

Sisson-Moore Wedding Solemnized At St. Andrews-Covenant Church

Ceremony Performed Thursday Evening Followed By Reception At Club

St. Andrews-Covenant Presbyterian church, 15th and Market streets, was the scene, Thursday evening at 6 o'clock of one of the loveliest weddings of the winter season when Miss Alice Borden Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Moore, of Wilmington, became the bride of William E. Sisson, of Wilmington, son of Mrs. Mary C. Deal, of Spotsylvania, Va., and Col. Roy Deal, of Washington, D. C.

The church was banked in palms and candelabra ferns against which were used four standing candelabra holding tall burning tapers centered with a graceful arrangement of calla lilies.

While the guests were assembling and during the ceremony a program of wedding music was rendered by Miss Agnes Chasten, organist, and Arthur John, soloist. Among the selections rendered were Clair de Lune, Debussy, Schubert's Ave Maria, Evening Star from Tannhauser and the traditional professional and recessional. Mr. John sang "I Love Thee," by Grieg and "O Perfect Love."

The Rev. J. F. Herbert of Madison, N. J., former pastor of Grace Methodist church in Wilmington, performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Eugene Witherspoon, pastor of St. Andrews-Covenant.

The bride was attended by Mrs. E. Lawrence Lee, Jr., of Huntsville, Ala., formerly of Wilmington, her cousin, as matron-of-honor; Miss Jane Dewey of Miami, Fla., as maid-of-honor, and Mrs. John O. Dunn, of Wilmington, and the sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Emmet Colbert of Fredericksburg, Va., were bridesmaids.

They all wore identical gowns of green and bronze tulle over yellow tulle with white and pink tulle necklines, fitted bodices, full skirts and short sleeves. They wore head arrangements of yellow ostrich plumes and carried arm bouquets of yellow daffodils tied with yellow ribbon. First to enter the church were the two bridesmaids who entered together followed by the maid-of-honor then the matron-of-honor who entered just prior to the bride.

The bride, who entered the church with her father by whom she was given in marriage, wore a lovely gown of heavy white satin and net modelled with fitted satin bodice and full skirt with an over-skirt of net forming a train. The sweetheart neckline was edged with net and the sleeves were long and fitted. Her veil of bridal illusion fell gracefully from a coronet of orange blossoms and draped over the train of the gown. She carried a bouquet of white orchids centered with white lilies. Her only ornament was a platinum and diamond necklace, a gift of the bride's father to her mother on their wedding day.

Mr. Sisson had as his best man Carter Schaub of Apex, and his groomsmen were Capt. E. Lawrence Lee, Jr., of Huntsville, Ala., formerly of Wilmington, Ensign George Via, Major George Bethel, Maurice H. Moore, George Lynch, Jr., and Whit T. Benton, Jr.

Mrs. Moore, mother of the bride, wore a lovely gown of pale blue crepe trimmed with jewel pocket and caught at the side with a soft draped skirt. She wore matching blue and fuchsia feathers in her hair and a corsage of orchids.

Immediately following the wedding a brilliant reception was held at the Cape Fear Country club. The ballroom was beautifully decorated with native greenery and white flowers and the bride's table, laid with an exquisite lace cloth, held at one end the three-tiered wedding cake and was centered with a beautiful floral arrangement of white carnations, snapdragons and roses.

Tea Sandwiches-Easy As Pie!

BY CHARLOTTE ADAMS Associated Press Food Editor
If you're going to have some ladies in for tea, you can prepare the sandwiches well in advance, and they will taste even better if properly refrigerated.
First buy a pound-and-a-half loaf of unsliced white sandwich bread and another of whole wheat. To prepare bread:
1. Remove top crust from each loaf. Reserve for bread-crumbs.
2. Using a sharp knife, slice bread lengthwise in one-quarter inch slices.
3. Remove side and bottom crusts from slices, and reserve for bread-crumbs.
4. Place damp towel on rectangular tray and cover with waxed paper. Place slices of bread on this. Cover with towel. Let stand while fillings are being prepared.

1 tablespoon grated horse-radish. 1-8 teaspoon salt. 1-4 teaspoon onion juice. Add horseradish to cream cheese and mix until light and fluffy. Add parsley, salt and onion juice and mix until well blended.
Devilled Ham Filling: 1-3 ounce jar devilled ham. 2 tablespoons real mayonnaise. Mix devilled ham and mayonnaise together. Spread slices of bread with butter or margarine. Spread one slice of white bread with cream cheese filling. Put whole wheat slice on top of this, butter side down. Spread top of slice with butter or margarine and then with devilled ham filling. Top with remaining white slice, butter side down. Wrap in waxed paper, sealing ends.
For triangles, use about two-thirds of completed sandwich. Slice crosswise into four sections, then cut each section in half lengthwise, forming eight squares. Cut each square diagonally to make triangles. For bars, cut remaining one-third of completed sandwich crosswise into eight sections, then cut each section in half.
Olive Butter - Cream Cheese Rolls: 1 - 3 ounce package cream cheese. 2 longwise slices enriched bread. 1 lengthwise slice whole wheat bread. 3-12 tablespoons softened butter or fortified margarine. Cream Cheese Filling: 1 - 3 ounce package cream cheese.

1 - 3 ounce package cream cheese. 1-4 cup olive butter. 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. 20 medium sized stuffed olives. 1 lengthwise slice whole wheat bread. 1 lengthwise slice white bread. Mix cream cheese and olive butter. Spread each slice of bread with softened butter or margarine, then with mixture. Cut each slice of bread in half. Place a row of olives across width of each half slice bread, pressing olives firmly together end to end. Roll each half slice as for jelly roll, starting at olive end, being careful to keep first turn firm and olives in place. Wrap each roll in waxed paper. (When chilling, place each wrapped roll on tray in such a way that the roll rests on last turn of bread.) To serve: Unwrap, and cut each roll into six slices.
Chicken Sandwiches: 2 lengthwise slices white wheat bread. 2 lengthwise slices whole wheat bread. 1-4 cup butter or fortified margarine, softened. 1-4 cups ground cooked chicken. 1-2 cup real mayonnaise. 2 teaspoons chopped parsley. Dash of pepper. Dash of curry powder. Mix together chicken, mayonnaise, parsley, pepper, curry powder and salt. Spread each lengthwise slice of bread with butter or margarine. For chicken rolls, spread two slices of bread with two-thirds of chicken mixture (one whole wheat slice and one white). Cut each lengthwise slice into four sections. Roll each section up tightly as for jelly roll. Wrap each roll in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator, with roll resting on last turn of bread. To serve cut each roll in half. Garnish rolls by tucking a sprig of parsley or watercress into one end of each.

★ We, The Women

A Stern Wife Is Heading for Rocks

By RUTH MILLETT

Ruth Millett down" is the wrong response for the wife whose husband comes back from war determined to keep some of the independence of the "bachelor" existence he knew as a soldier.

A woman can make scenes over her husband's desire to go out with the boys occasionally, but she is playing with dynamite, it is likely to blow up her marriage.

QUARREL ISN'T SOLUTION

However much she resents his determination to keep some of his freedom, quarreling about the subject is the wrong approach. She has a perfect right to tell him quietly and calmly how she feels about the matter and what it means to her—but if he still insists on his right to leave her at home while he goes out to play with his pals she would be smart to let him have all the freedom he wants.

If she lets him plan some of his evenings alone without any protest and quietly makes her own plans to spend such evenings with friends there is a good chance that he will soon get over wanting to go out without her.

After all, his determination to go out with the boys may be just a protest against too suddenly being pushed back into a social pattern where the wife makes all the plans for entertainment and his wishes aren't even consulted.

IT'S A BAD HABIT.

American wives have a bad habit of planning their own and their husband's evenings to suit themselves. Otherwise there wouldn't be so much bridge playing with the neighbors and so many invitations extended just to pay back so-and-so, who is dull but who "had us to her house last week."

Going back to that kind of set-up is bound to be hard on many men who have been planning their own evenings for several years.

So if a wife wants to save her marriage she had better let a man who wants a little freedom have it. Chances are he won't be too anxious to use it, once he is sure it is his. And even if he does, that shouldn't spoil a marriage. There is nothing in the marriage contract that says a husband and wife must spend every evening of their lives together. Women just assume that it is the only pattern for a happy marriage.
