The evolution of radio will always remain a bright page in the history books of science. And the record has been significantly brilliant during the past four years when improvements and developments were advanced at a faster rate than normal.

To the average listener, whose set is in many cases held together by "spit and by gorry", the thought of being able to purchase any kind of a set comes like manna from the production line. But the hope that FM might be on the shelves of the dealers seems almost too good to be true.

However there are many who still say "what the heck is FM anyway and how does it differ from the present AM broadcasting?" Space limitation forbids a complete technical description and who really wants that anyhow—so briefly here is the way it operates.

en into the mike. An example of the difference between FM and AM (common method of broadcasting) can be found in the tones of a violin. With FM the listener will hear the full high as well as the low notes which are missing from the broadcasts coming out of the average radio today.

THE LISTENING POST

If all C. H. McAllister's, safety director Tide Water Power Co., new gadgets work, he will be able to give radio-minded beginners a course in "six easy lessons in frequencies" . . . Victor Borge, the unmelancholy Dane and maestro of piano and comedy, will guest the Quiz Kids program next Sunday.
