

Concert Series At N. C. College Resumes

DURHAM — The Fall concert series at the North Carolina College here continues Friday, December 12, with a piano recital by Shura Cherkassky who has made concert tours of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and Europe as well as several states in this country.

Russian born and American by adoption, Cherkassky was brought to this country while an infant, and has lived here every since, that is when he is not touring throughout the world playing concerts all of the way from Manhattan to Manchuria. He first showed outstanding musical talent at the age of four, made his debut at eleven, and was immediately asked to play at the White House for President and Mrs. Harding.

Maple Temple Church

BY JOSEPHINE TERRELL

Regular Sunday morning services were held at the Maple Temple Church Sunday and were attended by a large congregation despite the inclement weather. After Sunday School the morning services began with the Junior Choir rendering music which was followed by the sermon which was delivered by the Rev. O. S. Burson, assistant pastor, who used as his subject "Strand Still and See the Salvation of the Lord."

The Home Mission Society met at 4:30 with Mrs. Luanne Keith, president, presiding. Those appearing on a program rendered by the Society include Mrs. Leola Haywood, the Junior Missionaries, Miss Patricia Warren, Miss Josephine Warren and Miss Helen Blalock.

This service was followed by the evening worship when the Junior Choir again rendered music and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. Burson.

At 2:00 the Pastor's Aid and Floral Clubs sponsored a popularity contest among the deacons, first prize being won by Deacon James Simmons who raised the highest amount of money. Deacon Eddie Reavis was awarded second prize and third prize went to Deacon William Hinton.

The Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Lessie Dunston, 407 South Haywood Street. Following a business session a delicious repast was served. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Josephine Terrell, 419 South Haywood Street.

Those on the sick list include Miss Estella Puley and Mrs. Rosa Penny. We wish them a speedy recovery.

St. Monica's New Chapel Dedicated In Solemn High Altarical Mass

RALEIGH — The Rev. Vincent S. Waters, bishop of Raleigh, presided at the Thanksgiving solemn high mass which was preceded by a professional firm in the school to the church and at which the new St. Monica's Catholic Church chapel was dedicated.

Celebrant of the mass was the Rev. John S. Dillon, assistant pastor of the church, and the Rev. M. D. Burke was deacon and the Rev. Jerome M. Torney, pastor, sub-deacon. The Rev. James J. McLarny, professor of sacred eloquence at the Dominican House of Studies at Somerset, Ohio, delivered the sermon.

The St. Monica's Church choir, under direction of Sister Adrianna, sang the mass which was followed by benediction.

Numerous priests of the Dominican, Franciscan, Jesuit, Merced, Fathers, Passionists, and Oblate Orders as well as diocesan clergy and members of religious orders, and congregations from various sections of North Carolina and adjoining states were present.

Members of the Holy Name Society served as ushers and following the mass which began at 10:30, members of the Rosary and Altar Society served dinner at Catholic Orphanage.

Letter To The Editor

RESOLUTION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

The position of the NAACP to the United Nations calling upon them to take measures to end the oppression of Negro-Americans was given added strength and meaning by the report of the Committee on Civil Rights.

This report calls for an end to the Jim Crow and segregation system. It flatly declares there can be no equality where this is segregation and discrimination. It correctly calls for anti-lynching laws, for abolition of poll taxes, and the establishment of a permanent FEPC.

Already the reactionary enemies of the American people are attacking this report and the policies it calls for. The danger is not only however from these white supremacists. It comes from those who pay lip service to this report but who are afraid or unwilling to fight for its being put into practice. It comes from a Republican Congress and a Democratic Administration who are more interested in Negro votes than in relieving the suffering and oppression of the Negro people.

This is not the first time however that such progressive policies have been attacked. If you, dear reader, will reminisce with me, we shall travel back into time to November 1946. It was during this month that the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina made their record shattering resolution to end segregation in the Baptist churches of North Carolina. Only to have the reactionary forces to defeat this measure. Even in defeat however it was somewhat a victory for it was rescinded this resolution they still went on record as supporting a quality of voting Federal Anti-Lynch Laws and the right of every individual to earn a decent living.

As was said in essence by Walter White, Executive Secretary of the NAACP in his article for Collier's Magazine of the week November 6 to 13: The American Negro had of empty political promises. He wants action. He wants his conditions and the conditions of all minority groups to be bettered. He is tired of sending his child to poorly equipped schools, he is tired of any other racial, religious or Civil group.

Randolph-Macon Student Speaks At N. C. College

DURHAM — Miss Heymena Wait, student at the Randolph-Macon College, Lynchburg, Va., and representative of the World Student Service Fund, was guest speaker during a pre-Thanksgiving chapel service at the North Carolina College here. During her speech, which was sponsored jointly by the campus organizations, she pointed out the great need for American students contributing generously to the aid of students in foreign countries.

At the beginning of the program, Thanksgiving baskets donated by campus organizations to be given to needy Durham families, were taken to the altar. The sponsoring organizations consisted of Dorothy L. Williams, Floyd Washington and Margaret A. King, chairman.
