Soviet Move To Limit Press Freedom Beaten By 34 To 6 Vote

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. - (U.P.) Russia suffered an overwhelming defeat today in the first United Nation's test vote on the Soviet's warmongering charges against the United States. The UN Social committee, composed of all 57 UN members voted 34 to 6-with 8 abstaining against a Soviet move to limit press freedom to curb alleged

Although the ballot was on a specific issue, it indicated clearly the lineup that can be expected when delegates vote on the broader Soviet charges that some American businessmen, politicians, government officials and newspapers are clamoring for war against Russia.

The Russian move to shackle the press was made to support Soviet Vice Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's general warmongering accusations.

If asked specifically that next spring's worldwide conference on press freedom define the duties of the free press to include the exposure of warmongers. It also asked study of gevernment control to prevent alleged bribery propaganda and distortions.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt led the uccessful attack on the Soviet esolution. The only six nations voting for the Russian move were Egypt, Mexico, and four members of the Soviet bloc.
