

SENCBA CAMPAIGN NOTES PROGRESS

Fifteen New Members Sign With Organization To Aid Drive

A meeting between officials of the Southeastern North Carolina Beach Association and representatives of three local trade groups was held in the Woodrow Wilson hut yesterday afternoon.

Hugh Morton, chairman of the SENCBA drive for funds to help develop the local region, and Louis Grel, SENCBA president, held a conference with officials of the New Hanover Restaurant Owners Association, the Retail Merchants Association and the local Service Station group.

Discussed at the session was the current campaign for funds now underway by the beach association.

Arrives With World Travelers

Pictured above is the S. S. Steel Artisan as she moved up the Cape Fear river for a brief stop-over. Aside from its cargo, the ship carried a number of prominent persons.

Ship Arrives With Many Noted Persons On Board

A colorful array of world travelers arrived in Wilmington yesterday afternoon aboard the S. S. Steel Artisan, cargo ship from Calcutta, India, but none were expected to stay in the Port City over 24 hours.

Steaming up the Cape Fear showing signs of its long journey, the vessel tied up at the Wilmington Terminal Warehouse dock about 4:45 yesterday afternoon, but it was not until several hours later that the passengers were permitted ashore and the unloading of the cargo began.

The ship carried 300 Rhesus monkeys which are to be sent to experimental laboratories in

Castle Haynes Church Plans Easter Services

A special Easter service will be held at the McClure Memorial Presbyterian church at Castle Haynes, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, it was announced last night.

The Rev. C. C. Myers, pastor of the church will deliver the sermon, taking for his text, "And he set his face to go to Jerusalem." A pantomime of "The Old Rugged Cross" will also be presented at the service. The public is invited to attend.

Smallest player in National Hockey League history is Grant Warwick of the New York Rangers, who is five-five and a half.

Elma, were the only passengers met at the dock by friends — S. P. Clark of Atlanta, representative of the Royal Liverpool Group of Fire Insurance companies, already had made hotel reservations for them and train reservations to Boston where Mason has business. Mason is a director of Duff and company, a British jute firm. They will sail for home again on April 24.

Two American soldiers who have been stationed in India came onto home soil again yesterday, too. They are Ernest L. Curry of Mobile, Alabama, and George E. Pease of Waukesha, Wisconsin.

Pauline Pulleyen, British, has come to the United States to visit friends in Wisconsin.

Elizabeth Lemcke, an American girl who is connected with the Indian American Oil company, will leave here bound for Savannah, Ga.

Monkeys Are Sensitive; Interview Is Refused

Rhesus monkeys are sensitive. They are, perhaps, the most sensitive people there are.

The 300 Rhesus monkeys which came into port here yesterday aboard the S. S. Steel Artisan from Calcutta, India, were so sensitive that they refused to be interviewed or have their pictures taken.

The 12 cages on the deck of the vessel remained covered with a canvas, despite squeeks or whatever monkeys do — coming from all 300 of them.

Rhesus monkeys are almost human. Except for being in cages, they are treated like humans on the ship. They're logged just like any other passenger and close watch is kept for 48 hours after they are put ashore. Records must be kept if any die in that time.

Man hasn't sprung too far from his so-called descendants, according to scientists. These 300 Rhesus monkeys are going the way of all good Rhesus monkeys.

When taken off the ship today they will be sent by heated rail-
