invited to parties, she literally "TOOK OVER" for the hostess. She made frequent trips to the Frigidaire to procure ice water instead of asking her hostess if some might be served at the bridge table. She seemed to have a mania for emptying ash-trays before the hostess possibly get around to it. And she insisted on helping serve the refreshments after being told that no assistance was necessary. We tried to intercede for the poor soul, when she was being pretty generally raked over the coals, by saying that she was harmless and did not intend to offend, but had been reared in a small country town where few people kept maids, and the girls in her strata of life had the habit of having to help each other. On all sides we were met with the same rebuttal, with which, we must truthfully admit, we must heartily concur, that regardless of what part of the world she comes from, and irrespective of the size of one's home town, if the rearing has been of the best, a lady never takes liberties with anyone, not even with members of her own family. It has been a long time since we read Dale Carnegie's "How To Win Friends And Influence People", but we know only too well, from experience, that the way to KEEP your friends, after you have made them, is never to take liberties with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore G. Empe returned to the city on September the first from Mamaroneck, N. Y., where they spent the summer months. Before coming home Mrs. Empe visited her sister, Mrs. Tom Stewart, in Toronto, Canada, for several weeks. Prior to opening the Empe home at 209 South Fifth street for the winter, Mrs. Empe is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Laurence Sprunt at their summer home on Wrightsville Beach. Mr. Empe is a patient at James Walker Memorial hospital, where he is undergoing treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl N. Dunn, Jr., and three children, Jean, Dianna, and Carl N. Dunn, 3rd, of Bradley's Creek, expect to move early next week from the Blake Applewhite home, which they have been occupying on the sound for several years, to Wrightsville Beach where they will spend the winter at 6 Channel Drive.

Friends of Arthur Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Perry, will be interested that he is recuperating satisfactorily at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., following a recent operation. Mrs. Perry is with her son and they expect to come home together in about two weeks. Mr. Perry returned from Rochester last week.

Mrs. William A. French of New York city arrived at Wrightsville Beach last Tuesday and is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn C. French at their summer home on Wayneck boulevard. William A. French arrived from New York yesterday to join Mrs. French for the week-end at his brother's beach cottage, and they expect to return to the city tomorrow. Both returning from the city, Mr. and Mrs. French seem to belong right here in our midst, in spite of their twenty or more year's residence in the metropolis, and each visit to the "old home town" is a signal for many informal but delightful "gatherings" in their honor. To say that the reunions are well liked around these parts would be putting it mildly.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Y. Bidegood with their daughter and son, Miss Betty Bidegood and Carrington Bidegood of Hartford, Conn., returned to their home on Friday after a brief visit at the Ocean Terrace hotel, Wrightsville Beach. Dr. Bidegood, a prominent surgeon and neurologist of the New England states, is the son of Mrs. J. W. Murchison of 412 Seventh street, City, and a former Wilmingtonian. While here to visit Mrs. Murchison, the Bidegoods were the recipients of numerous social courtesies.

Mrs. J. Irving Corbett and her sister-in-law, Mrs. T. E. Brown motored to Durham on Friday accompanied by Mrs. Corbett's daughter, Mrs. Hunter C. Phelan, Jr., of Durham, nee Mary Corbett of this city, who for the past week was the guest of her parents, the Irving Corbetts at their home 1705 Chestnut street. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Corbett expect to return home tomorrow after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Phelan.

A charming affair of the Labor Day holidays was the cocktail-supper given last Saturday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Emmet H. Bellamy at their ocean front cottage on the Northern extension at Wrightsville Beach. Numerous artistic arrangements of garden flowers were placed at intervals in the living room and dining room of the cottage, and a delicious buffet supper was served from a beautifully appointed buffet table.

Milk Mixture for Stomach Ulcers

A recent medical discovery now used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused from excess acid. It is a simple preparation yet so effective, in many cases the pain of stomach ulcers disappears almost immediately. Also recommended for gas, indigestion, heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of LURIN from their druggist. LURIN contains this new discovery in its own form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoons in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Most satisfactory money refunded.

BOOKS IN OUR TOWN

By Damon Runyon
Twenty-seven slices of life by Damon Runyon who tells all as if he were an old resident of the town who's giving you the low-down without moralizing.

MISTER ROBERTS
By Thomas Heggen
Mister Roberts of the USS RELUCTANT, crossed and recrossed the tedious breadth of the Pacific fight the war, a war against those nebulous adversaries: apathy, tedium and boredom. Mister Roberts is a kind of a hero and no one who reads the story will doubt that heroism.

SINGING WATERS
By Ann Bridge
Becoming increasingly popular the country over, SINGING WATERS provides a strikingly provocative theme of the Albanian way of life and standard of civilization that is rapidly disappearing under the pressure of modern industrialism.

Mrs. Freeman Entertains At Lovely Party

Mrs. Jere D. Freeman entertained at 1 o'clock yesterday with a buffet luncheon in honor of the former Miss Mildred Stevens and Karl McGhee whose wedding took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The dining room of the Freeman home at Forest Hills was decorated with white chrysanthemums and gladioli. In the living room, where the guests were seated at small tables, the flowers were yellow and fuchsia.

The guests at the luncheon included the wedding party, out-of-town friends and relatives here for the wedding, and members of the families of the couple.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Julian W. Godwin announce the birth of a daughter, Susan, August 30 at Marion Sprunt annex.

at one of Dr. James F. Robertson's apartments on East Raleigh street at Wrightsville Beach for the remainder of the season. Mrs. Ramsauer is the former Almyria Stevenson of Wilmington. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Wellford was Betty Ramsauer of Baltimore.

General and Mrs. Kenneth C. Royal of Washington, D. C., arrived at Wrightsville Beach yesterday where they are the charming guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hargrove Bellamy at their summer home, 17 East Columbia street. General Royal is U. S. Under-Secretary of War, and all North Carolinians are justly proud of the fact that he is a native of Goldsboro dividing his time in civilian life, before the war, between Raleigh and Goldsboro. The beautiful and fascinating Mrs. Royal was formerly Margaret Best of Warsaw who attended St. Mary's school at Raleigh with many of our own Wilmington girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Grainger have returned to their home in the city at 1507 Market street after summering at Wrightsville Beach where together with Alice Grainger's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark James they occupied one of Dr. James F. Robertson's apartments on East Raleigh street.

Visitors down from New Bern last Sunday and Monday who spent the day at Wrightsville Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Sweeney and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Ward of Chapel Hill, who are their guests for two weeks, were Mrs. William F. Ward, Miss Rose Carraway, Miss Catherine Richardson, Miss Gail Turnbull, Miss Joan Turnbull, William F. Ward, Jr., and Kenney Ward.

General John Van B. Metts and his daughter, Mrs. Spottswood Hunt nee Josephine Metts, have returned to their home in Raleigh after spending two weeks at Wrightsville Beach where they resided at one of the Hinton apartments on South Lumina avenue.

Miss Lizzie Lee and her niece, Nancy Lee Duckett of Raleigh, have returned to their home after a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peschua at their Northern extension cottage on Wrightsville Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Vass of Concord, who have recently moved to our vicinity to live have purchased Dr. A. D. P. Gilmour's cottage at 20 South Lumina avenue, Wrightsville Beach, as their year around home. Mr. Vass is connected with the civil service in Greensboro but visits his family here frequently.

The Vasses had as their attractive guests over the Labor Day holidays; Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Jones and children, Peggy, Dan, Carolyn, and Wayne Jones, and Milton Pruitt, all of Oxford; and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pruden and children, Tommy and Charles of Windsor, Mr. Pruden recently received his discharge from the army with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur I. Jeffords, Jr. of Savannah, returned to their home last Monday after spending a week with Jane Dunham Jeffords' parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Dunham at their home 1736 Orange street. Jane was the lovely bride who was married last December at St. John's Episcopal church to Capt. Arthur Jeffords, who is prominently connected in Charleston, S. C. and Savannah. So, it was very fitting that on her recent visit home she sang the offertory solo at the 11 o'clock services last Sunday at St. John's. Jane Jeffords is a singer of note and has done solo work at almost every church in Wilmington. She is now the leading soloist at St. John's Episcopal church in Savannah.

Miss Joyce Dunham of 1736 Orange street left on Saturday night to become a member of the faculty at Dobbs Ferry on the Hudson, N. Y., an exclusive private school for boys. Joyce taught French and Spanish for two years at New Hanover high school, and during the past summer she was a social case worker for the Traveller's Aid.

Frequently we receive favorable comments on our letter to you from former Wilmingtonians who are now residents of other cities. Such a note reached us this week from Mrs. Francis C. Curtzwiler of 2211 Maplewood avenue, Toledo, Ohio, who tells us how much she enjoys reading "Slightly Off The Record" every Tuesday morning, as it keeps her informed of all the gay social whirl at home, which she would never hear about otherwise. Coming from one so amply qualified socially and intellectually as Frances Bailey Curtzwiler, her remarks are a distinct compliment. Affectionately your friend, VIRGINIA.

Jean Craven Becomes Bride

played, Mendelssohn's march from a A Mid Summer Night's Dream was used as the recessional.

Rev. J. W. Miller, pastor of the church, officiated. The vows were spoken before arrangement of greenery and fern interspersed by seven branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

E. Fielding Clark of Newton, was the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were D. G. Craven, of Winston-Salem, uncle of the bride, Frank A. Clark and O. Leslie Clark of Clarkton, and Dr. David D. King of Lumberton.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, George K. Craven of Baltimore Md., wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory brocade satin. The bodice and sleeves were of lace and chiffon. The full length train was joined at the waist. The veil of tulle, extended the full length of the train. She carried a bouquet of white roses and tube roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Marguerite Craven was her sister's maid-of-honor. She wore an aqua satin dress and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Mary Louise Craven, sister of the bride, Misses Trudie Clark of Clarkton and Catherine King of Lumberton, cousins of the bride, and Mary Jon Thomas of Jonesboro, were the bridesmaids. Their dresses were of aqua satin and they carried bouquets of purple asters.

Little Miss Ann Clark Troy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Troy, of Rosehill, was flower girl. She wore an old fashioned dress with full skirt which extended into a train and carried a miniature nosegay of white roses, tuberose and asters.

Master Fielding Clark son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Fielding Clark of Newton was ring bearer.

Mrs. Robert Kindred Craven, mother of the bride, wore a black lace gown and shoulder bouquet of pink roses.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was given by the bride's aunts, Misses Amanda and Alice Clark at their home.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Kindred Craven and the late Mr. Craven, and the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. George Lennon Clarkton, of Clarkton. She was graduated from Queens college in Charlotte, where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. In the past year she has done recreation work with the American Red Cross in the South-eastern area.

MRS. ROSCOE EDGAR LESTER—Of Buchanan, Va., who before her marriage on August 31 at St. Paul's Lutheran church here was Miss Carolyn Ann Grotgen, daughter of Mrs. Carrie M. Grotgen and the late George L. Grotgen of Wilmington.

she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. In the past year she has done recreation work with the American Red Cross in the South-eastern area.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hedblom of Colorado Springs. He was recently discharged from the army, a lieutenant in the Medical Administration corps and will receive his studies at Colorado college, where he is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Hedblom will make their home in Colorado Springs, Colo.
