Dec. 10, 1941. They invaded at Aparri. Some heavy fighting still was under way in the Luzon mountain provinces west of the Cagayan valley, however. The U. S. Sixth Infantry division, driving on the enemy stronghold of Kiangan, fought off a strong enemy counterattack northwest of the Payawan rest house Thursday night and Friday morning.

Since June 16, the Sixth Division column has killed an average of 150 Japanese daily in its advance along the hairpin turns of highway No. 4, where dense forests, bamboo thickets and steep cliffs offer perfect defensive positions or the enemy.

JAYCEES SEEKING USED STATIONERY

Plans for the Wilmington Junior Chamber of Commerce's sixth scrap paper drive were reported well underway last night, as Johnson, campaign chairman, disclosed that the club is hoping to complete its biggest local collection July 8.

Johnson explained that the proceeds of the drive will go towards the club's external activities program for this year. A plan for saving and bundling such odd scraps of paper as envelopes, labels and other small pieces usually thrown away, was explained by the campaign chairman.

By lining a cardboard box with newspapers, with the string bindings underneath and fastened to slots on the outside of the box to hold them in place, the scrap paper may be dropped into the newspaper linings and packed tightly before tying.

After the bundle is bound and removed from the box, the box may be used to pack a second bundle. Other members of the committees for the campaign were announced as follows:

Personnel, Ed Ward, Bob Carr and Mat Herring; trucks, Gerald Stokley, Clarence King and Jimmie Sloane; routing, Carl Babson and O. A. Wallace; publicity, Jimmy Simmons, Julius Berger, George Willard and Lloyd Dunn; handling, Jack Lee and Jack Harselton.

Johnson pointed out last night that truck routes were being planned to take in as much of the surrounding territory of Wilmington as the club's equipment permits. Residents have been urged to place their bundles of scrap paper on the curb in front of their homes by 1 p. m., July 8. Complete truck routes will be published as soon as they are announced.

Approximately 500 major league ball players were in the armed forces on Jan. 1, 1945.
