

STUDENTS ENTER POSTER CONTEST

"Needs Of North Carolina" Cardboards On Display Here

The display window of the Tide Water building is now filled with posters, made by students of New Hanover High school, which depict in varied and sundry ways the "Needs of North Carolina."

The posters are the entries in the contest being sponsored by the Wilmington Junior Chamber of Commerce and in which the local group has offered $130 in prizes. They will remain on display for one week, according to Wallace I. West, chairman of the Jaycee educational committee. During the week they will be judged by a group of Jaycees, and the winning posters will be replaced in the window.

Prizes will be awarded to the creators of the ten posters deemed best during the Honor Day exercises at the high school, on May 20. They are to be judged from the standpoint of effectiveness, originality and neatness.

First prize offered is $50; second place, $25; third place, $15; fourth place, $10; and $5 each for the next five.

High School Students Entertain Group At Meeting Last Night

Members of the Wilmington Junior Chamber of Commerce were last night entertained by junior associates of the organization, students at New Hanover High school, who presented the program.

Bobby McKenzie, who took charge of the program, introduced the three participants, Allan Lanier, Richard Galphin, Jr., and Miss Patty Jones.

Highlights of the recent Hi-Y minstrel presented at the high school were given in the form of monologue by Allan Lanier. His humorous recitation was based on what's wrong with the world. Later he was joined by Richard Galphin and the two gave other parts of the minstrel.

Miss Patty Jones, senior at the high school, who has won acclaim in numerous contests for her accomplishments as a pianist, last night played two selections.
