ITALIANS NEED MORE DOLLARS

Wheat Shortage Far Below That First Anticipated, Says Premier

ROME, Italy, June 30.—(AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi told the Italian people tonight that he had intended to appeal to farmers to surrender their wheat to save city dwellers from hunger in his address at Venice yesterday.

De Gasperi, speaking for 10 minutes on a nation-wide hookup, avoided any recriminations as political feelings rose to fever pitch following the riot in which 50 persons were injured. Police broke up the battle with tear gas and arrested 30 persons.

He said that the 1947 wheat harvest would amount to 500,000 tons as compared with 620,000 tons in 1946, necessitating the import of 300,000 tons instead of 180,000 tons as expected and the consequent need for "many more dollars."

Of the 38 corps and division commanders in the AEF in France at the end of World War II, 34 were West Pointers.
