Miss Mary Bellamy Honors Miss Strange, Mr. Morton

Miss Mary Bellamy entertained last evening at a buffet supper party, honoring Miss Midge Strange and fiancé, Thomas L. Morton, whose wedding will take place Saturday at St. James Episcopal church.

The large buffet supper took place in the home of Miss Bellamy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett H. Bellamy, 1419 Rankin street. Out of town guests and members of the bridal party were the guests for occasion.

The home was decorated with flowers and in the dining room the table was covered with an imported lace cloth and centered with white flowers in gold and white Venetian glass.

Around 50 guests were invited for the occasion.

Two Hostesses Entertain For Miss Ingham

Mrs. Chris H. Buttelmann and Mrs. John H. Tienchen were hostesses to Miss Mary Kathryn Ingham, whose marriage to Marvin Murphy will take place Saturday at St. Paul's Lutheran church, recently at a bridge party at a kitchen.

Upon arrival the bride-elect was presented a hair arrangement of flowers and later useful kitchen articles.

The scene of the party was the home of Mrs. Buttelmann, 1710 Carolina Avenue, which was decorated throughout with arrangements of spring flowers.

During the evening an ice course was served.

Miss Margaret Mahler, Mrs. Wilson Horton, and Mrs. David Struthers were awarded prizes for winning at bridge.

Mrs. Tienken, Miss Carr Fete Bride-Elect

Miss Mary Daniel Carr and Mrs. George Frederick Tienken entertained at a tea Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Carr, 418 S. Third street, in honor of Miss Barbara Allen, whose wedding to Paul C. Darden, Jr., of Wilson will be an event of Saturday.

The lower floor of the house was decorated with arrangements of mixed spring flowers and smilax.

Guests were received by Mrs. D. S. Carr and presented to the receiving line which was composed of the hostesses, Miss Allen, Mrs. L. E. Allen, Mrs. Roland Perry, Miss Susan Darden of Wilson and Mrs. Allen VanKye of Greenville.

Receiving the guests in the dining room and serving sandwiches, individual decorated cakes, nuts and mints were Miss Mary Nisbet, Mrs. Charles Bell and Miss Elizabeth LaSalle.

Mrs. Garland Palmer served punch from a beautiful crystal bowl at one end of the table which was covered by an imported Venetian lace cloth and centered by a silver epergne holding spring flowers flanked by five-branch silver candelabra. The punch bowl was circled with a flat arrangement of smilax.

Approximately 75 guests called during the afternoon.

State Cancer Head Praises Sorosis For Work In Drive

"These are the workingness bunch of women in the State," said John D. Larkins, chairman of the North Carolina division of American Cancer Society's campaign for funds. Thursday afternoon as he addressed the Welfare department of North Carolina Sorosis.

Speaking in praise of the Sorosis women, who have backed the cancer drive in Wilmington for many years, Mr. Larkins, so inspired the women present at the meeting that before the assembly adjourned members were acquiring into the possibilities of founding a cancer clinic in the city.

Mr. Larkins, a graduate of the Wake Forest Law School and member of the State Senate informed members present that 2,581 North Carolinians had died in the past year from cancer and that half of the deaths were needless.

If those people, who died, had seen a doctor when cancer first "raised its red flag," they could have been cured, he said.

Senator Larkins, in a more humorous vein, said that men seemed to think cancer and the raising of funds for its cure was a woman's job, but in actuality it was everyone's job to see that 17,000,000 who will die in the next few years of cancer, do not die.

poem by Edgar A. Guest, which was followed by an introduction of the speaker by Mrs. N. L. Foy, chairman of the local cancer drive.
