There is not much in the record to indicate that these officials are interested in a fair employment policy. The Commission itself has long operated on the theory that agencies of discrimination are never guilty and the complaints should never get a remedy. We are determined that the Commission shall not use this new committee to underwrite the old and objectionable policy. We anticipate that we shall be able to count on Mr. Jones and Mr. Jesse Mitchell in this regard.

NEW ORLEANS (ANP) — O. C. W. Taylor, prominent school principal, was appointed director of public relations for Negro radio programs for radio station WNOE. The appointment marks the first time in the history of the deep south that a Negro has been named to such a prominent position in radio.

Coupled with this first came the announcement that the first Negro newscast was being launched under the sponsorship of a Negro concern, another first. The broadcast of Negro news is being sponsored by Local 1419 of the General Longshore Workers, AFL, of which David Dennis is president.

Taylor will be the announcer on the program in conjunction with Lucius Jones of the local Pittsburgh Courier edition. In addition to taking over the public relations directorship Taylor will also receive a complimentary salary.

A spokeless steering wheel has been patented by a Wisconsin man. National Patent Council reports. The steering column is near the front of the wheel instead of at its center. Gear teeth within the rim engage a pinion wheel on the steering column.

NEW YORK (ANP) — Camilla Williams, soprano, will be featured next Sunday, October 17, on station WOR in the "Wor Opera concert." With her will be baritone Norman Young. Miss Williams will sing among other things "Un Bol Di" from "Madame Butterfly," "Saidona Lassa" from "Pagliacci," and in a duet with Mr. Young, "Ciel Mio Padre" from "Aida."

Then it happened. Billie Holiday was taken ill, and Sarah received an urgent plea from Billie's manager to sub for her for two nights at the Club Boony. Great Couper, that she is Sarah, unhesitatingly obliged. Next came a call from the Apollo Theater. Louis Jordan was stricken with aryngritis. Would Sarah take over his spot for two days? So, instead of vacationing in Canada, Sarah spent the week coming to the rescue of her fellow performers in their time of distress.

NAACP ASK FOR 'CONSTRUCTIVE' JOB BY NEW FEPC

WASHINGTON — "The NAACP, which has long worked for the establishment of a Fair Employment Practices Committee in government, is determined that this new agency shall do a constructive job in eliminating discrimination." Clarence Mitchell, labor secretary of the Association, said today in commenting in appointments to the committee made by the Civil Service Commission.

Commenting on appointment of Jesse Mitchell and Eugene Kinckle Jones, Mr. Mitchell said: "Mr. Jones and Mr. Jesse Mitchell face a heavy task in carrying out their assignment. The Civil Service Commission itself refused to appoint persons from private industry and liberal labor organizations who have had extensive experience in handling the problem of employment discrimination. Instead, Commissioners Harry B. Mitchell and Frances Perkins have chosen to appoint five of the seven members from the ranks of government employees.

There is not much in the record to indicate that these officials are interested in a fair employment policy. The Commission itself has long operated on the theory that agencies of discrimination are never guilty and the complaints should never get a remedy. We are determined that the Commission shall not use this new committee to underwrite the old and objectionable policy. We anticipate that we shall be able to count on Mr. Jones and Mr. Jesse Mitchell in this regard.

The Flag's in the Bag For Happy Braves

BOSTON—There's pennant clinching victory written all over the faces of Boston Braves star pitchers Johnny Sain, right, and Bill Voiselle as they reach for their Skyways after nailing down their first pennant win in 34 years. The clincher also marked the first in their own Braves field with Sain on the mound for the opener. The job of pennant winning and travel go hand in hand for the Braves and the sturdy 112 pound Hartmann Skyways pictured here are a rarity from the luggage used by the National League pennant winners of 1914.

Do Be Respectful To Others In A Place Of Quiet

YOUR SCRIBE

By FREDRICK L. BURNS

We wish to deviate somewhat this week to pay tribute to one of the south's most courageous Negroes in the person of John McCray of Columbia, S. C., editor and former president of the state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, speaking before that body at Columbia. The former president and main speaker said "If the people were left to their own thinking, it freed of partisan, selfish political leaders, South Carolina would have been farther along the road to progress than now."

"We do not seek social equality with white people, we only are working toward getting our just share of public services. Social gatherings are private affairs and we would resist more bitterly than the most rabid anti-civil rights attempts by either the state or federal governments to dictate what our associates are on a social level."

There are very few men of the south that have courage enough to say what he means and mean what he says. There are far too many uncle Toms. No man is respected that acts out his own race.

Mr. McCray is not liked by persons of the opposite race. But he is respected by all of us. They respect him because he possesses manhood, he has a backbone, no yellow streak, and they know that when he makes a statement you can depend upon it.

The speaker could have included South Carolina and all the Southern states since our problems are practically the same.

Our problem can be eased some if more of our men were more outspoken and would use more energy and thought to the Race as a whole rather than the individual.

To the city or state the same holds true. If you will listen to the senators and representatives of the southern states he will have you believe that he knows that Negro race and knows what he wants and needs, and that the Negro is satisfied with what he has. Nothing can be farther from the truth.

There was a time when you could give the race anything and a few words of praise you had a friend for life. This is not true today, our people have begun to open their eyes, they have begun to think.

The Negro wants everything for his family that the white man wants for his. He wants better homes, paved streets, lights, water. He wants a chance to get on the police department, the fire department and everything that every other man wants. And can you blame him? He is a part of this country the same as any other man. Why shouldn't the race have the same privilege?

As we think of the people of South Carolina and other southern states as they put up their tight year after year for the use of the ballot and turn to our own state where it is thrown into our laps and still hundreds and hundreds of our people refuse or have that don't care attitude when it comes to registering and voting.

It makes you sick at the stomach to try to talk to some of them and you get such foolish answers.

Anyway the books are now open each Saturday for persons who have failed to register. It is rather embarrassing to go to the polling places on election day and be told that your name is not there.

Check up on it today. Thanks. See you next week.

You will be able to cut the pain of surprise with a knife if the American Council on Human Rights does not live up to its advance bill. It is a militant, effective group of leaders in the area of human decency. While Ernest Henderson at the helm, making deals and deals in their pocket, the cooperative organization of college folks should go a long way. (Pat) Let they do, (ca.)
