Miss Virginia Ward To Direct Discussion

Miss Virginia Ward, Family Life coordinator for New Hanover county, will direct a panel discussion, "What Are Parents For?" on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the William Hooper School auditorium. Juvenile Judge, Alan A. Marshall will open the discussion with the community's aspects as he sees and interprets them, and present a challenge to the churches and homes. His training and varied experience has well equipped him to bring a helpful message and give sound advice to adults in their responsibility for the training of youth.

Rev. Harvey W. Glazier, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, will discuss the churches program for leading and directing youth in the spiritual channels. Mrs. N. W. Rochell, president of the Hemenway Parent-Teacher association will speak on the parents' and homes' responsibility in the training of our country's greatest asset—our children. This is a community project and all adults interested in the training of youth, are urged to be present for this discussion. Come and bring your problems. We will try to help you solve them.

Two Local Artists Will Exhibit Paintings Here Thursday Afternoon

Mrs. John Knox Ward, chairman of the Art department of North Carolina Sorosis, extends to art lovers in Wilmington an invitation to view some of the work of two of Wilmington's young artists, Miss Peggy Hall and Claude Howell.

These talented artists will present some of their finest paintings in an informal exhibit to be held in the Sorosis clubhouse on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Among the paintings by Miss Hall will be: Self Portrait, that an artist will do sooner or later; "East Wind" a local beach scene; "Sketch of Ronald," little English Refugee who was sent to this country during the war; "Woman in Black" "The Roses and "The Sunflowers."

BRIDAL PAIR—Leon E Moore, seaman second class USNR, and Mrs. Moore, the former Susan Chason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chason of Wilmington, whose marriage of January 26 at Conway, S. C., is announced today by her parents. Mr. Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Moore of Wilmington and is now stationed at Broomont, Wash.

MISS VIRGINIA CURTIS KELLY—Senior, International relations major, at Goucher college in Baltimore, was recently selected to represent Goucher at a student conference at Vassar college. Miss Kelly is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Maurice Kelly of Wilmington. The subject of the conference was: The Far East. Playground of Power Politics. As an outgrowth of this conference, these delegates of 14 leading eastern colleges and universities are organizing a non partisan student conference group to coordinate American Student action in international affairs.

Slightly Off The Record

Wilmington, N. C., February 24, 1946. Dear Peggy:—Wilmington is in the midst of a whirl of social activities. Four large church weddings between now and April 6th with an attendant endless string of parties already well under-way, for the popular brides-to-be. Add to that a half dozen former residents who arrived last week for stays of varying length, and knowing this city's reputation for hospitality, you can well imagine how busy everyone has been, going to parties, or just "running in" at the cocktail hour, for pleasant conversation, greatly needed relaxation at the day's end, and some light refreshment partaken with old friends, whom we are always more than happy to have visit us.

An outstanding social event of the winter will take place on Wednesday evening, February 27 at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, when Miss Kathryn Oliver Snow, attractive niece of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Leslie Marbury, will become the bride of Major Carl Morrison Allen, Jr., United States Army. The wedding reception, given by Mr. and Mrs. Marbury, will take place at the Cape Fear Country club, immediately following the ceremony.

Other artists to be presented will be Mrs. Eric Norden, violinist and Mrs. Miriam Burns, accompanist, who will give Praeludium from the Sixth Partita by Bach-Kreisler. The department feels this is a real opportunity for the city and the meeting has been opened to the public and is hoped that a large attendance will be present.

Mr. Howell will show: A large figure painting of two girls; "The Balcony" a scene of local interest taken from a Wilmington home; "A Harbor Scene" local water front view; and numerous others. Miss Hall will be present at the meeting and will speak on A Layman's Approach to Painting, and will also answer any questions in regard to her exhibit.
