VIRGINIA STATE IS HOST TO EPISCOPAL SUMMER SESSIONS

Approximately 170 persons representing the Third Episcopal Province convened at Virginia State College, from July 19 to July 23, 1948. Dr. L. H. Foster, president of the College, welcomed the participants to the College, and extended the use of all facilities to make the school a success.

The purpose of the school was to provide instruction for clergy, as well as lay people in Parish Service and Administration, Devotion of Spiritual Life, to encourage youth participation and leadership, and to attempt to broaden the knowledge of Episcopalians throughout the Province.

The Third Province includes the areas of Pennsylvania; Bethlehem, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh; Delaware, Maryland, Washington, D. C.; Virginia; Southern Virginia, Southwest Virginia, and West Virginia.

The school was divided into classes of instruction in which the following courses were taught: Parish Administration, Trail Blazers in Evangelism, Youth and Evangelism Personal Evangelism, Christian Evangelism, Four Civil Rights and Social Problems, Church Women and the World Today, Youth Teaching in the Primary Church School, The Layman as an Evangelist, Teaching in the Secondary Church School, and Church Music.

A unique feature of the school was planning of classes for very specific age groups, and the provision of instructors best qualified to lecture to these corresponding groups. A full-scale recreation program was planned to serve all members of the school, including swimming, organized games, hiking, and dancing.

The following prominent clergymen and lay workers were consultants, instructors, and administrative personnel in the school: The Rev. Alan G. Whittemore, O. H. C. D. D., Father Superior, Order of the Holy Cross; The Rev. Don Frank Fenn, D. D., Rector, St. Michaels and All Angels Church, Baltimore, Md.; The Rev. Richard B. Moran, Rector, Grace Episcopal Church, Norfolk; The Rev. Charles E. Fish, Assistant Secretary, Division of Youth, Department of Christian Education, of the National Council; The Rev. Edgar C. Young, Th. D., Professor of Old Testament Language and Literature, Bishop Payne Divinity School, Petersburg; The Rev. Joseph W. Nicholson, Ph.D., Professor of Pastoral Theology, Bishop Payne Divinity School, Petersburg; The Rev. Jesse Anderson, D. D., Rector, St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Philadelphia; The Rev. Tolle L. Condon, D. D., Secretary of Negro Work, National Council; The Rev. Lewis E. Mills, D. D., Rector, St. James Episcopal Church, Baltimore, and Dean of the Summer School; The Rev. J. Alvin Russell, D. D., President, St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute, Lawrenceville; Chairman of the Summer School Committee, Chairman of Executive Council, Chairman of Publicity; Mrs. Ethel L. Copper, Registrar for the School, Supervisor of Primary Department, St. Augustine's Church, Philadelphia; Mrs. Vera G. Scott, Assistant to the Director, Department of Christian Social Relations, Council of Churches and Christian Education, Maryland-Delaware, Baltimore; Mr. Lawrence A. Oxley, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.; The Rt. Rev. Oliver J. Hart, D. D., Chairman of Provincial Commission of Christian Education of the Province of Washington; The Rev. E. Deedon Alston, Secretary of the School; The Rev. Hamilton, D. D., Chaplain; The Revs. John R. Logan, Jr., Pennsylvania; Ellis A. Christia and A. A. Birch, Washington, D. C.; Julian F. Dozier, Harrisburg; R. L. Gordon and E. Deedon Alston, Southern Virginia; Charles L. Soumers, Southwest Virginia, and T. D. Brown, Virginia.

The 23rd Annual Summer School was closed by a very impressive Candlelight Service, held Thursday night, in Virginia Hall Auditorium, at nine o'clock, to which the public was cordially invited.

The school was divided into classes of instruction in which the following courses were taught: Parish Administration, Trail Blazers in Evangelism, Youth and Evangelism Personal Evangelism, Christian Evangelism, Four Civil Rights and Social Problems, Church Women and the World Today, Youth Teaching in the Primary Church School, The Layman as an Evangelist, Teaching in the Secondary Church School, and Church Music.

BLACK EAGLE LIKES BERLIN

BERLIN (ANP) — Hubert F. Julian, better known as the "Black Eagle of Harlem," on a visit to Berlin to improve the morale of his fellow Negroes with the American occupation troops, likes the German capital so well that he would like to stay here, himself, he said this week.

He has offered to shovel coal, fly a bomber or do anything that could keep him in Berlin and serve with the American occupation forces.

"I would take a reduction in rank to come here and serve," he said.

In mentioning his rank, the "Black Eagle" was referring to rank of colonel he held with the Ethiopian army in 1942. He was in the Ethiopian air force until he wrecked Emperor Haile Selassie's personal airplane when the Italians invaded the African nation.

The colonel came to Berlin to check on reports that Americans Negroes stationed in Berlin were being discriminated against. After checking up on them he has concluded that their morale needs no boosting.

"I am happy to report," he told the press, "that my investigations have found to the contrary. I have not a single man with a complaint."

Fayetteville Mutual Receives New Manager

J. S. Bolden, assistant manager, Wilmington district, last week replaced Mr. Blue as Fayetteville manager.

Mr. Bolden comes to the Fayetteville office with an abundance of experience in the life insurance business, having started 11 years ago under the leadership of his father, G. W. Bolden, who is manager of Spartanburg, S. C. district, which position he has held for 36 years.

Assistant Manager Bolden completed his college work at Claflin College, Orangeburg, S. C., in 1938. He has served as assistant manager in the Spartanburg, S. C. district prior to going into service for 2 years, 10 months. After his discharge, he served in Richmond as special representative, and later was assigned to Roanoke district as assistant manager in charge of the Lynchburg, Va., office.

He now has under his supervision, Mrs. E. M. Johnson, clerk; Herbert Gray, J. L. Parker, H. T. Pickett, Kelly Graham, Fayette-

SOLDIER'S FAMILY BACK FROM HAWAII

Mrs. Ruth Murphy Jackson, wife of Sgt. Eugene Jackson and daughter of Mrs. Lula Murphy, has returned from Hawaii after spending over 19 months.

Mrs. Jackson reports lovely climate, beautiful flowers and nice as well as different kinds of people on the island, also that there were many wives of soldiers, and that the weather was ideal. She has had no winter since leaving home. They were in swimming on Christmas day.

Mrs. Jackson returned primarily to place her young daughter, Betty Gene, in school, this being her 6th birthday.

Her husband, Sgt. Eugene Jackson is expected to return to the states very soon. His home is in Dallas, Texas and he plans a short stay there with his parents before joining his family here.

PERSONALS

Misses Dorothy and Lillian Murphy gave a lawn party recently at their home on Robeson Street. A number of friends enjoyed their hospitality.

Pvt. Charles Dyer, Lewis C. Leavell, Williams Wallace, Charlie C. Davis, and Clarence P. King were recently appointed privates. First class at Fort Bragg, N. C.

A miniature golf tournament is held every day at Trooper's Arcade 254 Robeson Street and during the month of August a chess tournament is to be played under the expert guidance of the Chess Champion James S. Conyers.

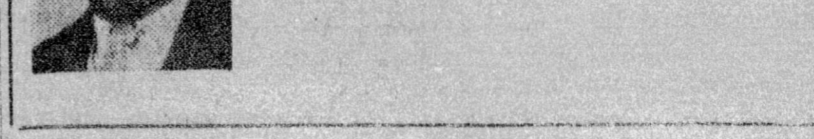

These are suggestions of Dr. Day Monroe, Department of Agriculture home economist, who urges constant vigilance, especially during the summer months, to combat natural forces that attack supplies in your kitchen, just as they destroy food products on the farm or in warehouses.

He was installed in his new assignment by Agency Supervisor L. B. Brazier of the home office.

E. M. Butler is manager of the district.

YOUR SCRIBE

By FREDRICK L. BURNS

About this season of the year you will find young and new graduates who have not been lucky enough to secure teaching positions, trying to get a place to teach this fall. This is not unusual as some schools weed out some of the teachers with very low certification, some that have not given satisfaction, and still others that just don't belong.

Some of these young graduates will be successful and will get positions in city systems, others will go into the rural areas.

The latter group is the one that needs to be very careful, as there are several things that you must bear in mind at all times. The first one is that in accepting the position you become a part of the community in which you teach. At all times you must bear in mind the attitude of your pupils and parents. These persons are the ones responsible for your new job, and if for no other reason, attend their church services at some time during your teaching year.

Study their social life, learn your students' behavior, it will help you to approach some of the rural problems that you are sure to come in contact with.

You may say that you learned your theory, and got your practice in training school, but you will have problems that you can't find in books, and you must be in position to cope with the situation all alone, without the aid of your class room teacher.

You must accept these facts as they come to you, and you must think your problems through.

Here is one observation that was made a few weeks ago, that I would like to pass on to you.

During a round table discussion in which our Mayor Charles G. Rose Jr. said of Dr. J. W. Seabrook, President of Fayetteville State Teachers' College. Quote, "Dr. Seabrook is a big man because he does not look down on the little man, he becomes a part of him, and by so doing he becomes a much bigger man."

In passing this on to you it is our hope that you digest it, and each of you may think of yourself last, get down with these people, learn to understand them, and in so doing you will emerge a better, better and a more experienced teacher.

So good luck to each of you, and may each get the school of his choice.

Thanks. May I see you next week?
