

BOLDENS MARK 25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bolden celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in their new home near Reidsville in Caswell County Saturday, September 1, with appropriate festivities.

Mixed late summer showers decorated the house throughout, and arrangements of summer plants on the sun porch added the right touch of gaiety and color to the occasion. The dining room also was covered with impatiens lace cloth, centered with white flowers and silver candlelight.

Other guests included Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Brown, Lawyer and Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Brown, Miss Gladys Brown, Mrs. Mary Wallace Brown, Mrs. Bessie Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. James Bolden, Rev. and Mrs. Houston Baggett, Mrs. Marvino Hooper, Mrs. Helen Bolden, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Graves, Mrs. Mattie Blackwell, Mrs. Mildred Mark, Mr. James Graves, Mrs. Estella Blackwell.

MOVE TO OUST US FROM JAMAICAN AIR BASES FAILS

BY WILBERT C. HEMMING KINGSTON, Jamaica (ANP)

The long-remembered motion picture in our United States Air Force authorized out of Jamaica was moved last Thursday by a city Social Club, the Kingston and St. Andrew Corporation. But the reaction was a total flop.

Wills O. Isaacs, colony chief of the opposition People's National Party, spearheaded the protest. And he got the full backing of his colleagues. He said that he wanted the council to request central government to tell the colonial office in London to revise the terms of the agreement under which America leased bases here covering a period of 99 years. This agreement was clinched with the U. S. by Britain during the heat of battle when Britain's back was against the wall. She had accepted, among other things, an old U. S. war ship for these privileges to U. S.

Isaacs said there was too much color discrimination against the field by U. S. He feared that the people of the island and the other Caribbean units would not stand for it here since they were demanding greater political autonomy with definite steps toward federation. These U. S. bases were a sort of 'colony within colonies' and were bound to interfere with the free rights of a people advanced rapidly by international law.

At his meeting a member of the conservative Jamaica Labour party said that it was well to have the U. S. bases here as sometime or other their existence would probably be needed to 'trample the living head of communism in these parts.'

He in reply said, 'I might mention that it is in bad taste because the U. S. label of communism is being applied to Henry Wallace because he has expressed himself as being opposed to the law in southern states of the USA which make it illegal for Negroes to marry whites in these states.' The conservative later put up a strong argument which put down the resolution before had been on voting.
