

CRIMINAL COURT OPENING MONDAY

Two Murder Trials Set To Be Heard By Judge Williams

Capital charges carrying the possible maximum sentences of death face five defendants scheduled to appear before Judge Clawson L. Williams during the January Criminal term of the New Hanover county Superior court which begins Monday.

The chief interest among these will center about the case involving Gus Ganey, who is charged with the fatal shooting of Julius F. Henderson, of Jacksonville, several weeks ago. A coroner's jury found that Ganey shot and killed the Onslow county youth while the latter was sitting in an automobile in front of a service station operated by the defendant.

The other murder indictment confronts Leon (Scooper) Gause, who is charged with killing a Brunswick counter farmer. A new trial for the Brunswick Negro was ordered recently by the state Supreme court. Rounding out the five capital charges are three criminal assault cases involving B. F. Courrier, Eddie Barnhill and Holston Flint. The other indictments listed for hearing range from non-support and passing bad checks to assault with a deadly weapon with the intent to kill and forgery.

REYNOLDS FILES PROGRAM REPORT

Recreation Department Attracted 41,805 During Month

Recreational activities planned and supervised by the city recreation department attracted 41,805 people during December, according to a monthly report submitted to City Manager J. B. Benson yesterday by Jesse A. Reynolds, superintendent of the department.

Of this number participating in various projects sponsored by the city, 12,526 flocked to the community center with 9,000 recorded as taking advantage of outdoor athletic areas and playgrounds.

Highlight of the month, the report stated, was the Christmas program centered about the Hilton park tree, the chief feature of which was the filming of the event by a Fox Movietone cameraman. These films were later destroyed at the New York laboratory, it was reported.

Reynolds praised the concerted effort on the part of all taking part in the Christmas program, and singled out the city electrical department as outstanding in arranging the lighting.

Figuring in the plans for the coming month is the beginning of basketball leagues for the city's youth, of roller skating for adults at the center on Thursday nights, and the enlargement of afternoon children's programs at the center.

In addition, the department took part in the investigation of 30 robbery and breaking and entering cases during the same period, he stated.

Fifty-seven dollars and seventy-five cents were realized from making discharge photostats and passport photos during the month, Fales reported.

GOVERNOR CHERRY SUFFERS DEFEAT

As amended, the emergency salary measure calls for an increase of 30 percent for all state employees earning $1,200 a year or less, increases of 25 percent for all employees in the bracket from $1,200 a year to $2,700 a year and a maximum increase of $45 a month for salaries between $2,700 and $6,000.

Cost Figures

R. G. Deyton, assistant director of the budget, estimated that the Barker amendment would add approximately $1,480,000 to nearly $7,000,000 provided for in the original bill, a total pay increase of about $8,480,000 that the 57,000 school teachers and other state employees will receive between now and July 1—if the amended bill is passed.

Banker Tells Exchange Club Slump Is Unlikely

Warren Johnson, president of Peoples Savings Bank & Trust company in a talk before the Exchange club yesterday said "The record shows that as long as money rates remains low, we have never had a decided depression and the indications are that money rates will remain low for some time to come."

Mr. Johnson, who is a "Class A" member of the Board of Directors of the Fifth Federal Reserve district, has just returned from Richmond where he attended the board's first meeting of the new year.

He gave the Exchange Club an informative explanation of the Federal Reserve System: Why we have one, the organized set-up and the composition of its various boards, districts, and branches. This district, which is the fifth, with headquarters in Richmond, Va., consists of the states of Virginia, two Carolinas, Maryland, the District of Columbia, and a portion of West Virginia.

Members of the Federal Reserve system consists of banks only, and they have to meet high standards to be eligible.
