

AFFIDAVITS GIVE

The affidavits of Mrs. Tripleton and Miss Elliott follow:

"I, Mrs. R. L. Tripleton, white, age 37, of 508 Market St., make the following statement of my own free will and accord.

"Sunday night or early Monday morning, about 1:25 a. m. it was so hot that I couldn't sleep, and I was sitting on the front porch alone, with a dark colored car, about a 36 or 37 Ford, four-door, stopped in front of the house. I was interested, because it looked like a car that belonged to a friend of ours. I heard some men talking, and looked to see if they were coming in, and then I heard something hit hard, as if a lick against the bone structure of the head, and saw a man thrown out of the car, landing in the street. The car then drove off and left him lying there. It went out Market in the direction of 17th St. The man tried to get up and couldn't and then fell back down.

"I called pat Elliott, a roomer in the house, to see what to do. We talked it over and decided to call the police before a car ran over the man, as he was stretched out on his back, with his head on the curb and feet out in the road. We called police headquarters and two men in uniform drove up in a few minutes.

"They looked the man over with their flashlights, helped him sit up, and asked him his name, but he couldn't talk. He made an effort to move his mouth, but couldn't say anything, so one of the policemen helped him stand on his feet, while the other one opened the door to the car. He was a heavy man, and it took both of them to help him into the car. They put him in the back seat and closed the door.

"They then asked me my name and got the information about what the man had a cut or gash on the head had happened and what I had seen around the temple. The policemen told me they were going to carry the man to the hospital for examination to see how badly he was hurt, and drove off in the direction of the hospital.

"These officers did not abuse or mistreat this man in any way, but were extremely helpful and acted in a gentlemanly manner. The man was not out of my sight from the time I saw him thrown out of the car until the officers arrived, as the phone is in the hallway, and I could see him lying there all the time while I called police.

"The above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief."

The second affidavit:

"I, Pat Elliott, white, age 22, of 508 Market street, make the following statement of my own free will and accord.

"On Sunday night around 1:30 a. m., I was in bed in my room, awake and smoking a cigarette, when I heard a car with some men talking in it drive up outside. It sounded as if there were several men talking. I also heard the lick they gave the man and was looking out the bedroom window and saw them throw him out of the car.

"Mrs. Tripleton came to my door and asked me to get up. We both went back out on the porch and I saw the man lying there in the street, with his head on the curb, and after we talked it over, Mrs. Tripleton called the police.

"The police came and asked us about what we had seen and helped the man into the police car. He was bleeding about the head when they arrived. They treated him very nice and in no way molested or abused him.

"The above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief."

VIOLATION

Other sources said flatly the war materials went to the Soviet Union.

Workers said some of the orders placed had already been delivered.

It was recalled the Soviet army also captured and occupied Peenemunde on the South Baltic coast, German experimental station for the flying weapons they developed in the final stages of the war. Last year experimental rockets—source never publicized—were believed to have been sighted over the Scandinavian peninsula.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Gen. H. H. Arnold said tonight that this country has dissipated its air power to the point where it is wide open to another and "possibly worse" Pearl Harbor attack from bases "on the other side of the world."

The former chief of the Army air forces said "we seem again to be dozing off or worse still, deliberately refusing to heed the lessons of the grimmest war the world has yet seen."

This country "is now world Target No. 1," Arnold said. But its air forces have been so seriously crippled by postwar economies and neglect that they could offer but "token resistance" to any lightning attack.

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 2 (AP)—The victory ship Los Angeles, first to arrive under the new American aid program, was being unloaded at Piraeus today as guerrilla bands reportedly continued spiradic raids on villages and towns across Greece.

The Los Angeles brought in 3,600 tons of supplies, including numerous trucks, jeeps and rations intended for government armed forces who have been fighting off scattered attacks since mid-July.

Military authorities were informed today that the Greek army's third mountain brigade killed 34 guerrillas and captured 34 in a clash near the village of Argypoulon, 12 miles north of Larissa in Thessaly.
