Sports fans, mark tonight down on your special entertainment list. The Class A Softball league's best matched softball clubs, Spofford Mills and Alpha Omega, meet under the arcs at Robert Strange park at 7 o'clock in a game that may well decide the first half championship. Another good contest between the Atlantic Coast Line and Brotherhood of Railway Clerks will be played immediately following the main attraction.

A. L. King, generally regarded as the fastest pitcher in Wilmington softball, is scheduled to handle the flipping duties for City Optical. The rifle-armed twirler has pitched five wins this season against two defeats and leads all rival underhanders in the strikeout department. He will be backed by a City Optical aggregation that has captured 12 out of 15 battles. The opposing Spofford team has taken 11 out of 13 tilts. Leading the hitters tonight will be Lloyd Kaylor, Boyce McPhatter, and William Rogers of City Optical and Bernie Covington, Weinie Brown, and Hunker Benson of Spofford.
