DAYLIGHT STORE ROBBERY NETS BANDIT $3,500

WASHINGTON (AP)—In one of the district's boldest holdups in many years, a bandit walked in the Giant Food Store Monday and after slugging the manager in the office, walked off with $3,500 while scores of persons were shopping in the nearby vicinity.

According to the manager, who was treated at Garfield hospital, the bandit, described as light-skinned Negro, about 28 years old, height 5 feet 6 inches weighing 135 pounds, and wearing dark glasses, walked up to him with what looked like a government check in his hands. This ruse enabled him to get into the private office.

The store, located on the first floor of the Masonic building, a financial failure by Negroes, was taken over by the government during the war and only recently vacated. The store employs many Negro clerks and does a big business in this locality.

Dr. Brown Sails For Bermuda, BWI, For Rest

SADELIA — Literally worn to a frazzle, literally worn to a frazzle after a year of strenuous campaigning for her beloved Palmer Memorial Institute, Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown accepted the opportunity offered by a Boston friend and trustee of the school to rest in Bermuda.

For a long time friends of Dr. Brown have sensed a growing fatigue and an absence of the exuberance of spirit and enthusiasm which has characterized her as one of the most dynamic speakers on American platform.

Stationed in a dilapidated country church as a school house with a iron-bound blacksmith shop as a dormitory, ten miles from Greensboro, she has developed an educational plan worth over a half million dollars in property value.

Dr. Brown, who left by airplane for Washington, D. C., Saturday, plans to remain in Bermuda incognito from a tired mind and body, sit back along as her sole companion her niece, "Cookie" Lane who, as a four year old devotes, will provide her with the necessary diversion during this enforced rest period.

During her absence Dean D. J. Montague with his capable assistants, Miss C. R. Jenkins and Mrs. Hill, of the Administrative Committee will carry on the many activities of the school.

THE VALUE OF A GOOD LIBRARY

A Library Where the thirsty may drink deep at the perpetual fountain of inspiration.

A Library Where the hungry may eat and be filled at a banquet spread by the greatest cooks of the world without money and without price.

A Library Where those who are eager for learning may dip deep in the meaingful minds of the accumulated wisdom of the ages.

A Library Where the ambition of young Jacob's ladder leading up to the clouds of glory.

A Library Where the humble youth may seek the golden key which admits him to stately halls where he may hold familiar converse with the intellectual gains of all time.

A Library Which is built on a rock which abounds the world—democracy to the universal advancement of intellect.

Let no one who lives in this land where free public libraries are within the reach of all, talk about lack of opportunity.

Book Week is being observed this week at the Kinston Public Library. Colored Branch. Every one is invited.

Mrs. L. W. Hardy is Librarian. Library hours are 2-7 P. M. daily.

DR. MAYS SILENT ON HAMPTON JOB

NEW YORK (AP)—When asked to give a statement concerning his accepting the presidency of Hampton Institute this winter, Dr. Benjamin S. Mays, president of Morehouse College, replied "no comment."

In the city for a two day speaking engagement, Dr. Mays said that he preferred the statement should come from the school's board of trustees rather than from himself.

We give the idea of husbands in the home who have a good job, but the heavy nomination of wealth, education, experience, etc., makes it difficult to find a job.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Davis, who have been married for 25 years, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Bertha Davis, of Washington, D. C., during the week end.

Mrs. Louise Kline and Frank Aspinwall have returned to the city following a trip of Newark, N. J.

They called on Mr. and Mrs. W. H. West, the owners of the Adkin High School auditorium, by members of the school faculty.

Included on the program were several instrumental selections, vocal solos, numbers by quartets and group singing. A one-set play, "Oh Doctor," was also presented.

Funds raised by the program will be used toward the purchase of a new bus for the school.

In Aberdeen, South Dakota, a new home week across the country for Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians, heard on The Fred Waring show Thursday evening at 10:30 NBC. All along their tour they are meeting old friends and being entertained royally by the townspeople.

The Amish citizens of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, prepared a traditional Pennsylvania Dutch dinner of chicken pot pie, ham, sweet, and sour, and shoo-fly pie for the traveling musicians.

The revelry was brought to a close after the group finished the peanuts, cookies, punch, and suckers served by Sorors Irene Parham, wild peacock dinner was arranged for them by a local citizen. When performing in Madison, the governor of Wisconsin sent his greetings with a mammoth box of cheese, and in Minneapolis, a friend of Waring's late mother baked a suitbox full of cookies for Waring's wandering mushins, Pennsylvania Cross Halfway Tour Stripe Thurs. Nov. 18.

The Fred Waring Show, broadcast Thursday evening (10:30 p.m. EST over NBC), the Pennsylvanians can look forward to the last half of their seven week tour. The program originates from Dallas, Texas, one of the southernmost cities on the Waring tour itinerary. On their return, the Pennsylvanians first New York Thursday evening broadcast will be on December 16.

DELTA ENTERTAIN OXFORD CHILDREN

OXFORD — Gaily decorated, minnie-mouse invitations issued by the Gamma Beta Sigma Chapter of the Delta Sorority to each child of the first and second grades of the Oxford graded schools, brought 160 bright-faced youngsters to the Community Center on Tuesday afternoon, from 4 to 6 P. M.

The children played games, sang songs, listened to children's records, enjoyed the miniature movie "The Goose and the Rabbit," all under the direction of Sorors Earl Littlejohn, Cornelia Belton, Anna Oakley and Anna M. Rivers.

Fifteen of the children volunteered to take part in a quiz program conducted by Sorors Roberta Howell, Marjorie Morris, Edith Sciven, Dorothy Redding, Little Shirley Hamm and Tommie Reading, won first and second prizes respectively.

The revelry was brought to a close after the group finished the peanuts, cookies, punch, and suckers served by Sorors Irene Parham.

Wild peacock dinner was arranged for them by a local citizen.
