THREE ARMY MEN GIVEN TEN YEARS

By HAZEL HARTZOG (United Press Staff Correspondent)
TOKYO, Oct. 3.—Three U. S. Army sergeants today were sentenced to 10 years at hard labor and dishonorable discharge for the slaying of a Japanese civilian and his son after a wild "sake party" in the home of the Japanese.

Convicted of manslaughter by a general court martial were Sgt. Ray J. Oroark, 25, Los Angeles and formerly of Kansas City; S-Sgt. Sherman E. Huffmann, 19, Pittsfield, Ill., and Sgt. John Nimits, 24, Wilmore, Pa.

The men, recently transferred to the famed First Cavalry Division, were charged with first degree murder—the first against a member of the American Occupation Force since the Japanese surrender—but the court found them guilty of manslaughter after two days of testimony.

Japanese witnesses, civil authorities and occupational officials appeared on the stand to testify concerning the death of Katsuzi Tanaka and his 16-year-old son, Osamu, who apparently had invited the three soldiers into their home in Yokohama for a drinking party after the trio went AWOL from their camp at Keio University, near Yokohama.

The findings of the court martial, headed by Trial Judge Capt. Anthony Constantino, Dunkirk, N. Y., are subject to review by the Division Judge Advocate, Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, of Providence, R. I., the division commander, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Chase said today the men had been given the fairest trial possible. He said he had been ordered to insure an orderly occupation and to see that any infractions were stamped out ruthlessly.

Neighbors of the Tanakas said they saw the soldiers running toward a railway station on the night of Sept. 16 about two hours after they entered the home. Tanaka's body was found in the kitchen—he had been beaten and shot. His son, a bullet in his back, was found on the sidewalk outside, apparently shot while running for help.

Witnesses said Oroark and Huffmann then commandeered a train at gunpoint from a Japanese station master to carry them back to camp. Nimits hid in bushes near the Tanaka residence all night and surrendered the next day.

None of the defendants took the stand. Defense Attorney Capt. Herbert B. Brill, former New York lawyer, based his case on the contention the prosecution's evidence was circumstantial and quoted the three sergeants as telling investigators the Japanese had attacked them from behind.

Huffmann lost a finger from a gunshot wound. Lt. Philip Matthews, Bridgehampton, N. Y., division judge advocate, said the younger Tanaka apparently had returned the soldiers' shot while running for help.

Officials disclosed that Oroark previously had been dishonorably discharged from the 7th Corps and was a parolee from the Federal Penitentiary at El Reno, Okla.

financial, to solve which it is indispensable to create an Allied organ whereby all Allied powers that played a decisive part in the destruction for Japan could carry out its policy and bear analogous responsibilities.

Moscow said the letter had been delivered to Byrnes on Monday. In a press conference today, however, Molotov declared that the subject did not appear on the agenda of the five-power Foreign Ministers' Council before it adjourned.

"Unfortunately the Council did not discuss the question of an Allied Control Commission for Japan," Molotov said as he prepared to re-last week's "Who's Who" roundup that jailed several hundred leading Argentines. Most, including Laurencena, have now been released. Two educators still held were expected out today.

(A Montevideo dispatch quoted the Argentine radical leader, Santiago Nudelman, who fled Argentina, as saying the military government's Secret Police had a list of 500 opposition leaders who were not to be permitted to leave the country.)

The Buenos Aires university siege produced one minor clash today outside the law school, as police stopped friends trying to carry food to students, but nothing so serious as last night's incident at the engineering school when pro-government civilians attacked some 100 girls inside with bullets and rocks.

When faculties and students of the universities protested the State of Siege and the wave of arrests, President Farrell told them, in effect, to stay out of politics or have their schools closed.

Students occupation of the Buenos Aires building and the nationwide strike followed.

U. S. TAKES SLAP AT FARRELL REGIME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(P)—The United States led the Western Hemisphere today in delivering a new diplomatic slap at the military clique which is governing Argentina.

In touch language, this government told its good neighbors to the south that the present Argentine regime was a bad neighbor, and recommended:

1. That the Inter-American conference scheduled to open October 20 at Rio De Janeiro—with Argentina participating—be postponed.
2. That the other American republics proceed without Argentina to draft a hemisphere defense treaty—the object of the Rio conference—and to sign it at the Brazilian capital "at the earliest possible moment."
3. That the other American republic carry on consultations in respect to the Argentine situation.

Reaction from south of the border was immediate. A dispatch from Brazil said the conference had been postponed. It was also learned there that President Getulio Vargas had abruptly postponed a scheduled visit October 12 with General Edelmir Farrell, president of the Argentine regime.

A few of the Jap captors interceded for the prisoners and religious worship was carried on, Mr. Junkin said.

Shortly before the arrival of Americans in the islands, the prisoners from Baguio were moved to Bilibid prison in Manila in late 1944 and were finally liberated from that place.

The Rev. Mr. Junkin is scheduled to speak at Tilestone school Friday morning and Emmanuel Presbyterian church Friday evening.

DARNAND SENTENCED TO DEATH BY FRENCH COURT OF JUSTICE

PARIS, Oct. 3. — (U.P.) — Joseph Darnand, who founded the dread Vichy militia and became the "most hated man in France" was condemned to death by a high court of justice in a one-day trial today.

Pierre Mongibeaux, president of the High Court, announced at the opening of Darnand's trial that the trial of Pierre Laval would begin tomorrow.

Darnand, whose militia tortured to death members of the French resistance movement, also was sentenced to national degradation, confiscation of his property and renunciation of his decorations — the Legion of Honor and the Military Medal.

A few minutes later, however, he was smiling and chatting with his lawyers through whom he is expected to appeal to Gen. Charles DeGaulle who alone has the right to commute sentences of the High Court.
