

BORDEAUX METED PRISON SENTENCE

Jury Brings In Verdict Of Manslaughter After Two Hours

George T. Bordeaux yesterday was sentenced to two to three years in the State penitentiary at Raleigh by Superior Court Judge Walter J. Bone after the jury turned in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the automobile deaths of Miss Patsy Ruth Roberts and her grandfather, W. L. Nance, both of Kananapolis.

Under Influence

The jury deliberated two hours on the case in which the state contended that Bordeaux was operating his car under the influence of intoxicating liquor when it crashed into the death car on the Carolina Beach road on July 5.

The case closed this week's term of Superior court. The next term will be held beginning August 12.

Suit Filed

As yesterday's case was being tried, a matter for future court consideration came to light as J. N. Bryant filed a suit for $11,331.71 against Mrs. Margaret M. Hussey, of Wilson, over three lots in the Pinehurst subdivision.

RAT TRAP

BALTIMORE, July 26.—(AP)—A police station turnkey was searching Joseph White, 77-year-old Negro arrested on a disorderly conduct charge, when he suddenly yanked his hand out of the man's pocket—fingers caught in a mousetrap. The trap was guarding three cents in White's pocket.

Defective vision is the cause of the accidents resulting in personal injury.

at the finish line. Best time of the day was a snappy 34.4 second run by a Carolina Beach entrant while the slowest performance of the morning was 40.2 seconds for the course.

Among the boys who gave their cars a trial run in preparation for the Derby next Wednesday were Barry August in his "Pickard Special" and who will be sponsored by Goody; Billy Land, who will be sponsored by Edward L. Gruen, photographer; Teddy Williams, Albert King in his "Silver King" racer; Bobby McCumber, Jackie and Delbert Hill, Ted Blake, Tommy Williamson, and others whose names were not ascertained.

Police In Charge

Track Director Charles Casteer had a detail of police on hand to keep the street clear during the two-hours of the Derby trials. While they were able to keep vehicular traffic off, they had a hard task keeping the many spectators off the course.

Chief Judge F. P. O'Crowley was also on hand for the trials and was joined by David Harriss, W. A. Stewart and other members of the Advisory committee. W. A. Roney represented the co-sponsors, The Star-News and Roney Chevrolet company.

Assistant Judges

During the morning, Chief Judge O'Crowley announced that he will be assisted on Wednesday during the Derby racing by H. G. Carney, W. F. LaPorte and L. T. Landen, while Chief Inspector Robert Merritt telephoned Soap Box Derby headquarters to announce that he had selected the following men to assist in the official inspection of Derby racers on Monday and Tuesday:

Inspector of Body and Chassis—C. E. Estes.

Inspector of Dimensions—Henry Simon.

Weighing Inspector—Earl McCertney.

Inspector of Wheel and Bearings—Fred Merritt.

Inspector of Brakes—Carl Sanders.

Inspector of Steering Apparatus—E. E. Spencer.

LeGwin Resigns

Yi LeGwin, who was nominated for the position of Chief of Finish Line Operations, on Thursday notified members of the Advisory committee that he will be unable to serve and a substitute will be named by the committee today.

Weighing will take place on Monday and Tuesday at the Toledo Scale company offices, 10th and Princess streets and all cars which are entered for the big event will be inspected by Chief Inspector

ROBERT MERRITT AND HIS ASSISTANTS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM LATE MONDAY AFTERNOON OR TUESDAY MORNING.

Tags Necessary

All cars must be brought to the High school gymnasium on Monday and should be tagged with the name and address of the owner. They will remain there until called for weighing and then must be returned for inspection. Following inspection, owners may remove their cars if they so desire, but no mechanical or other changes may be made thereafter.

All entrants must present to race officials on Derby day, their driver's license card signed by the Chief Inspector. No boy will be allowed to start without such card.

FREEZERS AND SAUCERS

Down on the first floor Mr. Lumsden had something which had even greater appeal than his wife's millinery shop—an ice cream parlor. He made the ice cream himself and sold it both by the freezer to men and women and by the five-cent saucer to tiny tots.

The Lumsdens finally sold the house, but to whom we do not know. It's strange. The closer we come to the present day in the history of the house the foggy its history becomes. All we know for here on is that a cafe once operated on the ground floor, though we don't know the dates.

We also know that a Mr. Schuster operated a jewelry store there about 1904. Lastly, the building was torn down not much longer afterwards to make room for the present Southern building.

DUMBELL IN DISTRESS

For all this data we are indebted to Mrs. C. David Jones, Mrs. Elsie Lawton Register, Mrs. M. M. T. Mrs. M.M., and many other people who asked us not to reveal their names.

Mrs. Jones is the granddaughter, and Mrs. Register the niece, of Mrs. Lumsden, the lady who made the wonderful hats. And we firmly believe they are talking neither through their hats nor their ancestors.

We want to thank these ladies for helping us clear up the mystery of the now-missing house. This is probably the first time in history that dumbbells in distress have come to the aid of a dumbbell who was.

the income tax returns of persons query into the munitions group. Asked whether the files the committee will ask to examine include those of May, Mead replied:

"It would include all of the officials of the Garsson companies and all of the officials of the Cumberland Lumber company, of which Andrew J. May was the fiscal agent in Kentucky."

May, on the house floor and in unsworn testimony given the committee in private session and made public at his request, has denied he profited from the lumber operation. He said he only helped the Henry Garsson and Murray Garsson interests, at their request, find timberland to buy, and assisted with management, without compensation, when it appeared that on his advice they may have gotten into a losing deal.

The committee has heard testimony that the Cumberland company, organized for the venture, received advances of $48,000 from units of the munitions combine for lumber which witnesses said never was delivered.

Opens Pandora's Box
"To avoid some time in the autumn a low per cent increase in manufactured goods—the purchase of which can usually be put off if the price is too high—he (Truman) opened on July 1 the Pandora's box of price increases in those market-basket items which the housewife must buy every day."

AFI President William Green denounced the new law as "inadequate" and predicted a new surge of labor unrest and a new wave of strikes unless industry voluntarily holds the price line.

Here are the major items on which OPA boosted ceilings: Shoes—About 30 per cent of the output of higher-priced shoes may now sell for eight per cent more at retail than allowed under the June 30 ceiling. Prices were raised 10 per cent on waterproof rubber footwear but the action does not affect canvas and casual rubber shoes.

They are Beaufort, Mount Holly, Fayetteville, Kinston, Elkin, Gastonia, Williamston, Kings Mountain, Shelby, Greenville, Goldsboro, Thomasville, and Wilmington.

Solons Rule Out Any Further Tax Increase Charges Dismissed Against Carolinian

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Congressional leaders ruled out any tax increases Friday with a firmness that indicated President Truman may have to look elsewhere for the anti-inflation weapons he said must be fashioned if revived price controls fail.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee, told a reporter there will be no increase in taxes, despite Mr. Truman's assertion that if the OPA revival bill proves ineffective he will have to call congress back to strengthen price control laws and act on fiscal measures.

"COOTIE WILLIAMS ONE OF THE BEST TRUMPET PLAYERS IN THE WORLD"—BENNY GOODMAN.

When Cootie joined Duke Ellington, he said, "I used to laugh at Ellington's 'growl' music." But it wasn't long before Williams picked up the Ellington technique—and today, he is recognized king of the trumpet.

Playing with Ellington, Cootie was in the Zeigfeld production "Show Girl"; worked for Paramount and RKO pictures; appeared in a picture called "Murder at the Vanities"; played in several shorts; and of course, travelled in Europe on the famous Ellington tours.

Williams played solo trumpet with Ellington in concerts in Paris, London, Belgium, Holland, Sweden and Norway. They played for the Duke of Windsor when he was the Prince of Wales, and for the famous Lord Beaverbrook—dynamic British war-effort production chief.
