PATROL SHIP UNDER INSPECTION TOUR

A formal inspection of the U. S. Patrol Craft 776 was begun yesterday afternoon by a five man inspection crew, headed by Captain J. V. Query, from the Sixth Naval District Headquarters in Charleston, S. C.

Capt. Query said last night that the inspection was being made of the various parts of the ship and the machinery, in order to determine the condition of the vessel, and that they were "very pleased with its appearance."

The inspection was expected to be completed this morning, Capt. Query said, and the men will return to Charleston before noon.

CHARLOTTE, April 2 — (P)—The Stonewall Jackson post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has taken no official action on picketing of the armory here April 27 when Kirsten Flagstad, Norwegian soprano, sings. Ben Douglas, outgoing commander, said today.

He said that at a recent meeting the post adopted a resolution requesting that the Park board, which controls the armory, deny its use to the singer. A member of the post pointed out, Douglas added, that veterans could picket as individuals if they wished, but not as VFW members. However, this was only a suggestion, and no official action was taken on picketing, Douglas explained.

Miss Flagstad returned to Norway at the beginning of the war to be with her husband. He was later accused of dealing with German occupation forces, but died before trial.
