Cape Fear Garden Club Holds Meet, Mrs. J. S. Fisher Addresses Session

The February meeting of the Cape Fear Garden Club was held yesterday morning in St. James Great Hall with Mrs. J. Henry Gerdes, president, presiding.

During the brief business period which was opened with a prayer by Dr. Edwin F. Keever, routine matters were discussed and plans for the garden pilgrimage to be held throughout North Carolina during the late spring were made. Mrs. Dan Penton and Mrs. Cyrus D. Hogue, vice-presidents of the club, were named as chairmen in charge of the local pilgrimage. Even though many gardens are not as beautiful as they were prior to the war during which time less care was given them, there are still many lovely spots in and around Wilmington and surrounding counties that can be visited by garden lovers.

Mrs. Cyrus D. Hogue, who was in charge of the local sale of dogwood trees during Dogwood Week, stated that all supplies were completely sold out but many more will be available to those desiring to plant the trees again next year.

Mrs. Gerdes announced that a state garden school would be conducted on March 26-28 in Raleigh at State college, with special courses being held in connection with flower show judging. Credit will be given to those taking these courses, although an interested person must attend the three-day course in order to receive credit. Mrs. Gerdes also announced the annual state garden club convention to be held this year on April 29-30 at Southern Pines with headquarters being at the Pine Needles hotel; Mrs. Gerdes with three other delegates will attend this session.

The subject for the March meeting has been changed and will be on camellias and azaleas with the following meeting to hold a special program on beach and seaside arrangements and planting.

Speaker of the morning was Mrs. J. S. Fisher, of Williamsburg, Va., who is in charge of all flower and fruit arrangements at Williamsburg foundation. Mrs. Fisher spoke briefly on the flowers used in Virginia during the 18th century and told of the many difficulties a gardener had in obtaining his or her seeds and plants from foreign countries to use in their gardens. She stated that the present day gardener or arranger of flower exhibits had little to go by in planning arrangements of the 18th century other than a few prints. Flowers for Williamsburg foundation are selected by the type room in which they are to be placed and by the color scheme of that room. She spoke of the special cutting gardens now at Williamsburg and of the many lovely native flowers, shrubs and grasses that can be dried and used in

Teen-Age Tattler

By CYNTHIA JOHNSON

If you pass by school in your daily travels to and from town, no doubt you have seen the green benches in front of the high school. They have become quite popular, especially at lunch. I even saw Kathryn Kester and some other girls sitting on them during the rain the other day. Earl Godwin was one of the males present, so the girls aren't the only ones who can think of crazy things to do. Football Smith, Willie Hewlett, and Dick Piner are frequent occupants of these benches during the day—how 'bout when the sun goes down, fellas?

This nice warm weather has brought forth many pretty flowers which can be found in the hair of almost any girl at school. Japanese or camellias seem to head the list. Jayne McAdams had on a beautiful pink one the other day and Martha Holton always wears beauties!

I'd like to say that all the other members of that French II class finally did bring in projects and most of them were excellent examples of hard work. Booklets on the social customs, maps of the provinces of France, and booklets on Paris were the ones done by most students. Although Percy has the honor of being the first one to complete his project, others are in now and everyone deserves credit for work well done.

Another returned service man has entered the N.H.S. family. His name is Fred Dew, and already the girls are talking about him. I overheard a conversation about him at lunch the other day and from what they had to say, he'll do all right.

Lillian Evans was here for a few days and all of us were glad to have her back, but sorry she couldn't stay longer. She attended N.H.S. until last fall when she moved to Raleigh. But she still comes back to visit Wilmington and we're always glad to see her. Finkle Marlowe is seen with her most frequently. Boy! What a traffic-stopping pair!

Welcome home again to sailor Bill Lassiter. I glimpsed him in the hall Monday and somehow had a feeling he was hurrying to meet Mary Ann Hamilton, so I didn't stop him to talk.

Plan now to attend the Glee club presentation of "New Moon." Remember what a scream Bobby Melton was last year in "Naughty Marietta"? Well, you should see him this year with his partner-in-fun, Melrose Straughn. They show a something. And then there's vamps Marguerite Todd, who tries her best to win Bobby because he's so appealing, but Melrose proves that it's always the sweetest girl that wins out in the last. So be sweet, girls, and if you don't have any success with these hard-hearted males—be vampish!!!

A campaign against cheating is being launched in the school and although we aren't the world's worst for committing this crime, all of us are far from being perfect. So, let's give this move all of our support and make our school the finest in the state—and the whole U. S.

If you are wondering what book you'll make your next book report on, just go to the city library and ask Mary Emma Humphrey to help you. She's the girl with the big broad smile and that intelligent look that most of us haven't acquired. She'll be glad to help you 'cause it wasn't too long ago that she was in high school, too, and she knows what we're going through with.

We're sorry to hear that the Lunatic club at school has been disbanded. I'm sure that there're enough lunatics to keep it going, but the present members decided against it. So, it is now a thing of the past. What will be next? Why not the All-Along-and-Lonely club for those of us who have to spend the week-end nights at home with a good book because the boys had rather go down to the "Academy," or have a stag party? It just isn't fair, fellas. Come on and give the girls a break!

I won't say anything about the basketball games until the end of the week. We've already played one with Raleigh and everyone knows the outcome. But be sure to attend the Wilson game this Friday night. We had a super crowd last week and even if it didn't help Durham, it really helped the Wildcats, so let's all be there again and give out with the cheers that make our fellas victorious.

Until next time, "So long!"
