TEEN-AGE TATTLER

By Winifred Harriss

A pungent aroma of baking apple pies warmed the noses of eight young people as they turned into the road on Greenville Sound leading to Higgs. Couple by couple the people gathered at that house Saturday night for some mighty fine cooking as another great supper was served.

A tastily flavored meat sauce oozed through the long milky strings of piping hot spaghetti which filled the multi-colored china plates, and each cover boasted a frosted glass of iced tea. Ten places filled the table, and each person sat down to enjoy the supper as the cooks for the evening came into the room.

As usual we reached Higg's just a tiny bit too late to help with the preparations; so after the apple pie, which had been topped with a huge scoop of vanilla ice cream, was only a pleasant memory, I found myself wrist-deep in soapuds in the kitchen. Although I don't intend to invite any such activity the work with the hot water, soapuds, and dish towels was certainly joyously accomplished after such a pleasant pastime as devouring that meal at Higgs—cornbread included.

NEW NEIGHBORS

Besides Smokey Warner (to whom the tasty apple pie-making is attributed) and Robert Furr, Tommy Hall had hustled down that way with Kay Anderson.

Incidentally, most of us have met Kay, the petite brunette from Raleigh, and we have found her quite enjoyable company even if she can't support a firm stand on the old topic of the ages and many Tarheels—Carolina and Duke—on the side of the latter. UNC against the Blue Devils... the battle of battles.

Kay moved to Wilmington with her family around the first of July; and before living in Raleigh, the Andersons resided in Wilson. As they are making their home here for some time, Kay will attend NHHS this year where she will be a senior. Isabelle, the older sister, spent the past year as a student at Woman's college in Greensboro, and she plans to remain in the city this year. Incidentally, Izzie was one of the lovely aspirants for the beauty title of 'Miss Wilmington 1947' in the local contest held during the early part of July.

UNFORGETTABLE SUPPER

Kay has frequented the many favorite spots around Wilmington, and she seems to be enjoying her new location. She's glad to have the Andersons here!

Betsy Barnett of Fayetteville, who was visiting Kay Anderson for a week, was down at Higgs Saturday night for the supper with a friend, Don Skwart, who hails from the West coast. Don came to Wilmington over the week end on leave from Fort Bragg where he is stationed as a paratrooper. Both Betsy and Don returned to Fayetteville on Sunday.

After the last of the final stack of records on Higg's phonograph had plopped down and when Higg had reminisced through the last of his fascinating tales of "times when" for the evening, the last of the visitors headed homeward, remembering some mighty fine spaghetti, the generous slice of unsurpassed apple pie, and a stack of dishes which could've reached the ceiling a couple of times!

SOUTH OF THE BORDER

Always on the move—so it seems to be with some of us. Local teens etc. have traveled recently to New York, Canada, Florida, Colorado and even as far as Germany. And as of last Saturday we have lost another year where she has made her home; and we are glad to know that she has returned for a short stay here.

The postman stepped on the front porch and left an assortment of mail for the morning. A Montreal address caught my eye, and I recognized Martha Holt's handwriting. Martha left the last of June for Camp Mount Mitchell for a stay of two months. The gang up there sounds grand from her reports; and she seems to be having one wonderful time!

Martha will return to the city sometime around August 22, when she will be another of those rushing around in the midst of college preparations. She plans to enter W. C. in the fall where she intends to major in home economics.

In all seasons of the year Florida appeals to the wanderers; but after vacations are over, travel-weary persons turn toward home—the best place of all. So it is with a couple of the local characters. Jimmy Mills and Ray Spencer left Sunday a week ago for Lakeland, Florida, where they have been visiting Ray's relatives for ten days. They plan to return to Wilmington sometime this week.

Also returning to the ole' hometown one of the days of this week is Sarah Frances Gray who has been visiting in Charlotte for the past week; Frances left the city last Wednesday for the visit in that city.

As this 'bout winds up the news for right now, I'll punch the exclamation point on the typewriter to follow the usual... I'll be seeing you around.
