

NAZI CRUISER'S CREW DEBARKS IN PHILADELPHIA

CREW MEMBERS OF THE NAZI CRUISER Prinz Eugen are shown as they filed down the gangplank of the ship at the naval base in Philadelphia, Pa. In a surprising display of affection for members of the German Navy, some 5,000 German-Americans paid homage to the 547-man crew of the cruiser and showered them with gifts. The ship will be used as a "guinea pig" in the atomic bomb test at Bikini Atoll. (International)

Clare Booth Luce Wilts Under Demand For Nylons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Down to your last pair of rayons?
Well, better not tell it to Clare Booth Luce, she's heard that line before—about 5,000 times.
It all started this way: The Connecticut Congresswoman put out a statement suggesting there might be more stockings if hosiery mills could get more rayon. That was where Mrs. Luce put her foot in it.
Unhappy merchants, seizing on this ray of Republican hope, began to put ads in their local papers.

Write Letters
"Write Mrs. Luce," they implored. "Tell her you must have rayon stockings."
The ladies wrote. Boxes and cartons and mailbags of letters. From women of every stocking size and shade, Democratic and Republican, old and young, Yankee and southern.
In a few days, Mrs. Luce's harassed office workers estimated they had slit over 5,000 letters, almost all with one desperate refrain: "I'm down to my last pair."
Some Optimistic
Some writers optimistically gave their sizes, asked that Mrs. Luce rush their rayons by return mail. Others wanted even bigger miracles.

"I am informed," said one writer, "that it is in your power to put rayon stockings back on the market again."
Another brought politics into her appeal. "We aren't all New Dealers," she wrote her fellow Republican, "nor are we all bobby-soxers. Help. Help."
Needs Them Too
One put it on a cozy, woman-to-woman basis, "I'll bet you need stockings too," she wrote, "being in the public eye as you are."
There was the reproachful type: "Had to go without stockings Sunday and now I have a cold." The desperate: "Please do your darndest!" The poignant: "I can get away with bobby sox, but I do like to dress up once in a while."
Mrs. Luce sent the first 5,000 down to the Civilian Production Administration. But they still are coming in.

Reporter Helps
A feminine reporter looked over the latest pile and clucked sympathetically at the Luce office force. But she poked her head back inside the door with an after-thought:
"By the way," she said hopefully, "I'm down to my last pair, too. You don't happen to know..."—and ducked fast.

200 4-F MEN WILL TAKE "PHYSICALS"

Selective Service Orders Reclassification Of All Who Pass Tests

About 200 registrants in the 4-F classification will be called by the local Selective Draft board to report to a local doctor for physical examination and if passed will be reclassified in 1-A and will be subject for induction in the April calling, according to officials.
The board recently received a letter from the State Director of Selective Service giving the lowered physical requirements for this group and to aid the local board and the examining physicians in determining which registrants are now acceptable for military service, who heretofore, may have been in limited service or 4-F classification.

During the pre-induction which began January 1944, the local medical board agreed to do mass examinations which were carried out at that time. No arrangements have been made at present for the local physicians to repeat the mass examinations for the April call, according to local officials, however, this matter will be taken up soon with the medical board.
The most recent changes concerning the lowering of physical standards will include deformities of the feet, body and spine; healed disease or injuries of body; and stuttering and stammering of a degree disqualifying for general military service but which has not prevented the men from successfully following a useful vocation in civil life.

Atlee Warns His People Of Consumer Goods Delay

LONDON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Prime Minister Clement Atlee warned the British people Wednesday that production of consumer goods in this country would be only "somewhere half-way back to pre-war standards" this year.
Atlee said his Labor government hoped to build up an export trade spoke in Commons on the first day of debate on British economy and manpower.

ACE NAZI MUNITIONS MAKER UNDER ARREST BY AMERICAN FORCES

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 27—(AP)—U. S. authorities announced Wednesday the arrest of a secret German armaments maker they termed "the greatest single power behind the Nazi war machine," with an industrial empire expanded by seized foreign plants.
They identified him as Friedrich Flick, 62, head of a $400,000,000 combine, and declared he possessed "the greatest economic power of any single industrialist in Nazi Germany."
Flick, starting in 1933, built up greater controls than those held by the Krupp munitions family in three wars from 1870, but worked so anonymously that he was virtually unknown both aboard and in Germany, an American investigator said.
Christopher Columbus journeyed to Ireland to check a report that St. Brendan had once sailed across the ocean.

MANY STEEL MEN STILL ON STRIKE

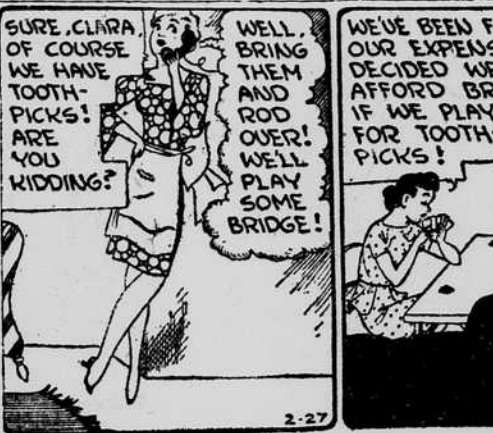

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27—(AP)—Some 350,000 CIO United Steelworkers are still on strike, a report released by the union showed Wednesday night.
The report revealed that 213 companies, employing almost 396,000 members, have signed contracts granting an 18-1/2 cent wage increase.
Less than 600 fabricators and non-integrated companies, employing about 350,000 men, are still strikebound.
The union today listed 19 companies, employing nearly 13,000 workers, who are among the latest to sign contracts. They included American Can company, Chicago, Joliet, and Maywood, Ill.; Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, and Pacific Grove, Cal.; 5,107; and Lukens Steel company, Coatesville, Pa., 3,393.
The companies that have not signed claim that they must know the exact extent of price relief to be granted them before signing. They contend that they are "caught in a squeeze" between higher costs for labor and higher prices they must pay for raw steel.

AMERICANS NOW RUNNING BERLIN, Col. Howley Says

BERLIN, Feb. 27—(AP)—Col. Frank L. Howley of Drexel Hill, Pa., director of the American military government in the Berlin district, declared Wednesday night that "We Americans are running Berlin."
Speaking at a reception marking six months of American participation in the four-power administration of the city, Howley said: "We said we'd be running Berlin and we are now doing it... we are the strongest element here."
Notable historical and literary figures who played the flute were George Washington, Lord Byron, Dr. Johnson's Rousseau, Schopenhauer, Casanova, Cellini and Leonardo da Vinci
