

VETERANS ANXIOUS TO TRANSFER SKILL, SAYS R. C. GODWIN

Employers Asked To Help Veterans

Raleigh. Many veterans developed high skills while in the uniformed services and they are anxious to transfer those skills to appropriate civilian jobs, it is pointed out by R. C. Godwin, state veterans employment representative. Mr. Godwin has joined R. Mayne Albright, State director of the United States Employment Service, in an appeal to North Carolina employers to list all of their job openings with local USES offices, in order that a wider range may be available for returning veterans seeking suitable jobs.

DR. E. HARRISON SPEAKS AT SHAW UNIV.

RALEIGH—Dr. E. I. Harrison, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church, Washington, D.C., delivered a stirring and practical address before students, faculty members and friends of Shaw University, Sunday afternoon at regular Chapel services. The dynamic and scholarly minister, in the Chapel of World Peace, his message was centered in the assurance of showing a keen and vital insight into the problems of the world today.

The speaker pointed to the development of a spirit of brotherhood and of sharing as the only basis of peace and unity that we want to outlast war, and must be willing to pay the price of peace. He challenged the Christian Church to play its part in being about world brotherhood.

"Nations must learn to say peace, our air, our law, our religion, our Father," he declared. Dr. Harrison expressed the hope that the tragedy of war through which have passed has taught us dependence of one man upon another.

Speaking of the problems of international diplomacy, the Rev. Harrison opened, "The peoples of the earth are crowding us, but we cannot move. We must stay and realize that no man may live by himself. Regardless of what we wish, we cannot, we can never unlearn ourselves again. We can never go back to our way of isolation." Extolling the communal spirit which is inherent in the Lord's Prayer, the speaker asserted, "We shall never share the good of the universe until we develop the communal spirit. If we don't share the good of the universe," he added, "each generation must share its sons to common war and devastation. We have neither freedom nor democracy until we learn to say 'we'."

Washington Birthplace Removal Endorsed

Rocky Mount, Va. S. J. Phillips, President of the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial, announces that the State of Virginia in the General Assembly which closed on March 9 appropriated $15,000 towards the $2,000,000 Memorial, which is planned for the birthplace of Booker T. Washington. This appropriation was made towards the establishment of permanent buildings and to promote the general idea of the Memorial.

The idea of establishing a Memorial to Booker T. Washington at his birthplace in appreciation for his contributions to National culture has been endorsed by all Governments over the Nation, the Press, the Church, Department of Education, organization leaders, Women's groups, and is being heartily received by the general public.

Mass publicity is being given to the movement by the radio. A Booker T. Washington Memorial Quartet, composed of men who recently served with the Army Corp Group at Ft. Benning, Ga., has been organized and is broadcasting daily in the interest of the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial. These singers will also make personal appearances before groups over the country.

On April 5, the day which is celebrated as the birthday of Booker T. Washington, "ground breaking" ceremonies will mark the beginning of the establishment of the $2,000,000 Memorial will be held at Booker T. Washington's birthplace. Arrangements have been made with the All-American News Co. to make pictures of these ceremonies to be shown in Negro theatres over the country. Official news trailers have also been invited to film these events. Radio broadcasts will be made on

BUILDING AT A. AND T. COLL.

GREENSBORO. The first meeting of the incorporators and directors of the Agricultural and Technical College Foundation, Incorporated, was held at A. and T. College last week with Dr. F. D. Buford, president of the college, presiding.

The board of trustees of the college authorized the establishment of the foundation at the last meeting. Members present at the meeting of the incorporators were Dr. H. E. Clark, A. Hines, Shelley B. Caviness, E. R. Hooton and J. C. McLaughlin. They elected Judge Hines as president, Dr. Buford, vice president, and Mr. Hooton, secretary. The foundation is the official staff.

Judge Hines presided after the election of officers. As chairman of the executive committee, he appointed Dr. Buford and Mr. Hooton as members of the committee. He also invited Mr. Hines to the incorporation charter and the incorporation of the foundation was unanimously elected architect for the foundation.

Judge Hines discussed the object of the foundation and its first project, which is the building of a dormitory for men. It was decided that plans for the building would be drawn and the dormitory would be started as soon as possible.

Dr. J. B. Davis To Speak At St. Paul

RALEIGH. Dr. J. B. Davis, prominent Episcopalian minister, pastor and choir organist, will be the guest speaker at the A. and T. Christian Endeavor League Sunday evening, March 31, at 7 o'clock at the St. Paul Methodist Church, on the subject "The Genealogy of Christ and His Interpretation in This Atomic Age."

Dr. Davis is a former president of the B.T.U. Convention in N. C., a former columnist for THE CAROLINIAN, and the New York Age. He is a member of the executive committee of the National Medical Association, at present he is president of the Southeastern Medical Society of Raleigh, official reporter and president-elect of the Old North State Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Society, Inc., official reporter of the Durham Academy of Medicine and associated Negro Press reporter. The scholarly physician is one of the most widely known and variedly traveled men in the nation. He speaks without the aid of manuscript and is a pleasing and capable speaker of an original interpretation of a topic, he discusses with interest and a wealth of diverse information is in store for those who avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him on this occasion.

DIGS OWN GRAVE, DIES

Dillon, N. C. (ANP) — Arch Godbolt arranged with a local undertaker for funeral services. He then went to a nearby cemetery and began to dig his own grave. Shortly after this, a passerby found his body lying beside the unfinished grave. Death was reported due to natural causes.
