GLAMOUR AT FORTY

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newstudies Beauty Editor

Throw away your powder-puff, girls, if you want a beautiful, unblemished skin. That's the advice of Carmel Myers, Hollywood screen star.

The glamorous Carmel, who admits to being over 40, is an example of what soap and water can do for the complexion.

Carmel, who started in Hollywood pictures when she was 14, says her lovely complexion is the result of sunshine, water and soap. She never uses powder.

Though she knows that the soap and water treatment may be drying for some skins and advises a bit of cream used when the skin looks dry, she suggests wiping all cream completely away because grease, she says, will emphasize age.

She oils her skin only when she is planning to sunbathe, and then she always keeps her hair covered. Her hair is brushed often with a good brush.

Aside from her scrub routine she uses only lipstick and eye makeup.

Responsible for training the cast and directing the operetta is NHHS music teacher, Miss Sarah Moore Robinson. Arkansas travelers are very well-known people, but NHHS is proud of one particular—attractive Miss Robinson who hails from Jonesboro in that much-sung-about state. Characteristic of Miss Robinson, are her blue eyes, short, curly brown hair, and a distinctive Arkansas accent. From Northwest, Arkansas University come her bachelor and master music degrees. At this school, where she majored in piano and minored in voice, Miss Robinson was a member of Sigma Alpha Iota (National Honorary Professional Music sorority), and Alpha Chi Omega, the Glee club and the band and orchestra in which she played the bassoon.

A person who is fond of life in general, Miss Robinson particularly likes outdoor life, Walter Pidgeon, chocolate nut sundaes and red Buick convertibles. Artificial people, gum poppers, and oysters are the things for which she has no use.

From one lead to another jumps pretty, blond, Senior Sarah Anne Eaton—from Marietta in "Naughty Marietta" to Marianne in "New Moon". Born in Franklin county, August 23, 1928, Sarah Anne, or "Droole" to her friends, has captured the position of vice-president of the student body. Active in school clubs, she is president of the Glee club, Teen-Age club, president, a member of H-Y, National Honor Society, Dramatics club and the Executive Council.

Sarah Anne likes "Candy" (of all kinds), the color blue, cherry pie with ice-cream, Gable, and Gancing. She definitely doesn't like people who can't keep secrets, or fish.

Last year's recipient of the Dramatics Award, Sarah Anne is, as usual, expected to turn in a superior performance.

Well-fitted for the part of Robert, the dashing young hero is Bobby McKenzie, well-known Junior. Bob, by a native of Wilmington and celebrated his seventeenth birthday December 14. Atop 5 feet 9 inches of a well-built "figger" are Bobby's brown eyes and blond hair. Bobby always enjoys good music, FOOD, plenty of sleep and chemistry. He can easily get along without too much home work, and Frank Sinatra.

A typical day's menu might be 1-2 grapefruit, coffee and hot milk for breakfast; a salad and soft-boiled eggs for lunch; a salad, rare meat, green vegetables and plain or fruit cake for dinner.

You'd imagine Carmel would have been nervous when she walked on the set of "Whistle Stop" for her first picture in 12 years. But when old timers such as George Raft commented that she hadn't changed an iota, Carmel was really happy.

A beautiful face, says Carmel, is partly the result of being completely relaxed at all times. She always manages to get eight hours sleep and never lies awake thinking about things to do. She gets rid of any problem that might be bothering her before retiring so that she can sleep soundly.

Another method for relaxation, she says, is to have a hobby. In her case it is her home and children.

She loves to shop for antiques and furnishes her home with them. She has fun entertaining for her children and plans all their parties.

Children shouldn't be kept in the background, she believes, and her Sonny, 13, and Mary, 4, are important members of their parents' household. Knowing children are inquisitive, Carmel permits them to greet the guests and talk with them. She always treats her children, ren with the same courtesy and respect she does an adult and feels sure that it will help them avoid the awkward age.

St. John's Auxiliary Will Serve Luncheon

The Woman's auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal church will serve a luncheon on Wednesday, February 27, from 12:30 until 2 o'clock.

Roast turkey and other good things will be featured and with the newly remodelled parish house the committee feels that a large crowd may be comfortably seated and promptly served.

The public is invited and tickets are now on sale, or reservations may be made with any member of the Woman's auxiliary.

Mildred Evans To Take Part In Radio Program

Agnes Scott college alumnae in Wilmington, will join with hundreds of others, today, in observance of the annual Founder's Day. A special broadcast over station WSB, at 7:30 p. m., Eastern Standard time, will present a short address by President James R. McCain, and a program of light opera favorites by the Agnes Scott chorus.

Mildred Evans, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John E. Evans, of 22 North 15th street, Wilmington, is a member of this chorus.

Dear Judy,

All the kids are pos pulverized by the reports that the sloppy Joe era is over. What do you and your heps think? Some people say that the jeans and sloppy shoes have gone the way of a wartime era. But it looks like everybody but the kids believe it.

In the first place there are those new hoop dresses. Can you imagine ice-skating, motor-boating or bicycling in one of those contraptions? You'd look like something out of Currier and Ives.

Then there are bustle-backs which I bet would be just ducky on the school bus or a subway train.

But, I guess the kids will like 'em for parties. They look very romantic and colonial and honey-suckle and everything.

Natalie Boman writes that the kids at the Hibbing High school, Minn., are interested in getting a good movie film on grooming. I think more schools should take an interest in good grooming, don't you?—Maybe then the kids will learn what others (of their age) think and feel about fashion and beauty.

By the bye, did I tell you about this? At a luncheon of the Boy Scouts of America, General MacArthur medals for excellence in Victory Gardening were presented to representatives of all youth groups by the National Victory Garden Institute and a message from General MacArthur commended the kids on their magnificent spirit and tireless energy in helping increase the agriculture production to meet demands of war! So you see all that lettuce and herb business we fussed about wasn't in vain after all, cookie.

Iowa State College heps report that Bob Schwartz has been made sports editor of the Daily Student. Before Bob was a B-25 flying instructor, he spent two years as editor of the Fenton, Iowa, Reporter.

Did you get in on the Westinghouse Science Talent Search contest this year? Apparently the finals have narrowed down to include 29 boys and 11 girls in the competition for $11,000 in scholarships. All the finalists have been awarded free trips to Washington: Maybe you know some of the kids:
