Business Women's Club Will Meet Friday Evening

Miss Nancy Pruden, District Director From Wilson, Will Be Speaker

Miss Nancy Pruden, of Wilson, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Wilmington Business and Professional Women's club, Inc. to be held Friday night, February 1, at 6 o'clock, in the Friendly dining room, with Ruth Humphrey, president, presiding. Miss Pruden is district director of the Sixty district of the Federation of Business and Professional Clubs, of which the local club is a member. She will speak on the theme of the month, entitled "We Surrender Our Amateur Standing."

Bernice Bjonerud, program chairman, and co-chairman of the Educational and Vocational Committee, is in charge of this program. The club urges all members to attend this special meeting. Members of the Business and Professional Women's club who are residing in Wilmington and who have not transferred their membership to the local club and who are interested in attending meetings are asked to contact Ruth Humphrey, at telephones (night) 5538 or 7741 in the day. Meetings are held the first Friday of each month in the Friendly clubroom on Chestnut street.

STARLING DEFENDER
INDIANAPOLIS, (UP)—Indiana Entomologist Frank N. Wallace maintains that starlings are valuable birds—despite their noise and mess. And believes they may become known as song birds. The birds are particularly expert at exterminating cutworms, Wallace said.

What's Cooking

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

Chowder Main Dish
Broiled Grapefruit

Oyster and Mushroom Chowder
Mixed Vegetable Salad
Cheese and Crackers
Individual Cup Cakes (Recipes serve four)

Oyster and Mushroom Chowder
1 quart oysters
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
Salt
Pepper
Paprika
1 cup light cream or evaporated milk
1-2 pound mushrooms
1 small onion, minced

Pick over the oysters. Strain the liquor and heat both together just below the boiling point until the edges of the oysters curl. Drain and reserve the liquor. Make a thin white sauce with the flour, milk and half the butter or margarine. Season, add the cream or evaporated milk. Wash, drain, chop and cook the mushrooms with the onion in the remaining butter or margarine for ten minutes. Combine with sauce. Add oyster liquor and oysters. Bring almost to boiling point and serve very hot.

JUST A TEMPORARY CAPITOL EMPLOYEE? RALEIGH—(P)—A woman walking towards the capitol sought information from a middle-aged man. "Thank you," said the woman. "It occurs to me now that I have seen you around the capitol. Do you work in that neighborhood?" "Yes, I have been working at the capitol since January, 1945," he said. He was R. Gregg Cherry, governor of North Carolina.

Teen-Age Tattler

BY CYNTHIA JOHNSON

It's time for more news from me again so here goes!

It seems as if I omitted a few incidentals in the Sunday write-up of the senior girls Hi-Y hayride. The most important thing was that the social chairman who was in charge of the refreshments remembered everything necessary to make a weener-roast a success except of course weenies! I won't mention the poor soul's name but I'll just say that I really was embarrassed! All during the night Mr. Caudill sneaked up on people and took unposed pictures with his trusty little flashbulb camera. They say that the pictures will come out in the Wildcat and the Annual but I shoo' hope not! It's not that they were scandalous but well Sara Williams' face doesn't resemble a Kleenex and that's what it will look like cause she had just started to blow her nose as Mr. Caudill shot her—with the camera of course.

The poor junior boys came along and unable to build their own fire the girls vacated the southern extension leaving the fire for them and started homeward. Unknowingly Kathryn Kester and Perry James strolled on the beach as the rest of us climbed aboard the truck and left. They had to hitch-hike home!

Many more boys in the service are home now and are welcomed faces in the crowd. Harry Williams is home for thirty days after signing over in the Army for a year. Harry Smith is also here after being aboard a hospital ship in California. He was a member of the ATC and is home for an indefinite period of time. Welcome back Harry!

If you happened to see students staggering from their classes yesterday as if they had received the news that the world was coming to an end I know the reason. And the world might as well have come to an end as far as some were concerned. Report cards were given out and on them the grades of the mid-term exams were visible. Right there in plain sight for Mother or Dad to see when they signed the cards! Oh well! You didn't "specially want to go to that out-of-town basketball game with Rocky Mount this week-end did you?"

The fleet's in and along with it came our boys from NHHS who are in the Navy. Thomas and Charlie Jones and Wayne Troutman (much to the joy of Mary Ann Jenkins).

The gym will be the scene of the annual Wildcat dance this Friday night. Be sure to get out your old clothes and look your worst so you will stand a chance for the prize for the tackiest person there. But of course all of those boys mentioned previously will only have to wear their school clothes and they will be dressed for the occasion.
