CONFIRM REPORTS NAGASAKI, Sept. 10.—(AP)—

A Dutch Army doctor today confirmed Japanese reports that burn victims in the atomic bombing raid on Nagasaki died days after being discharged from hospitals as recovered.

(Radio Tokyo said a medical research party from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters took 12 tons of medical supplies to Hiroshima, first target of the atomic bomb, for distribution among the victims.)

The doctor, Capt. Jacob Vink, was confined with 200 other Dutch, Australian and British prisoners in a camp near the center of Nagasaki when the world's second atomic bomb burst over the city a month ago yesterday.

Four of the prisoners were killed instantly, four others died later and 42 were injured. The camp, across the street from the great Mitsubishi steel works, was demolished. No Americans were in the camp.

56, 000-Mile Cars Placed In Average Auto Class

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—(AP)—If your automobile has been driven 56,000 miles it's an average vehicle.

That's the finding of R. L. Polk and Company, statistician for the automobile industry, reporting on a survey of car registrations. The report showed that six million of the 24,000,000 cars still operating are 10 years old or more.

The average age of all cars still on the road was placed at nearly eight years. Vehicles nearest the junk pile, according to Polk, are largely in the central west; those farthest from the scrap heap are chiefly in the mid-Atlantic states.

The major industry with the highest accidental death toll in 1944 was farming.

BOMBED CITY NOW PATCH OF RUBBLE

NAGASAKI, Japan, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The second and last atomic bomb dropped by the Americans turned half of this city of 250,000 population into a desert of rubble.

I am one of a party of Americans on a first visit to this former manufacturing center. Of this city, comparable in size to San Antonio Tex., or Providence, R. I., nothing remains in the three-mile-long and two-mile-wide business district except debris.

The havoc caused by the atomic bomb dropped on Nagasaki Aug. 9 was much greater than the first dropped on Hiroshima three days earlier, and it is now clear what the War department meant when it announced that the first atomic bomb was already obsolete.

Not even the canyons and hills protecting sections of this city were able to save buildings and people from the desolating blast.

The smell of death still is heavy over the city and smoke rises from fires started a month ago by the single bomb.

Authorities in Nagasaki now estimate that 28,000 persons have died, 40,000 were wounded and that 10 to 20 victims are dying daily. The Japanese officials said they expected the total to climb as high as 40,000 dead.

The spot where the bomb exploded, an area half a mile square was swept almost clean. A mile across the valley from the bomb center houses were pushed out of line and lean drunkenly along the street.

There was no crater, and, contrary to previous reports, Japanese in Nagasaki said the bomb exploded about 1,500 feet above the ground.

Twisted steel ribs of the huge Mitsubishi steel works, nearly a mile from the center of the explosion, are bent away from the direction of the blast.

Nearly every building in the industrial half of the city was wiped out in the explosion. Large areas of trees were burned from surrounding hills which are now bare and brown.

INFECTED BLOOD GIVEN TO FLIERS

SYDNEY, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Seven American airmen, rescued by Americans after their captors gave them injections of infected Japanese blood.

Sgt. Escoe Palmer of Gainesville, Ga., who was shot down in a Liberator over Rabaul in March, 1944, said that Japanese doctors gave him an injection of malaria infected sheep's blood but that he only broke out with a rash.

When the Japanese learned of the surrender, Sgt. Palmer said they began shoving candy into his hands and whiskey down his throat. "I had to smile," he said, "when I remembered how they used to beat me for not sitting up straight in the 'Japanese' fashion."

First Lt. James A. McMurria of Columbus, Ga., a Liberator pilot of the Fifth Airforce, was shot down near Wewak in January, 1943. He said that when the Americans began to bomb Rabaul—where he had been taken by the Japanese—the enemy moved 64 prisoners into the mountains and 40 were taken to a nearby island.

Later the Japanese claimed that all those removed to the island had been killed by Allied air raids. Of those taken into the mountains, only five survived—the other died of disease and starvation.

The names of the other five Americans rescued airmen were not available.

SAYS SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE:

Despite Victory Used Fat Saving Must Go On!

Every woman in America should know that our country continues to face a serious fat shortage. And victory over Japan won't solve the problem immediately. We must keep on saving used fats in our kitchens!

If you have any thought that saving used fats is one of those wartime chores we can drop, now that Victory is here, please consider these facts and tell them to your neighbors.

Don't let a single drop of used fats go to waste! Little trimmings of fat left on the platter at the table, scraps left on plates, and even the skimmings of soups and gravies are important. It is the consistent saving of even these small amounts that counts.

Don't turn in fats that can be re-used! But some fats, such as those rendered from lamb and mutton, are not suitable for re-use. Put them immediately in the salvage can. And, with other fats, after you've got all cooking good out of them, there is always a little left. No matter how little it is, save it.

Your butcher will still give you 4¢ and 2 red points for every pound you turn in. Save consistently—save every drop you can—every day—until Uncle Sam says the job is done.
