Full Yuletide Program Given At Washington Hl

BY LILLIE WATSON

The annual Christmas musical was presented to the student body of the Washington School in the auditorium on Tuesday morning by the Glee Club, directed by Mrs. F. M. Kelly, and the Band, conducted by Leon E. Thompson.

Featured as guest clarinet soloist in the program was Professor F. N. Gartin, director of instrumental music at Virginia State College, accompanied by Professor Curtis Mayo, head of the department of Music at St. Augustine's College.

The student body was entertained with a delightful program by the guest artist—"Solo de Concerto" Hora Stacato and "Philo of the Bumble Bee" and a medley of Christmas music by the band.

The Glee Club opened the program by singing "Let There Be Light" by Hayden and "O Holy Night" with Bernice Upchurch and Lydia Thomas as soprano soloists. The Glee Club concluded the first part of the program by singing the spiritual "Wasn't That a Mighty Day" arranged by John Work.

The program closed with the presentation of gifts as tokens of appreciation for encouragement, patience, kindness and cooperation. Those receiving gifts were Mrs. F. M. Kelly, L. E. Thompson, Henry Johnson, Miss Priscilla Mebane, and C. H. McClellan. Among the visitors present for the program were Super J. S. O. Sanderson and Supervisor H. A. Helms.

With soft Christmas music playing in the background, the Girls League the cultural organization of the school gave its annual Christmas luncheon at noon on Tuesday. Amid a beautifully appointed table was a service consisting of tomatoes, hot rolls, tea, ambrosia and cake.

In addition to the busy men served by the members the teachers and guests were presented a small token in memory of the occasion. Mrs. L. F. Perrin, adviser of the club, was presented a beautiful necklace.

From noon until 4 o'clock of Tuesday the Home Economics department held open house at which time the work done during the six weeks was on display. In the foods department the room was decorated with Christmas tree, cards and scrapbooks made by students. Attractive looking and delicious tasting cakes and cookies were also on display.

In the clothing department various types of clothing and toys were exhibited. There were painted waste paper baskets, pocket caps, doilies, belts, aprons, utility books, pajamas, dresses, hats, caps, gloves, belts, aprons, blouses, table sets and many other useful household articles.

The Crown and Scepter Club closed the Christmas Seal Campaign with an assembly program on Monday, December 29. Certificates were awarded to all home-rooms. First and second place honors were won by Miss Dick's home-room and Mr. V. D. Hines' home-room.

The coveted honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Bryant and Gwendoly Adams Total collections for the campaign to date are $379.15.

NEW YORK (ANP)—When the report by President Truman's Emergency Railroad board was made public, with its recommendations for wage increases and shorter hours, the Dining Car and Food Workers-union said it discriminated.

Archibald Brumson, general counsel for the union said that the Negro workers had been sold-out. "The failure of President Truman's Fact Finding board to accord equal treatment and equal working conditions to the Negro dining car workers threw an ugly light on the president's professed policy of civil and equal rights for the Negro people of this country."

Mr. Brumson said that the 3,000 workers of his union on the Pennsylvania and other roads
