NAACP SPEAKERS

Change comes from "northern agitators." The implication, he said, is that we do not know our rights, that we are content to be fenced these rights. It is appalling that we can sit down with and beside them and that they don't know us better than that.

MORE IDENTIFICATION

Robert Perry, who had been walking with Brassford and Smith, offered positive identification of Matthews and Adams as the occupants of the murder car. Adams, he said, was driving the car while Matthews had a flashlight in his left hand which he shone on the group while firing a pistol with his right.

CHARGED WITH SHOOTING

Despite defense counsel objections, Richard Perry, a brother of Robert, said that he had asked the Grand Jury to indict Adams for shooting him, but that no indictment had been returned.

COMPANIONS ARRESTED

Caesar, who is 17, and Butler, who is 16, were arrested on charges of breaking into cars on the same day that Bryant was captured by police. These two received two-year road sentences for their crimes.

STARTS SERVICE

Where he had been serving a sentence for breaking and entering, a New Bern Store. Bryant was reported to have come to Chapel Hill with Bobby Butler and Albert Cascar, two of the boys with whom he had escaped.

HARNETT COUNTY

The shots were fired. The special venire, from which all residents of the township in which the slaying took place were excluded, had been called in an effort to insure an impartial trial after five months of predictions that the accused slayers would be freed.

MUST BE DONE

In TEST CASE The Rev. Mr. Jones figured prominently in a Chapel Hill incident where two Negroes from the north engineered a test of the jim crow law on a bus by refusing to occupy rear seats.

"Minority groups must learn to fight for their rights without arousing enmity and disgust. A method of righteousness that will not only win our case but also our opponents, could accomplish more in Richmond than all the churches in the city."

NO ACTION

There is no gas or electricity. Occupants use oil lamps at night. Most of the windows are broken and the roof damp house is heated by a wood-burning stove.

DEPT. OF JUSTICE

Through conversations with Negro church leaders from 38 states who attended the meetings. The story which alarmed this militant church leader most was a factual report coming from Mississippi which said of two lynchings and two near lynchings involving Negro veterans within the last three months.

REGIONAL SCHOOL

The 12 members of the House Judiciary Committee who did not seek to ascertain the needs and wishes of their constituents, as voted for this compact should be commended without reservation for their action. We urge voters to remember them when they stand for re-election next November.

RACE COLLEGES

and effective gains within the framework of segregation. We must guard ourselves not only to the rejection of all new schemes for segregation, such as the region college plan, but also to the task of battering down the existing racial barriers.

WHS-PTA

Mrs. G. E. Cheek presided and members of the panel were Mrs. Ada Jeremiah, who presented the members of the panel, Mrs. Lucy James, J. W. O'Kelly and C. H. McEwen, Washington school principal.

AME EDITOR

committee of the AME Church here at Metropolitan AME Church, March 16, but did not show up. He is accused of criminal libel by Bishop D. Ward Nichols for an article appearing in the current issue of the AME Review.

CITIZENS GROUP

Members of the committee said also that the Negro population of the city has been shifting from the West to the East for more than a decade, and that this trend will make the present site at the corner of the city even less desirable in years to come.

Two detectives, carrying a warrant for Brooks' arrest on complaints from the bishop, were stopped at the door of the editor's church while friends warned him of their presence. The pastor went to the study where, assisted by several persons he jumped from the rear window and escaped through an alley.
