

TEEN AGE TATTLER

By Cynthia Johnson

Farewells seemed to be the word of the day this past week-end, cause with the coming of September colleges get underway, and those who plan to attend them must bid their loved ones fond adieu and start on their way. Wake Forest seems to be the college chosen by Williamson, Tommy Head, Bobby Russ, and Robert Bell will establish their headquarters there for the coming school year. Hooper left in the convertible that is seen quite frequently around town, so he'll be coming home on the week-ends he can make it, and needless to say, there'll be plenty of people who want a ride. I'm not certain just when they leave, but Shirley Brown has chosen G.C. for her school of learning, and Corrine Wilkerson a school in Chattanooga, Tenn. Kathryn Kester, Pat Hardwick, and Permella Wheatley will attend W.C. Betty Hanson journeys north to enroll as a member of the student body in Skidmore in Saratoga while Anna Kamer and Sara Williams plan to enter Salem. Helen Rosenmann leaves this Thursday for Duke, and Emma Kingoff leaves in the near future for Smith.

NHHS got underway this past Friday, and when Monday morning comes, the students will feel like old-timers at the game of going back to school again. Saw Winifred Harriss during the change of classes Friday, and she looked mighty happy. In spite of what we all say, it's nice to be back at school with all the old gang and with all the lessons. Sara K. Jordan, student body president, said that so far no social events had been planned, but the first student gathering will be in the form of the very first football game of the season to be held in Kingston on the 13th. I remember how we used to put up the money for the gas, and drive to most of the out-of-town games. So come on, students, support your team and they'll win because you're there and they know you're pulling for them.

Miss Jane Head left this week-end to attend the summer formal at The Citadel as the guest of Jimmy Wells. She was accompanied by Miss Ann Adams who was the guest of Jimmy's roommate. The rain this past Friday brought out some of the craziest protective get-ups I've seen in a long time. Of course it was a dire necessity that I have some new records, so in the downpour of that afternoon, I donned my brother's navy raincoat, my father's State Guard fatigue hat, and my own shoes. I had hardly waded across Front street before I encountered Cash Register, clad in a raincoat but with no hat. In spite of the fact that water was streaming from his black hair, he was smiling as always. Just behind him, equally damp, were Jack Bass and Ed Lamb. When I finally reached the music store, I came face to face with Jay Carter and Alton Hall. Jay also wore a fatigue hat, and the way the tremendous brim stuck out on all sides was really a sight to see. I made my purchase and swam back to car, none the worse for exposure, and the proud possessor of some new records.

Buddy Johnson and his orchestra on Friday night were really super! One of their best arrangements is that of "Whispering" and for that they are indebted to Dwain Everheart who plays sax. The trumpet section is filled by Walter Barnes and Tomny Head with Tom Woodson on the trombone. Other sax men are Joe Williams, and Stanley Williamson. Of course the drums are given their work-out by one of the best little drummers ever, Bobby Russ. Don Cotes is master of the keyboard, while vocal honors go to Jean Haven. The orchestra plays with that certain professional touch, and it's just a shame that most of the fellas are going off to school and will have to disband the organization. But watch for them the first of the summer!

Dean Hudson played to a jump-happy crowd this past Saturday night at Lumina, but there were also some people there who liked mood music, so he satisfied them, too.

The senior class will be well-known this year for such beauties as Diane Costello, Patty Southernland, Flora T. McIver, Betty Walters, Edna Mathes, and Mary Claire Bates. But the freshmen have their glamour girls, too, and in this class would come Peggy Epperson, a newcomer to public schools, Peggy has attended the Catholic school in the past, but will add much to NHHS by becoming a member of its student body. Saw some ROTC cadets with their uniforms the other day, but I haven't heard who the Lt. Col. will be as yet.

First Baptist Church Plan Mission Prayer Programs For Monday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will have a program of prayer and offering for state missions on Monday at 3:30 o'clock.

A short WMS meeting will be held immediately following the state mission program. Continuing the season of prayer for state missions Charles E. Maddy will speak on Wednesday evening at the weekly prayer service. All members are urged to attend both meetings.

Congratulations to Joe Gray who now holds the rating of H.A. 2-c. He is still in school at Bainbridge, but will soon move to Bethesda, Md., where he expects to be stationed permanently.

Listened in on the Teen-age Merry-Go-Round this past Saturday morning and she was impressed by the talent displayed. Frank Bradley enacted a drama which was one of the best I have ever heard a young person give. Larry Dagenheart was on hand to sing "Slowly," and the girl who is rapidly climbing the ladder of success in the music world, Mary Claire Bates, chose "There's No One But You." In an informal interview with Winifred Harriss Ben McDonald discovered that the student body enrollment for this year is between 1,900 and 2,000, the largest in the history of the school. Remember this if your program, teen-agers, so if you have some talent that you are capable of displaying over the radio, get in touch with Mr. McDonald.

Well, that's about all there is for now. I'll find out more about what's going and see you the middle of the week. And this time my so long is for you, my readers, and especially for the people who will leave this week to enter college—So long.

Gwin Barnwell, Robert Dalton Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. F. Andrews of 1158 Fifth Avenue, New York, have announced the engagement of Mrs. Andrews' daughter, Miss Gwin Barnwell, to Robert Isaac Dalton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Isaac Dalton of Charlotte.

This marriage unites two of the South's outstanding families. Miss Barnwell, daughter also of Stephen Elliott Barnwell of Laurel Hill, is the granddaughter on the maternal side, of Mrs. Samuel L. Gwin and the late Captain Gwin of Greenwood, Mississippi, the great-granddaughter of the Honorable Barnes Humphreys of that city; and the great-great-granddaughter of Benjamin G. Humphreys, Brigadier-General of the Army of the Confederacy and Reconstruction Governor of Mississippi. She is also the great niece of the late Honorable Benjamin G. Humphreys, for 28 years member of Congress from Mississippi. Miss Barnwell's mother, the former Mrs. Mildred Gwin Barnwell, for many years an executive in the textile industry is author of several books on textile problems and major contributor to the textile section of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Mr. Andrews, former Industrial Commissioner of New York State and first Wage Hour Administrator of the United States is president of Elmer Andrews company, industrial relations consultants.

Miss Barnwell is a graduate of National Cathedral school for girls, Washington, D.C., and received her degree of B.S. from Duke university, Durham, in 1945. While at Duke university she received many honors for scholastic ability and extra-curricular activities. She was president of the sophomore class, and later was Dean's Advisor to freshmen and the assistant - chief marshal. She was a member of Sandals, and Ivy, both honorary societies, as well as the Neridan club, the Glee club, and Hoo'n Horn, the dramatic club. She is an Alpha Delta Pi. In January 1946 Miss Barnwell was selected from several hundred southern girls as Maid of Cotton by the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tennessee, and has just completed a six-months national tour as goodwill ambassador of the cotton industry.

Mr. Dalton, recently discharged from the Army with rank of captain, is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gossett of Greenville and Anderson, S.C.; Mr. Gossett was a pioneer textile manufacturer who established the Gossett chain of mills; and of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Dalton, Winston-Salem. Mr. Dalton was a tobacco manufacturer. Mr. Dalton is a graduate of the McCallie School of Chattanooga, Tennessee, and the Textile School, North Carolina State college, Raleigh. He is a Kappa Alpha and a Phi Psi, the latter a textile fraternity. While at college he was elected to Blue Key, national honorary leadership society, and the Golden Chain, and was winner of the Phi Psi Leadership award. He was editor-in-chief of "The Agromeck", the college annual and was class representative on the college student council. Mr. Dalton was also elected to "Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges".

During World War II Captain Dalton was with the Eighth division in Normandy until wounded in action at Brest, France. Following hospitalization he was assigned to the 29th Infantry Regiment where he served as regimental adjutant, Frankfurt-on-the-Main, until he was returned to the U.S. in May 1946. He is now associated with Whitin Machine Works, Whitinsville, Mass. His father, Robert IL Dalton, is southern manager of that company.

Officers of the Gen. Julius Franklin Howell chapter, C. of C., which was organized recently in Morven by Mrs. T. L. Caudle, r., Mrs. Eugene Little and Mrs. W. B. Little, are Annie Ruth Watts, president; Anne Capel, 1st vice-president; Susan Redfeard, 2nd vice-president; Virginia Pratt, secretary; Marialeen Ratcliff, treasurer; Sarah Jarman, registrar; Margie Eddins, historian, Mary Morgan, chaplain. Leaders of the chapter are Mrs. Robert Thomas and Miss Christine Robinson.

Gen. Howell, who is commander-in-chief of the Confederate Veterans has sent the chapter his picture made on his 100th birthday, Jan. 17, 1946, also a picture made in 1885 when he was 19 years of age.

mony a lovely reception was held. In the dining room, the bridal motif was observed in refreshments and floral arrangements. The bride's table, laid with a lovely cloth, was centered with a tiered wedding cake surrounded with miniature smile and flanked by tall burning tapers in candelabra. On the sideboard a beautiful silver epergne was arranged with white carnations.

Later in the evening the couple left for a wedding trip to the mountains of Virginia. Mrs. McGhee changed for going-away to a sand color wool gabardine outfit with which she wore brown accessories and mink furs and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Virginia Interport and Sullins college. She was a member of the Spinners club.

Mr. McGhee is a graduate of the University of Tennessee and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Following their wedding trip they will make their home in Knoxville, Tenn.

Church Of The Good Shepherd Will Conduct Nursery School

The Good Shepherd program committee announces the opening of a combination Nursery school and kindergarten on September 30 at the parish hall on Sixth and Queen streets. This comes as welcome news to those who attended the nursery school there in years past, and to those who have heard of its many worthwhile endeavors and achievements.

Directing the school will be Miss Florence Huband who needs no introduction to this area. She is a graduate of the Deaconess Training school in Philadelphia and served as a missionary to Alaska for several years. Since her return to Wilmington, she has been most active in the life of the church, particularly so with children. Under her guidance the church school has developed, and her warm personality has won the hearts of all who know her. Assisting her will be Miss Tessa Burris and Mrs. Linwood Badoon who have likewise had much experience with children.

The plan is to have three age groups, running from 3 to 6, with an adult in charge of each group. First grade will be taught to those whose birthdays prevent them from entering school this fall, and those who qualify will be able to enter the second grade.

Further information will be furnished by calling the Rev. Harvey Glazier, 2-1180.

CELEBRATING THE SEVENTY-NINTH

Evening Star

That dims not with the dawn

A Gem so clear, so beautifully cut
And polished and mounted
Though in evening's light it seems
Too lovely for aught but dreams,
In the clear sunshine of mid-day
Still holds the excellence that Causes it to be

A Diamond of exquisite reality

'Tis quality that counts

Sincerely
