Binding Defense Treaty Essential Recovery Of Europe Vital To Western Hemisphere, He Says

PETROPOLIS, Brazil, Aug. 10-(U.P)-Secretary of State George C. Marshall warned the American Republics today that the recovery of Europe, threatened with starvation and economic chaos, was vital to the economy of the Western Hemisphere and must be given precedence.

He exhorted them to maintain complete unity, behind the safeguard of a binding defense treaty. during the dangerous economic and moral situation in the old world and to reject any encroachment on the fundamental rights of either nations or individuals.

Addressing a plenary session of the Inter-American defense conference, the United States Secretary of State implicitly warned the American Republics that there could be no Marshall recovery plan for the Western Hemisphere while the "complete disruption of normal economic and social relations" in Europe confronts the whole world with grave political problems.

Despite the grave emphasis Marshall put on European recovery, Peruvian Foreign Minister Enrique Garcia Sayan, who spoke immediately after him, said that to ignore the economic problems of the Western Hemisphere was to court communism. But Marshall called on the Americas to show "a sick and suffering world" that "peoples, WASHINGTON, Aug. 21- (U.P)and nations, who really want peace Russia's foreign policy was de- can have peace by living in an and distrustful tonight in a sur-erative action and good will."
