Newspaper Guild Plans New St. Louis Newspaper

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—Milton Murray, president of the American Newspaper Guild, said yesterday that there is "a very good possibility that a new newspaper will be established in St. Louis, where residents have been without newspapers since the carriers walked out August 16.

"Our men in St. Louis have been working on it," he said, "and there is a good chance that a daily of about 100,000 circulation will be established to serve the community unless the lockout ends."

At the same time Murray revealed a telegram he sent to J. A. Krug, chairman of the War Production board, asking that the WPB printing and publishing division make available "an adequate supply of print paper for any group or individual who desires to provide a news publication for the citizens of the St. Louis area."

NAZIS GAVE JAPS TECHNICAL DATA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—The Germans laid open much of their technical knowledge to Japan, in an attempt to keep the United States "as busy as possible in the Pacific," Secretary of Navy James Forrestal disclosed today.

Unveiling new information on German scientific achievements before V-E day, Forrestal said the Nazis sent plans and information about war developments to the Japs by submarine. Often they sent technicians along to help the Japanese copy their developments.

Forrestal revealed that German scientists had already succeeded in using hydrogen peroxide, a seemingly innocuous anti-septic, as fuel before the Allies won the war in Europe.

They first used peroxide in launching devices for V-1 rockets and in auxiliary pumps for the V-2s, Forrestal said. Later the German navy turned the new fuel to naval uses "with what looked like surprisingly good results," he added.

Forrestal also revealed that the Germans had been working on a "true" submarine which would almost operate entirely under water. Present submarines must spend much of their time at sea on the surface.

Forrestal said the Nazis, by means of a "Schornkrl" breather-pope, had been able to develop a U-boat which could spend long periods beneath the surface.

He said the Germans also had developed a new submarine which they called "Model 21," capable of traveling underwater at 18 knots, a speed much faster than heretofore attained by any underwater craft.

ONLY ONE KURILE ISLAND TO TAKE

By BRUCE W. MUNN

United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—Soviet Russia today completed occupation of all but one of the Kuriles Island barrier between the Pacific and the Sea of Okhotsk, taking Etorofu, 80 miles northeast of the Japanese home island of Hokkaido, while Siberian troops stood poised on the southern tip of Sakhalin Island, 24 miles from Hokkaido.

The Soviet communique, broadcast by Moscow Radio, said troops from Kamchatka operating with the Russian Pacific Fleet moved into Etorofu and the two isles of Uruppu of Kunashiri stands between the Soviet amphibious forces and Hokkaido.

Russian prisoner of war cages were swollen with an additional 36,000 Japanese officers and men, the communique said, for a total bag of 474,000, approximately half of the total strength of Japan's Manchurian armies when Russia attacked Aug. 9.

The communique announced the complete occupation of Sakhalin, previously revealed by the Soviet Radio at Khabarovsk, which urged the troops standing on the shores of Soya Strait, 24 miles from Hokkaido, to prepare for "tasks ahead."

The broadcasts mentioned no plans for landings on Hokkaido but did indicate the Far Eastern Armies had not yet finished their work.

Tokyo Radio said Japanese and Soviet commanders had reached an agreement to cease hostilities at the Western shore port of Haihoro at 9 a.m. Saturday. Russia did not confirm this but Khabarovsk Radio announced Soviet forces had "accomplished their task of liberating the Southern part of the island."

However, Khabarovsk, referring to "tasks ahead," urged the Russian troops to obey the orders of their commanders and carry out their military duties to the very last. The broadcast warned of Japanese spies in the Soviet rear and cautioned the troops to "show no magnanimity to the enemy."

Other Khabarovsk broadcasts indicated Russia expected Korea to lean toward the Soviet Union.

"The Korean people know that the Red Army has liberated the Korean people from the Japanese yoke," one broadcast said. "The Korean people who have welcomed the Red Army with open arms are looking forward to a continuation and strengthening of a new friendship."

Another broadcast expressed belief that Korea will look for "ties of close friendship with the Soviet Union."

Korea has been divided into two zones of occupation marked by the

Post-Surgery Patients Get Well Under New Plan

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—A rapid-recovery treatment after surgery has been studied at the University of Illinois College of Medicine, utilizing liver function tests and other chemical and physical data to determine rate of convalescence.

Hernia patients, who normally are not allowed out of bed for 10 days, are getting up the day after their operations. They walk all around the hospital wards in less than six days. They are ready to go home on their sixth postoperative day, but are usually kept longer for study.

One recent patient was out and drove his car six days after his operation.

Exercise, food and certain supplements both before and after the operation, make the difference in recovery time.

The treatment was tried first on hernia patients because that operation is standardized. If the treatment works well at one place it probably can be repeated generally. The next step is to extend the treatment gradually to other types of surgical operations. Gall-bladder patients may be the next as that, too, is a standardized surgical procedure.

The new treatment was developed as part of a war medicine project in the department of internal medicine and surgery by Drs. Robert Keeton, W. H. Cole, H. H. Mitchell, N. O. Calloway and Mr. N. Glickman.

In the beginning of this project a study was made of the damage done to the body by a surgical operation and by the anesthetic.

WALLACE, OTHERS AIR JOB VIEWS

By Ann HICKS

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—The secretary of commerce, the president of the National Association of manufacturers and two labor leaders were summoned today to give their views on the administration's "joos-for-all" bill.

The Senate Banking committee is going into its second week of hearings on the measure, designed to set up machinery for government planning against depressions and unemployment.

Commerce Secretary Henry Wallace, champion of "the common man," is slated to talk first. Following him is NAM head Ira Mosher.

Chairman Robert F. Wagner, D., N. Y., is saving the two labor leaders for the afternoon session. President William Green of the American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis, Shakers' vice-quoting chief of the United Mine Workers, Lewis will in his bid to testify only yesterday.

CIO President Philip Murray already has a demanded passage of the full-employment bill in time for President Truman to submit the first "national production and employment budget" to congress next January.

In addition Murray asked quick action on legislation to make unemployment compensation of $25 a week available in all 48 states during reconversion. He said the minimum wage should be upped from 40 to 65 cents an hour and urged passage of an expanded social security bill which would put 15 million more persons under social security and set up a health insurance system.

NATION'S STRIKE TOTAL IS 50,000

(By The Associated Press)
The nation's strike total, including many idled in long standing disputes, touched around the 50,000 mark yesterday, a new high for the last several days.

The bulk of the workers off their jobs were involved in disputes at plants and business which broke out before Japan's surrender over two weeks ago. There have been many small strikes and walkouts since, but most of them were quickly settled.

The Detroit area, which was the hardest section hit by work stoppages in wartime, reported a series of labor disputes Monday which kept idle some 10,500. One of the newest walkouts involved 1,500 at four Gar Wood Industries, Inc., plants, but spokesmen for UAW-CIO Local 250 said that seniority grievances of the employees had been settled and that production would be resumed yesterday.

Another new dispute in the motor city kept 500 off their jobs at the Murray Corporation of America.

The biggest single stoppage in the Detroit area was at the Kelsey Hayes Wheel Co., where 4,500 were idle, while 1,500 workers at the Ford Motor Co. Rouge plant were set home Monday night after the Kelsey-Hayes strike halted the flow of wheels and brake drums to the plant.

The largest of the new disputes was in Savannah, Ga., where about 3,000 employees of the Savannah Machine and Foundry company were idled in a dispute which union leaders said stemmed from proposed reinstatement of a pre-war contract provision for double time for overtime.

A sitdown strike of 5,000 employees at the Campbell Soup company plant in Camden, N. J., ended Monday night after one day when the firm agreed to a three-cent-an-hour wage increase retroactive to March 1.

A week-long stoppage at the Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Co. at Birmingham, Ala., also ended Monday night, enabling some 1,900 workers to go back to their jobs.

Electricity Is Waiting To Bring Water To The Farm Kitchen

Pumping or drawing water from the well is a never finished task on the farm. It takes more of the rural wife's time and energy than any other single chore. The Tide Water Power Company has ready a postwar program of expansion that will bring electricity to thousands of rural customers.

This is just one of the jobs that Reddy Kilowatt will take away from the farm housewife, along with many others—saving time and back-breaking drudgery.

Plan now to keep for this purpose some of the War Bonds with which you are helping to win the war and hurry our boys home.
